

CERTIFICATION IS HELP TO FARMERS

Inspectors Find State Has 11,000 Acres Ladino in This Year

Field inspection of the 1934 grass and clover seed crops, small grains and potatoes and other crops for certification is now under way throughout the state, reports from county agents and extension service specialists show. These inspections are made to determine purity, trueness to variety, freedom from noxious weeds and seed borne diseases and other points.

This crop certification service has been of major importance in aiding Oregon farmers to build up a reputation as producers of high quality seed, says F. L. Billard, vice-director of the extension service. It has been largely responsible for the growth of the small seed production business of the state from a half million dollars a few years ago to between one and two million at the present time.

11,000 Acres Ladino
Oregon, for example, is the only state that produces Ladino clover seed in volume, much of which is certified. Without field inspection, Ladino seed cannot be sold from ordinary white clover seed. The acreage of Ladino in Oregon has increased from 134 acres in 1926 to more than 11,000 acres this year, and the seed of this giant white clover is finding an expanding market in many states. Bent grass seed production, another development of recent years in Oregon, has also been materially aided by certification, and this state now produces approximately 90 per cent of the domestic seed supply of this grass.

Grain certification work was carried on in 22 Oregon counties, involving the inspection of 4,956 acres of wheat, oats and barley last year, according to a report by E. R. Jackman, extension agronomist, and in addition 4,059 acres of alfalfa, Ladino clover, red clover, bent grass and English ryegrass were inspected and certified. A total of 1431 acres of potatoes in 16 counties also received certification.

New certification rules and application blanks have just been issued by the extension service and can be obtained at the office of any county agent. Growers desiring certification this year are urged to make application immediately.

New U. S. Super-Cabinet to Serve as "Regency"

A vast National Industrial Emergency committee headed by Donald Richberg, NRA chief counsel, with several cabinet officials, has been set up by President Roosevelt to supervise the New Deal and serve as a virtual "regency" for domestic affairs during the president's vacation. Here are shown members of the "super-cabinet" who are to serve as a "clearing house" for the period: (1) Harold Ickes, secretary of interior; (2) Frances Perkins, secretary of labor; (3) Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator; (4) Gen. Hugh Johnson, NRA chief; (5) Chairman Donald Richberg,

Gervais Presbyterians To Observe Golden Year Of Church Organization

GERVAIS, July 12.—The golden anniversary of the organization of the Presbyterian church at Gervais is to be observed by an all day meeting Sunday, July 15. The morning service will include the regular Sunday school with Ralph Harper, superintendent; a special worship with Dr. David D. Thompson of Portland preaching the anniversary sermon and special music. A basket dinner will be served at 1 o'clock at the city auditorium.

A reminiscence program will be given at the hall during the afternoon, as follows:
Song "Blest Be the Tie That Binds"; grace; piano duet, Misses Ferguson; introductory remarks by Rev. H. L. Gratious; messages from former pastors and members; reading, Sarah Lee Ferguson; violin solo, Miss Marjorie Wilkerson; psalm, "Garden of Dreams"; quartet, Mr. and Mrs. Adams and Streeters; recognition service; song, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

CLOVERDALE, July 12.—Mrs. John McKinney, who has been very ill, is slowly recovering and is able to be up part of the day. Louis Hennies and Ben Wipper, who have been in Montana the past two months shearing sheep, returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Clara Lee and Mrs. Myra Fenton of Ventura, Calif., who have been visiting at the William Anderson home, are spending a few days at Oceanlake visiting Mrs. A. Easter.

NEARLY 400 ATTEND CHURCH OBSERVANCE

MONMOUTH, July 12.—Nearly 400 friends of the First Christian church of Monmouth gathered here Sunday for the homecoming service which commemorated the 78th anniversary of its founding in July, 1856. The event attracted people from California, Washington, many sections of Oregon as well as the people of Monmouth.

Two services, with several prominent participants, and a cafeteria dinner served at noon from tables placed in the shadow of trees at the rear of the church building were features of the day. In the afternoon 20 memorial trees were dedicated.

Highlights of the program were as follows:
Address of welcome by Ira C. Powell; songs by trio, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Arant, E. B. Arant; anniversary prayer, Rev. Albyn Eason; violin solo, Barbara Powers; a welcome from the normal school, Prof. Santee; piano selections by David Campbell; sermon, "The Great Adventure," Afternoon service: Address, G. L. Wells; violin duet, Barbara Powers, Harriett Chambers; reminiscences, P. O. Powell; quartet, Mrs. Chambers, Lora Parker, Eldon Riddell, Mr. Powell; poem, Agnes Campbell; solo, "Trees," Vivian Benner; address, C. F. Swander; reading list of charter members. Close with "The Lord's Prayer."

LINN COUNTY SEEKS ALL-YEAR NURSING

GATES, July 12.—Five of the local committees of the Linn county health association went to Albany Tuesday evening to attend the annual meeting of the association. A committee meeting in the afternoon was held to lay plans to further the health work in Linn county and enable the county to have a full time health nurse, planning towards placing the health work on the Linn county budget. Linn county is the only large county west of the Cascades that does not have a health nurse in the county or health work in the schools. In the evening a banquet was held at the chamber of commerce rooms. Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar of Portland gave an address and Judge Woodworth the response. Representing Gates were Mrs. C. D. Johnson, Mrs. A. D. Scott, Mrs. Ed Davis and Mrs. F. W. Jones. Mrs. Ed Davis was appointed on the committee of five to plan means for getting a year of health work.

The community picnic held at the beautiful grove belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore near the Santiam river was attended by about 55 local people. A basket dinner was spread on a long table while all enjoyed a social time.

'I Found' Series Making Hit With Dallas Audiences
