DETROIT, July 20.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers were brought up smartly by a mighty swing of Jimmy Foxx's bat in the eighth inning today and lost their series opener with the Athletics 5 to 4.

Foxx's bat connected with one of Hamlin's pitches for a home run, his 29th, which proved to be the winning margin. The teams were tied at 4-all at the time.

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—The White Sox's base hits proved more effective than the Yankees' home runs today but it took 13 innings to prove it. Getting only one extra base blow in their 14 hits while the Yanks got all their runs through circuit swats, Chicago won the overtime battle, 7 to 6.

The defeat of the Yanks evened the series and left New York 2½ games behind the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

FRENCH PRESIDENT STRIVES FOR UNITY

PARIS, July 20.—(AP)—Fatherly Gaston Doumergue, who six months ago pulled France from the verge of civil war, was called upon today to make a supreme effort to hold his strife-torn "truce cabinet" together.

After a heated session of the cabinet today, Henry Cherom, minister of justice, sped by automobile to the aged premier in Tourneville to ask him to pour oil on the political storm stirred up by Andre Tardieu's charges that Camille Chautemps forged his name to a Stavisky check stub.

Tardieu and Edouard Herriot, both ministers in the truce cabinet and former premiers, stuck to their guns during today's cabinet session which discussed the former's accusations against Herriot's fellow-member of the radical socialist party.

Board Suspends Gus Sonnenberg

PORTLAND, July 20.—(AP)—Occasionally Gus Sonnenberg wrestled in Portland, but he'll have to make peace with the Portland boxing commission before he does again.

The commission today indefinitely suspended Sonnenberg for failure to appear for a scheduled match with Bob Kruse of Oregon City here last night.

Fire Menaces Suburban Homes

GRANTS PASS, July 20.—(AP)—A fire which menaced outlying residences within the Grants Pass city limits was halted at the highway and brought under control today.

The fire swept along a two-mile front. Had it jumped the highway, it would have entered the city limits. A barn was destroyed and several residences threatened before the flames were controlled at the highway and fire trails.

A cat owned by a Barnhart, Tex., man "kidnaped" a kitten from another cat a half mile away after her own kittens had been taken from her.

Another German Uprising

By BURNLEY

THE German people, who have been getting more than their share of political battles lately, are due to get a glimpse of some important ring warfare next month when two native sons of the Fatherland, Walter Neusel and Max Schmeling, clash in the most notable heavyweight scrap to be held on the continent in many a year.

Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's hustling pilot, has been exhibiting more enthusiasm over the coming battle than he has shown since his black-browed better dropped the crown. Jacobs says that this battle between two leading German heavyweights, one a former heavyweight king and the other an outstanding contender, will draw a record gate in Germany. Little Joe is puffing his big cigars at an aggressive angle these days, telling the world that Schmeling will kazo Neusel and then make a successful comeback against his conqueror, Baer.

Most fistie judges are inclined to disagree with Jacobs in this optimistic view of the former champion's chances. Charley Harvey, veteran manager who pilots Steve Hamas, another outstanding heavyweight, thinks that Neusel's awkward, crowding style will bother Schmeling to end.

Paul Damaki, pilot of the blond German contender, considers the Schmeling battle as good as won, and is already planning to match Neusel with Hamas or Art Leaky for the right to challenge Max Baer.

Neusel hopes to avenge Max Schmeling's defeat at the hands of Baer, and thus become the second German to ascend the heavyweight throne. Blond Walter, who fights like a bigger edition of Battling Nelson, is tough and strong, with worlds of endurance, and he might give the chesty Mister Baer an uncomfortable time at that.

FLAX INDUSTRY MAKES PROGRESS

monly used on the 2100 acres of fibre flax raised in the valley this summer.

However, extensive tests conducted at Oregon State college have revealed that J. W. S. as now used in the valley is becoming increasingly subject to rust. Tests in 1932 showed 40 per cent of the flax grown from this seed subject to rust which draws and weakens the fibre.

In 1933, 42 per cent of the J. W. S. seeded flax was subject to rust.

Tests made at the same time show that flax grown from Stormont Cirrus seed showed only one-ninth per cent in 1932 and per cent rust attack in 1933. Stormont Gossamer seed, used extensively in Ireland, showed 74 per cent rust attack in 1932 tests and 66 per cent in 1933. It seems less adapted to the heavy valley soils.

The 1933 tests also showed that the Stormont Cirrus seed gave the heaviest poundage of line fibre to the acre.

In 1933 the tests showed it giving 631 pounds of line fibre to the acre compared to 527 pounds for J. W. S. seed and 446 pounds for Stormont Gossamer.

As a result the state flax industry, at the direction of William Einzig, secretary of the board of control, is multiplying the original purchase of 80 pounds of Stormont Cirrus seed by replanting. It is hoped to raise 800 pounds of that seed here this year. Extra purchases are difficult to make since the seed is scarce. If more seed cannot be bought, by another year enough can be raised here for all flax farmers. Einzig says that tests have shown that after a "rest" of three to five years the J. W. S. seed can be replanted here with good results and that the crop then grown will be practically rust-free.

Another development being made this year is the speeding up of the processing of the flax. Heretofore newly pulled straw was stored in the penitentiary barns throughout the winter when it was threshed. It was not retted until the following summer and processed the next winter.

This year, for the first time in the industry's history, the retting is being speeded up. Already a portion of the 1934 crop has been threshed and is being pushed through the retting tanks then dried in the fields and stored, preparatory to scutching the crop this winter. Einzig has three pressing reasons for this change of procedure. One is the fact that virtually all the fibre has been sold and that the linen plants are asking for more. Another is the small crops grown the last two years which has compelled the state to use up the large straw crop stored in its sheds, leaving little but short straw left to ret. The third reason is the economic one that every day the process of getting fibre from straw can be shortened cuts down the state's investment in inventor. Einzig is hopeful that from 1000 to 2000 tons of this year's estimated crop of 4500 tons will be threshed, retted and in the barns when winter comes, ready to be scutched this winter.

Still another recent development in the flax industry is the development of new markets for the by-products of the plant. Several eastern manufacturers are experimenting with flax straw in the manufacture of fine papers and of cigarette papers. Several carloads have recently been sold, f. o. b. Salem at $23 a ton. This is considered a favorable sale by the state since it relieves the flax plant of running through short straw which has a low yield in fibre and thus does not pay the processing cost.

A chart of the assets of the flax industry in cash and inventory values shows a climb from $250,000 on June 30, 1931, to $390,000 on June 30, 1934. This is not the industry being compelled to charge heavy depreciation and to accrue as an expense, about $5000 interest annually for $100,000 advanced by the state and also to take a $20,000 writedown in inventories in 1933, a substantial operating profit would have been shown.

There may be a considerable profit shown for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934. This cannot be determined until the official audit is completed this month and figures all compiled. Sales price of flax fibre has gone up from the low point of 13 cents a pound in 1932 to 19 cents a pound last year. The state has had the advantage of the $19 a ton price paid for flax straw last summer.

Einzig is desirous of repaying to the state treasury $100,000 which was advanced as a loan a number of years ago. This would help the state deficit that much and would still leave the industry with ample working capital, especially if the period between the pulling of the flax and its eventual sale as fibre is cut down by speeding up retting and scutching. Einzig, however, thinks the state treasurer should lop off the accrued interest although he could not do this save by legislative act. The average daily balance of the flax industry with the treasurer the last year has ranged from $100,000 to $250,000. None of these balances have brought any interest to the flax industry while the state treasurer has received on most of the balances the customary two per cent. Einzig thinks the accrued interest on the $100,000 loan should be lopped off to equalize the interest earned by the treasurer on the balances held for the flax fund.

Lutherans to Combine Schools

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 20.—(AP)—Professors and educators completing a five day conference today recommended closing five Missouri Lutheran synod seminaries and colleges throughout the nation.

The plan for consolidation which would add another year to the curriculum of the other 17 colleges and raise them to full four-year requirements will be presented next July to the synod's international convention in Cleveland. Institutions to be closed under the proposal include Concordia college, Portland, Ore.

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—The weather came to the rescue of the Giants today when they seemed about to suffer the indignity of a drubbing from the Reds, and when they finished they had another victory, 11 to 5, and their lead over the second-place Cubs was increased to 3½ games.

The league leaders were trailing 4½ when a storm struck and delayed the game an hour. During the wait St. Johnson, the Reds' sturdy pitcher who had given only one hit in three innings, cooled off. When he resumed his duties the Giants smacked him off the hill to score seven runs in the fourth and put the game on ice.

Mel Ott rapped his 23rd home run of the year in the fifth to equal last year's total for the full season and to drive in his 98th run of the year.

HITLER PUSHES TROOP SHAKE-UP

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER (Associated Press Foreign Staff)

BERLIN, July 20.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's party and government are putting in considerable hard work during the vacation season. It was apparent from the charge of re-organizing the storm troop organization and the industrial life of the reich.

The object of the storm troop shake-up, which is proceeding thoroughly under the surface, is the removal of men whose political loyalty is in doubt from the measure up to the rules laid down after the suppression of the "Roehm revolt."

The economic ministry and the special commissar, Count Ruediger von der Goltz, are devoting their efforts toward establishing the self-sufficiency of Germany against the day when lack of foreign exchange or other reasons make that necessary.

Although silence is being observed with reference to the sifting of the storm troop organization it is known the record of every one of the 2,000,000 or more men is being scanned closely.

The clean-up is in the hands of the most trusted men of the regime, but there were official denials of a commonly circulated report that 2000 persons are being subjected to nazi court martial at Munich.

Oakland Happy As Strike Ends

OAKLAND, July 20.—(AP)—Flags were flown, proclamations issued and citizens worked, relaxed and laughed with a zest today because they were relieved of the general labor strike that had held east bay communities tense.

Street cars, electric trains and busses rolled through the cities on schedule for the first time since last Tuesday when the Alameda county general labor council put into effect the general strike in sympathy with the San Francisco labor walkout.

Business houses were running full blast in most of the communities. Flags were flown on Berkeley buildings in celebration of normalcy.

LaGrande Opens Rail Celebration

LA GRANDE, Ore., July 20.—(AP)—The historical panorama of western transportation passed in review today in the parade of the semi-centennial Union Pacific celebration.

Bands, floats, drum corps, Indians and national guard companies interspersed replicas of pony express days and modern streamline trains. Approximately 20,000 spectators watched the colorful procession, the greatest ever staged here.

Fireworks dazzled the spectators tonight, following the daylight mardi gras this afternoon.

A historical pageant and sports are included on tomorrow's program.

Fishing Points

Compiled by Salem Chamber of Commerce

North Santiam: River trifle muddy due to recent rain, but should be clear by weekend. Fishing should be best near Detroit using bait or flies. Flying upright with yellow body seems to be best fly to use.

Lakes above Detroit, such as Paulina, Marion and Worth Coves. Have been producing quite a number of fish. Report from Fish lake says that numerous fish are rising to fly or taking bait. Should warrant a trip in there.

South Santiam: Near Cascadia continues to be good with fly. Calapooya: Not many reports from here, but river should be all right this weekend.

Willamette river: At the mouth of the Santiam near Jefferson fishing for trout has been very good and near Salem at Rosedale should be okeh for bass.

Horseshoe lake and lakes near Wheatland: Have been yielding good catches of bass.

Linnier creek, Abiqua and Butte: These streams continue to be good, with numerous catches on spinner and trout.

NEPOTISM IN GAME AFFAIRS IS SCORED

Formal expression of the criticism registered against the Oregon state game commission at the meeting at the chamber of commerce here Wednesday night of sportsmen from Marion, Polk, Lincoln and Benton counties, was made Thursday in a report issued by the special investigating committee appointed at that time.

"We deplore the present disregard and partiality shown in the management of the state game department and the apparent desire on the part of the commission to disregard the valuable services of Mr. Simpson (Gene M. Simpson, superintendent of game farms) the report declared, "... and we urge that nepotism in all its forms should be at once permanently discontinued in all branches of the state game department."

The committee found that "Gene Simpson has been regularly employed for many years as superintendent of game farms, and as such, has been in charge of all rearing of game birds, and that he has spent many years of his life in the conscientious study of the raising of game birds, and has performed a great service to the sportsmen of Oregon."

Members of the committee, all signing the report, were Van Weller, chairman, John H. Camp and John O. Humphrey.

FEED EMPLOYES BY PARCEL POST

KOHLER, Wis., July 20.—(AP)—Officials of the Kohler company plant said today they had been obtaining food for the 150 employees beleaguered by strike pickets by sending the packages through the United States mails.

Although the blockade, now in its fifth day, has been almost 100 per cent effective, strikers today permitted a coal car to enter the company yards, assuring Kohler village a water supply for several days. The plumbing equipment manufacturing plant, headed by ex-Governor Walter J. Kohler supplies the "model" village with water.

Strikers appealed to the Rev. J. W. Aguire, federal mediator, when they learned foodstuffs were being sent into the beleaguered plant in a postal truck, but the priest replied he knew nothing they could do to prevent it. Pickets then appealed, without success, to Postmaster Frank Scherer.

Babe Ruth Able To Rejoin Team

CLEVELAND, July 20.—(AP)—Babe Ruth, home-run idol of the New York Yankees, prepared tonight to leave here and rejoin his team at Chicago.

He spent today in his hotel suite, hobbling around a bit to test the leg injured Wednesday when a hard-hit ball from Lou Gehrig's bat inflicted a painful shinbone injury.

Mrs. Ruth, who has been acting as nurse for the convalescent, said she didn't know just when the Babe would be back in the lineup, but predicted it wouldn't be Sunday, the date set by the impatient bambino yesterday.

SEALS TAKE GAME AFTER BAD PITCH

Angels Win Fourth Straight From Portland; Missions Beat Sacramento

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—(AP)—Bill Radonits, young Seattle pitcher, hit Jimmy Zinn, pinch hitter, with a pitched ball with the bases full in the ninth inning today to give the Seals a 4 to 3 victory over the Indians.

The Indians maintained a lead until the eighth when Funk tripled and scored on Rhynes' single to even the count.

 Radonits and Botchford; Hermann and Woodall.

SACRAMENTO, July 20.—(AP)—Wayne Osborne hurled 8-hit ball against the Sacramento Senators tonight to pitch the Missions to their third win of the week. The score was 2 to 1.

Big Bill Hartwig battled Osborne the whole route and he gave a good account of lefthanded pitching in all except the second inning when the two runs were tallied. A walk, an infield hit by Beck and Hafe's double over third produced the tallies.

Osborne was not responsible for the run in the third, a wild throw by Stroner giving Mayer life at first after which a single by Donovon drove him in.

 Osborne and Fitzpatrick; Hartwig and Mayer.

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—(AP)—Los Angeles made it four straight games over Portland and clinched the series by winning tonight's contest 9 to 2.

Fay Thomas, the league's leading pitcher, chalked up his sixteenth victory of the season. He allowed 9 hits but kept them well scattered until the seventh inning when the Beavers bunched four to score their only runs.

These hits, all singles, were made by English, Bongiovanni, Blackerby and Brame, the last a pinch hitter, English and Bongiovanni scoring.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 20.—(AP)—Bill Raimondi broke up a pitching duel between Joe Sullivan and Ken Douglas here tonight with an infield hit in the fifteenth inning that sent Anton home with the run that gave Oakland a 3 to 2 victory over Hollywood.

FORFEIT AT KITBALL

The Eagles team in the Junior kitball league forfeited to State Street grocery last night at Sweetland field, so the book was marked 7 to 0 for the latter.

Johnson Hits Back at Critics As Club Manager

CLEVELAND, O., July 20.—(AP)—Walter Johnson says his Cleveland Indians are going to make him look like a bung manager before the season is over.

"That was the 'big train' reply today to criticism heaped on him by fans and sports writers after poor pitching last Monday's game to the New York Yankees. "You know and I know," said Johnson, "that it's the players that make the manager and not the other way around. This ball club is going to make me look very good before long, and make the fans forget all this uproar."

"It's a real ball club coming along and it's going to be a real club for a long time. We're going to win a lot of games, and we're not out of the pennant race yet."

NEED A MACHINE TO COUNT SCORES

Runaway games and a new league record for errors characterized last night's pair of softball games at Sweetland field.

Keys tramped on Master Bread 12 to 2 in the opener and Pades walloped Waits 23 to 4 in the second tilt. In this game Waits set the new record of 13 errors.

As D'Arcy for Master Bread went wild in the first inning of the initial game, Keys scored five runs. Throughout the contest he allowed 10 hits against Gilmore's six.

Pilsinger pounded out the only circuit clout of the evening, for Keys in the sixth. Bill Ashley for Master Bread was next best with a triple.

While Waits were committing their faux pas, Bone, Pade man and leading hitter in the league, fell from glory by failing to hit in six times up. Three other Pade batters, however, gained three hits each. They were Salstrom, Adolph and Kitchen.

Keys 12 10 1 Master Bread 2 6 8
 Batteries: Gilmore and Barnes; D'Arcy, King and C. Kelly.
 Waits 23 15 3 Pades 23 15 3
 Batteries: Walker, Cannon and Harp; Steinbock, Bone and Schueller.

SENATORS FACE ALBANY SUNDAY

A hot game between the old-time rivals—Albany and Salem—was assured for tomorrow at Olinger field.

Salem just nosed out the Albany nine earlier in the season at Albany. The latter team is bringing a caravan of fans to fill up the grandstand here Sunday afternoon and to support the home team. The visitors are confident of victory this time, not only because of their good performance earlier in the year, but because their team has been materially strengthened since that time.

Kay "Frisco" Edwards' last night was not ready to announce his lineup but said he was going to put the very strongest possible Senator nine into the field.
