

PIONEER HOME IS UNDER AXE

To Make Room For Modern House For Former Islanders

WALDO HILLS, Nov. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norton (Jean Callister) who for the past 26 years have lived in Honolulu have returned to Oregon and are in the near future to live in this neighborhood. Friday, workmen began tearing down the front of the house now owned by the Nortons, formerly owned by her uncle, J. W. Shamer.

This is one of the pioneer homes and was built 55 years ago on land now occupied by the Waldo Hills clubhouse. Some years later the house was blown from its foundation and was then moved to its present location just under the hill south and west of the clubhouse.

From about 1894 to 1914 the front of the house was used as a postoffice (Willard) and store in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Starnmer but for the past 15 years has been vacant.

The Nortons have already torn down the barn and will build a new one. The main part of the house including the fine fireplace will be left intact but will be raised and a basement built and furnace installed. More rooms will be added though final plans have not been made. The grounds around the house will be landscaped. The Nortons have 20 acres of three year old walnut trees around the house.

Mrs. Norton's mother, Mrs. Ida Pooler McManus, is with her daughter.

The Nortons are endeavoring to have the electric light line extended from the Edison Comstock farm to their new home.

MUSTER LUNCHEON FOR R. C. ROLL CALL

The "to arms" call in the Marion county Red Cross membership enrollment will be sounded at noon today at a luncheon at the Marion hotel at which Salem workers, in particular, along with other persons within and without the city interested in the drive, will attend. William McGilchrist, jr., campaign chairman, will preside.

Campaign officials yesterday reported the response from men and women asked to assist had been excellent with the result that a large number of women had enlisted to conduct the canvass of the city residential districts and of men to solicit in the business section. The city has been divided into 66 districts for campaign purposes.

Red Cross workers yesterday scattered posters widely over the city to call attention to the campaign which this year it is planned to make an intensive and desirably a brief one.

High School Libraries Perform Useful Service

By BOB SMITH (Editor "Clarion") This week is known throughout the nation as National Good Book Week. The slogan for this week is, "Ride the Book Trail to Knowledge and Adventure." In connection with the activities for this week the libraries of Salem high school should be remembered.

There has been a library in the high school ever since the school's beginning in 1906. During this time it has made tremendous strides until at the present time it has a total of 5080 books. Five hundred and three of these have been added within the last year. During the month of October the library had an average daily circulation of 193. This means that 4258 books were taken from this library during the month, a substantial gain over last year.

The library is open from 8 a. m. until 4:15 p. m. For the last year the library has also remained open during the noon hour for the use of those students without a study hall. It is found that the students who use the library during this time are really interested in working and make use of their time for reference work. The library subscribes to 45 good magazines which are thoroughly read. This year a circular library desk has been installed in the library which increases the efficiency of service. There are two librarians in charge at all times, Miss Alta Kerchner and Miss Margaret Steiner.

Several years ago the American literature classes changed from the textbook system of teaching to the use of classroom libraries. Since then the English department has acquired excellent and well-chosen libraries containing many interesting books. The fields of travel and biography are particularly well covered. Recently 80 new copies were added. These books are used, not only in the classroom, but also are drawn out by the students for overnight use. The circulation of these books, always heavy, is particularly large on Friday evenings when the books may be kept until Monday morning.

LOUIS TURPIN BURIED SILVERTON, Nov. 12.—Louis Turpin, 36, was buried from the Larson & Son chapel at Silverton Monday afternoon with interment at Belmont at Salem. Turpin died Thursday morning at his home. The American Legion of Corvallis was in charge.

BOARD TO REPLY ON CLUB QUESTION

An answer to the plea of secret society alumni that high school boys be permitted to join these organizations without penalty doubtless will be given by the Salem school board at its regular meeting tonight at the administration building, 424 North High street, Mrs. David Wright, chairman, has announced. The directors probably will make their decision Tuesday, she said, since they have not met to discuss the matter since October 23, when the plea was presented by a delegation of parents and alumni.

From both Rue Drager and George H. Grabenhorst, among the speakers in that delegation, yesterday came denials of knowledge of threatened court action, which was being rumored. They also professed ignorance of reputed plans to sponsor board candidates favorable to the societies at the school election next June when the terms of Mrs. Wright and Dr. E. F. Pound expire.

Members of the board said they would not be surprised if it is again visited by the secret society boosters Tuesday night since inquiries have been made the past week relative to the board's decision.

LORRAINE JUNGWIRTH DIES; SERVICE HELD

Delbert Berry and Nancy Trask Win Awards in P-T Competition

LYONS, Nov. 12.—Lorraine Jungwirth, age 15 years and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jungwirth, passed away Friday afternoon in Salem, following a brief illness.

She is survived by her parents and two brothers, Clarence and Francis at Lyons and a large number of relatives.

Miss Jungwirth was a sophomore in the Mill City high school and a member of the Catholic church. Her death is a shock to the whole community.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at the Catholic church at Jordan, with interment there.

Trask in Hospital Darrell Trask, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Trask underwent an appendix operation at the Mill City hospital Friday noon. The lad was seized with an attack while going to school on the stage Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Darnell, who operate a service station at Lyons are leaving for Portland the first of the week to spend the winter with their son, W. S. Darnell. They haven't decided whether to have some one run the station or to close it for the time they are away.

The Fox Valley School Parent Teacher association program was well attended Friday evening. Delbert Berry raised the largest pumpkin on display. Nancy Lea Trask was awarded first on the cake contest.

Good Book Week to Be Observed at Jefferson

JEFFERSON, Nov. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thurston are the parents of a 7 pound daughter born at an Albany hospital November 8. This is their first child, and she has been named Jean Alice.

The Jefferson library will observe Good Book week, November 11 to 17, with an attractive display of children's books.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Roland have moved back to Jefferson after an absence of several years spent in Salem where Mr. Roland was employed. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Shields who lived in Roland's residence moved into V. D. Looney's residence on third street.

Considerable improvements have been made at the school gymnasium. The rafters have been raised, the lighting changed, and a new door installed. Sometime in the near future, a storm shed will be built.

Benefit Carnival Has Large Crowd

HUBBARD, Nov. 12.—The senior class benefit carnival was staged at the city hall Friday night with a large crowd in attendance. A program consisted of Jerry Stutzman with his guitar, Junior Higgenbotham and Jerry Jones with guitar and harmonica duets, and a very clever one-act

NEED MORE ENERGY? ... GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

● "Cliff" Montgomery, football's famous hero who led the East to victory over the West last year in the sensational Rose Bowl game, is now starring with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Like all athletes, "Cliff" knows how important it is to keep his energy at its natural level. He says: "Football is tough—tense—tiring—enough to exhaust anybody's energy. After a game, I light up a Camel—get a swell 'lift'—and in a short time I feel 100% again. I like Camel's mellow taste...and am seldom without one. And I find that Camels don't interfere with healthy nerves."

TOBACCO EXPERTS ALL SAY:

"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."
