Orangemen Overwhelm Webfeet With 47-18 Upset Victory

Gonzaga to Play Here; N. W. Conference Transfer Rules Tighten

BEAVERS ALONE AT LEAGUE TOP

Palmberg Leads Startling Attack; Oregon Squad Decidedly "Off"

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 12.—(AP)—The driving, booming Oregon State college basketball team crashed into sole leadership of the northern division Coast conference race with a smashing 47 to 18 win over University of Oregon here tonight.

It was the third conference win without a loss for the Beavers and the first loss in three conference starts for Oregon.

Harcombe, Oregon center, caged the first basket, but soon Oregon State's center, Conkling, evened the count after which Oregon State never again was headed.

In championship stride, the Beavers connected from every angle while the Webfoots became more erratic in ball handling as the game progressed.

The game was relatively free from fouling and roughness despite the whirlwind pace. By half time Oregon State was ahead 28 to 12.

Limber-jointed Wally Palmberg, the left-handed freak shot artist, was high scorer with 12 points, none on gift shots.

A throng of 3000 wildly cheering fans packed the gymnasium and when substitutes replaced the regulars for Oregon State near the end of the game the crowd gave the victors an ovation such as this campus seldom has witnessed.

WALDORF TO COACH AT NORTHWESTERN

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Northwestern's search for a new head football coach ended today with the selection of Lynn O. Waldorf of Kansas State college.

Waldorf's selection was announced tonight by Kenneth L. Wilson, Northwestern's athletic director, after a day of rapid fire action on the task of naming a successor to Richard E. (Dick) Hanley, who resigned several weeks ago.

At the same time, Wilson said Burt Ingwerson, former University of Iowa head coach and until recently an assistant at Louisiana State university, would become Waldorf's first assistant.

Bakers Defeat Sheridan Quint

Poison Paul of the Links

By BURNLEY

© 1935, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

BASEBALL'S Poison Paul Waner, the little fellow with the big stick, was the big noise in the 1934 batting race, outdistancing such burly sluggers as Foxx, Klein, Terry, et al; and golf also has its "Little Poison" in the diminutive person of Paul Runyan, who was last year's outstanding pro and who has developed into the most consistent scorer of the links brigade.

Runyan's scoring feats last year were absolutely phenomenal. His consistency over such a long period of steady competition surpasses anything Jones or Sarazen ever accomplished.

From January to December of 1934, Golf's Poison Paul won nine tournaments, including the American Professional Championship, greatest of all match play events. In his other eight victorious starts, Runyan played a total of 29 rounds and averaged a little over 69.

Olin Dutra, who won the National Open, and Ky Laffoon, young Denver whirlwind who almost equalled Runyan's great scoring record, were the only other pros who shared the spotlight with the Arkansas Atom in 1934.

Paul's accuracy is the secret of his almost incredible consistency. Dutra paid tribute to this great asset of Runyan's when he called the dapper little pro the greatest shot saver in golf. Runyan is also a marvelous putter, and his P. G. A. triumph once and for all explodes the theory that his frail physique and small stature would prevent him from ever winning a major golf crown.

Paul has just returned from the Australian tour, and his work in the current Winter tournaments will bear watching.

Willamette Places Five on N.W. All-Star Team; Three Of Them Unanimous Choices

OFFICIAL ALL-NORTHWEST CONFERENCE ELEVEN

First Team		Second Team
Versteeg, Willamette	End	Hayman, Col. of Idaho
Esson, College of Idaho	Tackle	Schooling, Linfield
Grannis, Willamette (Captain)	Guard	Tyson, College of Idaho
Fitch, College of Idaho	Center	Connors, Willamette, and Terchera, Albany
Nixon, Pacific	Guard	Hoyt, Willamette
Weisser, Willamette	Tackle	Balkovic, Willamette
Parberry, Pacific	End	Carlson, Col. of Puget Sound
Bachelor, Linfield	Quarterback	Swan, College of Idaho
Oravec, Willamette	Half	Hoobler, College of Idaho
Corrigan, Pacific	Half	Maxwell, College of Idaho
Weisgerber, Willamette	Full	Brooks, Col. of Puget Sound

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Loren Grannis, Willamette university's outstanding guard who was selected on the Associated Press little All-American, today was chosen captain of the official northwest conference all-star team.

Grannis, Peoria, Ill., lad, was the unanimous choice of the conferences coaches at their meeting here. Mike Moran, conference official, compiled the votes and helped select the team.

Willamette won the most first team places with five men while College of Idha had two on the first team and five on the second. The schools did not meet last season, and were undefeated and untied co-champions of the conference.

Pacific university placed three on the first team and Linfield college one.

Johnny Oravec, Willamette halfback who was runner up for national scoring honors with 120 points last season, and Weisgerber, Willamette's great punting and goal kicking fullback, were the only other unanimous first ballot choices.

In making the announcement Mike Moran praised College of Idaho as an outstanding well-balanced team and hailed the Willamette university Bearcats as the most powerful team ever developed in the conference.

Caustic Carries on

Great grid schedule for W.U. next year; Olson is back; five Bearcats make all-star, not enough.

By CAUSTIC

Willmette university has the best football schedule lined up for 1935 that it has ever signed on the dotted line. There are eight games contracted so far and every one of them promises to be a good one. Two coast conference elevens are on the list, Oregon State and Washington State. Next year may be the year that "dipe" has been waiting for, the year when his team can dump his alma mater in the mud.

—o—

For Salem the schedule looks good, too. Topping the list of home games will be the Gonzaga game, while the San Jose contest will follow close behind. Willamette will play Pacific in Salem again next year and there is a big possibility that the University of Hawaii team will stop off here on its way to Colorado to meet the Bearcats.

Up in the balcony at the Willamette-S. O. N. S. game last night was a football gentleman who hasn't been seen on the Willamette campus for a year. It was Ole "Swede" Olson, all-conference fullback in 1933 who has returned from Colorado to start school again. Ole got a cheer from the rooting section when the cheer-leaders learned of his presence and he looked glad to be back.

—o—

Willamette got five men, Grannis, Oravec, Weisgerber, Versteeg and Weisser on the All-conference eleven, although we have said all along that the only true all-conference eleven could only be the Bearcat first string. Most of the rest of the boys were placed on the second string. Don Mills, the best blocker in the conference, didn't even get a mention. Which shows the fallacy of all-conference, all-American, all-anything selections.

YOUTH DOMINATES LOS ANGELES OPEN

LOS ANGELES COUNTRY CLUB, Los Angeles, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Golf stars in their 20s dominated the play in the opening round of the Los Angeles open today when Vic Ghezzi, raw-boned pro from the Deal, N. J., golf club, and Johnny Revolta, wild-haired but straight-shooting pro from Milwaukee, Wis., tied for the lead with scores of 68, two under par.

Tied for second place were two other youngsters, John Perelli, Lake Tahoe, and Dick Metz, bronzed Chicagoan, traveling the 18 holes at a 69 clip.

Only four of the field of 120 starters were able to take Old Man Par into camp, but Stanley Kertes, Los Angeles; Willie Gogfin, San Francisco, and Jimmy Hines, veteran Long Islander, slugged it out with the old man on even terms with 70 blows each.

EVANGELICAL FIVE TOPS CHURCH LOOP

In a close-checking contest that saw neither team able to score consistently, the Evangelical "A" quintet defeated Jason Lee in a Church league triple header last night to make it the only undefeated team in the league.

The American Lutheran quint suffered its first defeat when it lost to the well-oiled Presbyterian squad 27 to 15 and the Leslie Methodist five gained a 27-to-14 victory over Temple Baptist.

SONS RALLY TO WIN OUT 28-24

Bearcats Fight Hard, Hold Edge and Lead Most of Rough Game Here

In the "fightenest" basketball game seen here this season the Southern Oregon Normal Goliaths came from behind in the last half to beat a scrappy Willamette quintet 28 to 24 on the Willamette floor last night.

It was football mixed liberally with basketball from the start last night, as the Bearcats started out to treat the Ashland giants with a taste of their own medicine. Fighting as they have not yet fought this year the Bearcats easily outplayed Howard Hobson's Teachers through most of the game, but the superior height and weight of the visitors finally told as they began clicking in the last half.

In shooting field goals the Bearcats stood even with the Elephants. It was the accuracy of the Teachers' foul shooting that beat Willamette as they converted ten times out of fourteen attempts. Willamette's points from gift shots were six out of 12.

Patterson, big negro forward, opened the scoring when he dropped in a foul shot, but three foul conversions by Erickson and a field goal by Eddie Frantz quickly gave Willamette the slight lead it was able to hold through the first half. Close checking by the fighting Bearcats held the sharp-shooting Teachers to three field goals in the first half while Willamette was able to chalk up five. Six fouls called on the Bearcats, however, gave the Sons five points as they easily swished gift shots through the net. The half ended with Willamette leading 14 to 11.

As the second half opened Patterson tucked away a gift shot and Courtney swished in a field goal to tie up the score but Manning and Frantz scored twice for the Bearcats to put Willamette again in the lead. Patterson who led scoring with ten points, dropped in two free throws and Lemmon kept Willamette's lead intact with a field goal from the foul line. Frantz and Patterson each netted a free throw and then Jockisch let fly from a distance to swish the ball through the net cleanly and Howell pushed one over his shoulder to even the count. Emerging from a melee under the basket Jockisch looped in a cripple to give Southern Oregon a lead that it did not relinquish.

With five minutes left in the game Keene put an entire new team on the floor. Although Mosher dropped one in from the corner, the fresh Bearcats were unable to check the Teachers as Howell and Patterson scored.

In a preliminary contest the Willamette frosh defeated the Gates Athletic club 38 to 14. The Bearcats will meet Columbia university here Tuesday.

Buddy Ambrose Not to Appear; No Gym, Claims

Buddy Ambrose, who was billed to meet Cherokee Starr in a special event at next Friday's boxing show, stated yesterday that he would not appear upon the card. Ambrose said he had no place to work out and get ready for the bout. "Whenever I can have a place to work out and be ready without risking breaking my neck I will be back on again," he added.

Matchmaker Jack Kileen has announced that Red Raider, Tacoma fighter, will meet Jack Hibbard, Klamath Falls, in the main event.

All Normal, Junior College Competition to Count Full Time; Burdett Career Ended

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Northwest conference heads today ruled that in the future any competition for an athlete at a junior college will count the same as a year of competition at any conference school to which he transfers.

Athletes are allowed four years of varsity or varsity and freshman competition in the conference. Previously junior college or normal school transfers were allowed three years competition even if they competed more than a year before transferring.

Several minor eligibility rules were clarified.

The conference ruled that a year of varsity reserve play will count as a year of competition for Jim Burdett of Willamette university. Burdett subsequently played three years of varsity ball, hence was ruled ineligible for the coming season.

No conference basketball games have been played yet this season, and schedules will be announced later by the various coaches. Other schedules were drawn.

The conference also ruled that Balkovic of Willamette will have no more football competition, counting a year of freshman ball at University of Oregon as a year of varsity competition. He also played at Southern Oregon normal two years. He was deemed technically ineligible in 1933 and 1934 for failing to wait a year after transferring.

The proposed three-year rotating football schedule was adopted with the proviso that the conference may consent to modifying the agreement to favor schools unable to go through with the schedule.

The conference baseball championship will be decided at Walla Walla May 23, 24 and 25. The conference track meet will be at Walla Walla May 30 at which time the spring conference business meeting will be held.

Men's and women's tennis championship tournament will be in Portland May 25.

Whitman will play Washington State and University of Idaho, while College of Idaho will play University of Idaho.

Football schedules include:

Willamette:

Sept. 28—Oregon State at Corvallis.
Oct. 5—Washington State at Pullman.
Oct. 18—College of Idaho at Salem, night.
Oct. 26 — College of Puget Sound at Tacoma, night.
Nov. 2—San Jose State at Salem. Tentative.
Nov. 9—Pacific at Salem.
Nov. 23—Gonzaga at Salem, night.
Nov. 28—Whitman at Walla Walla.

Rough Bouts Promised on Armory Mat

Grapple fans of the vicinity will see some real dirty work at the armory Tuesday night when Thor Jensen, Eugene strong man, meets Bob Cazzell in a stormy and torrid 45 minutes of main event calibre wrestling.

Jensen, who is ready to match his mat tactics with those of the meanest, has a reputation that puts him high among the "orneriest." Cazzell, usually a clean wrestler, will probably be called upon to resort to a few shady tactics to cope with the unethical onslaughts of the Eugene caveman, although he ranks high as a scientific twister.

Otis Clingman, former sailor camp, will also have plenty on his hands when he meets Ben Sherman, Portland grunt and groan artist, in the one-hour main event. Clingman is a fine scientific wrestler whose grappling here in recent months has won him much favor.

Real science will be dished out to the fans in the curtain opener when Neil Franklin, Hill Military instructor, meets Art Perkins. Franklin has gained considerable popularity in his infrequent appearances.

Cougars' Rally Halted Vandal Five Wins 37-28

MOSCOW, Idaho, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Overcoming a determined second half rally, the University of Idaho defeated Washington State college 37 to 28 in a spectacular coast conference basketball game here tonight.

Starting the second half with the score 22 to 11 in Idaho's favor, the Cougars made 16 points in 10 minutes to go ahead while Idaho scored only three points.

With five minutes to play, Idaho converted a free throw to tie the score at 28, whereupon the Vandals staged a nine point drive to victory.

Lebanon Wins In League Game

DALLAS, Jan. 12.—Friday night the Dallas "B" high school team and Bridgeport met in a preliminary game, Dallas winning in a score of 31 to 17.

The second game was one of the championship series being played among the high schools of the valley. Lebanon, the visiting team won over the Dallas boys with a score of 20 to 17.

SEVERE DEFEAT HANDED SALEM

Baumgartner Leads Cheese Experts to 51-28 Win Over Red-Black

Checking valiantly through the first half Salem high let the cheese-eating Baumgartner, flashy Tillamook forward, get out of control in the second half of their game last night as he scored 27 points to lead his team to a 51 to 28 victory.

Salem took the lead in the first quarter and led 11 to 7 at the end of the first period, but the uncanny shooting of Baumgartner, Hediger and Moore quickly drew Russ Rarey's team into the lead. Three men did all the scoring for the Tillamook team, Baumgartner alone scoring almost enough points to beat Salem.

Phil Salstrom was the flash of the Salem team as he scored 17 points but he didn't have the high scoring teammates that assisted Baumgartner.

Salem held even with the coast team in the first half, which ended with the latter enjoying only a two point lead. Coming back to the maples in the third quarter the Tillamook team opened up with a brand of scintillating basketball that gave them 22 points while Salem was marking up a mere five.

The Tillamook team played a close-checking, fast-passing game, while Salem's play, even in the first half, was somewhat ragged.
