

Pardon Me, Nothing Personal Against Babe, Says Dizzy

ELDER DEAN IS ADMIRER, TELLS

Thinks American League Let Good Bet Go in Ruth's Move to National

By ALAN GOULD
A.P. Sports Editor
BRADENTON, Fla., March 6.—(AP)—There won't be any feud this year between the National league's two most colorful and commanding personalities.

I have the solemn word of Jerome Herman "Dizzy" Dean that he holds nothing but admiration and the highest respect for George Herman "Babe" Ruth. In fact Dizzy asked me today to carry the olive branch back to the Babe at St. Petersburg and tell the veteran slugger that he "Dizzy" will do the best he can to strike him out when they meet in an exhibition game on March 20.

"Let's get this all straightened out now," said the elder of the celebrated Dean brothers as he sat in the club house of the world champion Cardinals' training camp. "They have been putting me on the pan for what I said about Ruth, when I first heard he was coming into the National league. Maybe I popped off sudden-like, but they got me wrong. Nothing Personal About It, Dizzy Avers

"I haven't got a thing against Ruth, personally. I never have had. I think he's a great guy as there has ever been in baseball. He's my friend and he's given me some good advice. If he goes good in our league this year—and I hope he does, against every club but the Cards—it will mean $5,000 more on my contract for 1936.

"We will outdraw the American league all around this season, with Ruth helping to pull in the fans. I can't understand how the club owners of that league ever let the Babe get away. That's what I meant when I criticized the American league. How could they have given so short-sighted a manager as Ruth's job? I don't think they will pitch to Babe as to other tough hitters.

How will Dizzy pitch to Ruth? "Just like any other tough hitter—and then hope for the best," he replied.

The irrepressible Dizzy already has wagered, even money, that Ruth won't hit a home run off him in the first four times at bat—passes excluded. Branch Rickey, vice-president of the world champions, bets the Babe won't hit for the circuit off the elder Dean all season but Dizzy says: "He's a cinch to lose that bet."

Revenge on Salem Had, Multnomah

The Multnomah club amateur wrestling team got their revenge for an upset handed them by the Salem Y. M. C. A. grapplers two weeks ago when they defeated the local team six matches to three in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night.

All of the matches were close and interesting with especially good wrestling being shown by the three Salem winners, Lee Knowles, Chester Pugh and McLoughlin. No heavyweight match was staged as the Multnomah man was unable to make the trip because of illness.

A fairly good crowd attended the event which was one of a series of amateur shows the Y. M. C. A. is sponsoring.

Summary:
125 pounds—McLoughlin, Y. M. C. A., decision from Williston, M. A. C.
126—J. Boardwell, M. decision from Watanabe, Y.

BEAVER SERIES STYLE SETTLED

Man to Man Defense Will Be Employed by Gill Five This Week-end

CORVALLIS, Ore., March 6.—(AP)—The Oregon State college basketball team which turned in the best defensive record in the coast conference this season, will use a man to man defense in its championship playoff series here this weekend against University of Southern California.

The announcement was made this afternoon by Coach "Slate" Gill who has trained his Beaver basketers this season in use of both the man to man and the zone system. The Beavers allowed conference opponents an average of 25 points a game this season.

Earl Conking, Beaver center, may be given the gigantic task of guarding Lee "Rubber Legs" Gutierrez, Southern California center who has averaged 15 1/2 points a game this season. Alternates for Conking are Cliff Folen and Wilbur Kidder.

Bob Bergstrom or Fred Hill probably will watch Jack Hupp, the Trojan's classy forward.

Picking of Subs
Aids in Success

In all preparations for the series Coach Gill has given the same attention to his substitutes as to his regulars. His uncanny ability in picking the right substitute at the right time is considered one of the main reasons for Oregon State's success this season.

An example of his acumen at substitution making was when he sent Art Merryman—a fox-terrier-like player—in to check Sonne-decker of Washington State college.

Playing his substitution art again, Coach Gill inserted Hub Tuttle against Oregon and he provided the needed scoring punch, defensive bolstering and most of all, a contagious spark of aggressiveness.

When the Beavers were slow-moving too much in their last game against Idaho, "Doctor" Gill diagnosed the case and sent in Merle Taylor and Cliff Folen, with the desired speeding up resulting.

Merriam Upheld By House; $200 Refused, Ballot

The house came to the defense of Representative Howard Merriam yesterday when he flatly refused approval of an appropriation measure which would provide $200 for the state's share in the Merriam recall election to be held this month in Lane county. Reconsideration of the house's action is expected since state officials said last night that it was mandatory for the secretary of state to provide the necessary forms for the vote. In presenting the appropriation bill, Representative Semon apologized for the measure on the ground of legal necessity and said he hoped the recall would fail. Representative Hannah Martin commented that the appropriation bill "out to pass out."

Merriam faces recall because of his alleged failure to keep a campaign promise and support the Townsend old-age pension plan.

Vikings Outclass Rook Five After Slow Start to Win 35 to 23

With everybody scoring the Salem high troop team registered its second win over the Willamette frosh in a hastily scheduled game yesterday afternoon when they defeated the Bearkittens 35 to 23.

After a little tough going in the initial period the Vikings easily outclassed the freshmen, working the ball in smoothly and ruining the frosh's attempts to score by close guarding.

The freshmen led at the end of the first period by a 7 to 5 score. Salstrom began to make his dashes beneath the basket count in the second period, to a lead of seven points. At halftime the red and black led 15 to 9.

Manilan to Face Gibson Here Friday

When Ross Dumagillas, cool, hard-hitting bronze gentleman from Manila, meets LeRoy Gibson, fiery, lambasting colored gentleman from Wichita in the ten round main event of the Veterans of Foreign Wars' fight card Friday night, fans can look for some torrid scrapping.

The Filipino boy, who last Friday made Johnny Hall see more than one birdie, is a hard man to down. He went through eight bloody rounds with Gibson in a previous matching here, taking lots of punishment but dishing out enough to win a draw decision.

There will be good scrapping in the 20 round supporting card also. Johnny Shaw, clowning Seattle negro who got a draw with Ernest Cavelli last week, will meet Mick McCafferty, St. Paul, in a six-round semi-wind-up.

Art Akers, Salem 140 pounder who last week gained a draw after a hard four rounds with Tony Camden, will appear matched against Rollie Westenhoe, Portland, in a six round special event.

Clem Lombrecht, 135, Stayton, will fight Tex Wilcox, Dallas, Texas, in a four round scrap. One of the first heavyweight bouts in several months will be on the card with Tiny Cooper, Hubbard, meeting Monty Winn of Provo, Utah, in a four round encounter. Cooper weighs 195 pounds and Winn scales well over 200.

AID TO TILLAMOOK COUNTY IS PASSED

Tillamook county would receive credit for $24,797.42 of state taxes paid to the state treasurer on timber destroyed by fire there in 1932, under the provisions of a bill approved in the senate yesterday.

Senator Zimmerman explained that while Tillamook county had paid this money to the state it had been unable to collect any such amount from the timber owners. He said $600,000 was still due Tillamook county in taxes and that only a small part of this would be collected. It also was brought out that Tillamook county now has a bonded and warrant indebtedness of $1,400,000.

The bill previously had received the endorsement of the joint ways and means committee.

4-Year-Old Boy Dies, Mystery Pasadena Blaze

PASADENA, Cal., March 6.—(AP)—A four-year-old boy lost his life and his guardian was seriously burned about the hands and head in a mysterious fire today at their home.

The victims were Andre Ybarra, 4, ward of the county, and Mrs. Marie Roeth, with whom he lived, at 517 Lincoln avenue.

Mack Crane, hoseman of the Pasadena fire department, was overcome by smoke in fighting the blaze, which firemen believed the boy started by setting his bedclothing afire in an upstairs bedroom, they said.

Caustic Carries on

Black cat leers at Les; Hoop coaching does it, believes; Silke takes up cudgel, has say.

By CAUSTIC
Les Sparks, coach of the Willamette Bearkittens, graduate manager and professor of physical education, is all set to go superstitious and believe in witch's brew, shudder at a black cat, balk at tilted ladders and have cold chills when he glimpses the moon over the left shoulder. It all comes from coaching basketball, he says, and a few more years will make him a real believer in the black art. Sooner or later it comes to all basketball coaches.

The Jinx that has Prof. Sparks worried is the fact that his freshman teams for the last year or two haven't been able to get over the 13 hurdle. After winning 13 games in a row the team gets stuck and can't for the five lives of it add another win to the column. The Bearkittens won 12 and up to now have dropped six in a row. The identical thing happened to last year's frosh outfit and it has Leslie worried.

It seems that boundary disputes are tickling his nerves. Whether it's a "34:40 or fight" proposition or a basketball district. We guess we popped right into the middle of one when we brought up the Gates-Mill City county line affair and we have been taking rifle and machine gun fire from all sides ever since. The latest missile comes from Gene Silke, principal of Hubbard high, who takes exception to a quote from our Gates correspondent which said "There never was a question of our status or geography until someone in the north end of the county got ambitious for a county basketball championship."

Here's what Gene has to say: "Perhaps apologies had best be due the 'someone in the north end who aspires to a championship.' At no time was anyone in the north end of the county ambitious to have more than their just rights. When the question came up as to whether Mill City and Gates were legally entitled to play in the county 'B' league as a competition, a north end school would naturally make the inquiry.

"Once the question was settled, no school involved was dissatisfied or had any grievance against anyone. It seems to me a lot of trouble has been caused by someone making remarks which should have been made in an entirely different way."

APPROPRIATION FOR INDIGENTS PASSED

Oregon's share in a state relief program for the next biennium was completed late yesterday when the senate gave its quick approval of a $1,000,000 general fund appropriation for the relief of unemployable and indigent persons. The state relief committee will be entrusted with the fund which will be administered through the 36 counties on the basis of need.

Governor Martin has already approved another $1,000,000 general fund appropriation for old-age pensions, the funds to be used for the program when federal funds are available as match moneys.

Provision for an additional $4,000,000 for relief has been made by increasing the appropriation from state relief funds to $5,500,000. The state has already advanced $1,500,000 in federal funds for relief purposes in the state.

TOLL REMOVAL IS REPORTED, FAVOR

After more than a month in committee, a bill providing the state highway commission with authority to take tolls off the coast bridges, came out in the house yesterday with a favorable report.

The house committee on highways and highway revenues made its report following a conference with Governor Martin in his office early Wednesday morning.

The governor told the committee that he favored such a measure.

Opposition to the bill has centered in the eastern Oregon delegation which fears removal of tolls on the coast bridges would provide such a load on state highway finances that completion of needed roads in the eastern part of the state would be delayed.

Bullet in Arm Ends Deputies' Duel in France

PARIS, March 6.—(AP)—Two fiery Corsican deputies met on the field of honor today and one of them was carried off at the duel's end with a bullet through his pistol arm.

Cesar Campinchi and Horace de Carbuca had fired at each other once in the Parc des Princesses stadium. They were about to fire again when a federal soldier blood dripping from his extended arm.

The combat was stopped immediately. The principals, who had fought over an article referring to Campinchi published in de Carbuca's weekly, left the field unconciliated.

Penalty Sought False Statement Gaining Relief

Although adjournment is expected by the end of this week, the house yesterday received a group of new bills in addition to appropriation measures.

House Bill 500 makes a misdemeanor to give a false statement in seeking state relief and provides for a fine of $100 or 60 days imprisonment.

Representative Barnes introduced House Bill 430 which provides for a 25 per cent reduction in principal and the waiving of all interest and penalties if delinquent taxes are paid before September 1, 1935.
