Miss Roberts Has Full Schedule Charted

MISS MILDI ROBERTS, talented young violinist who will appear in an artist's concert Friday night at the First Congregational church, has just completed an interesting concert tour and will embark immediately upon another next week.

Recently she has played in Roseburg, at Stanford university in Palo Alto, Calif., in Monmouth, Portland, Tacoma and Bellingham. Miss Roberts and her mother, Mrs. John J. Roberts, leave Monday for Marshfield where the violinist will fill an engagement before going on to Palo Alto where she has been invited to play at the Community Play House March 31.

April 11, Miss Roberts will play a concert in Boise, Ida. A luncheon in her honor will be given by the press Wednesday before her appearance. Rev. Charles E. Ward, former Congregational minister in Salem and now of Boise, arranged for her concert. The youthful artist will broadcast over the Canadian network April 22 from Montreal and also play for a woman's musical club there. April 27 she will be in Carlisle, Pa., at the university. It is interesting to note that her sponsor there is also a former Salem resident and Willamette professor, Dr. Gaylard Patterson.

From Carlisle, Miss Roberts and her mother go to New York where the former will enter into a five months' period of intensive study under the noted teacher, Persinger.

Simple in Design—Smart in Style

CROCHETED GLOVES PATTERN 778

That dainty bit of crochet, the lacy glove is to be all the rage this Spring and Summer, according to the fashion forecast. If you envied someone their dainty beauty last summer, you should quickly get started on your pair now and be all ready to show them off at Easter time. This pair is especially lovely, the simplicity of its design making the work progress rapidly, as well as giving them smartness. The cuff is especially attractive because of the
