THREE SUITS FOR DIVORCE STARTED

Three suits for divorce were investigated here yesterday in circuit court.

Because her husband, Kenneth Morgall, allegedly is a frequent visitor at pool halls and loses considerable money at cards, Gladys Morgall asks freedom from him. She says his treatment of her has been cruel and inhuman. She asks the court to grant her the custody of their one child. The couple was married in 1925.

Alleging that he frequently struck her and on one occasion beat her severely, Mabel Jorgenson Low yesterday filed suit for divorce from C. A. Lowe to whom she was married here in 1932. She asks the restoration of her former name of Mabel Jorgenson.

Boise M. Trester asks divorce from Alice A. Trester, claiming she deserted him in March, 1934, after they were married two months before in Vancouver, Wash.

IF ROGUE OPENED, FREE BRIDGES OFF

Friends of a Rogue river closed to commercial fishing are holding a loaded billy club up their sleeves against a possible referendum. It is a counter-referendum on the bill lifting tolls on coast highway bridges. The fact is revealed in an article in the Medford News, Rep. Moore Hamilton editor in which one unnamed man is quoted:

"If the coast boys were half way smart they'd close every coastal stream, now that they have their new highway and toll free bridges, because it would attract thousands more tourists to that section. If they try to stop the Rogue closure, we'll stop their toll-free bridges. I certainly feel it could be done."

No reports of a move to refer the Rogue river bill have been heard in Salem. The commercial fishing interests at the mouth of the river are now weak; and the population there has come to look for more profits from tourists than from fish catching and canning.

That southwest Oregon is satisfied with its victory on toll bridges is indicated by the withdrawal of Roy G. Currier of Lakeside near Marshfield, as candidate for a state highway commissioner.

—so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago—

—throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure.. so much satisfaction

Today the Governor of North Carolina says to the Governor of South Carolina—
"Have a cigarette"

TODAY people all over the world use tobacco in one form or another. They chew it, they smoke it in pipes, they smoke cigars and cigarettes, and here is what an eminent physician said about cigarettes:

"I have been something of a student of cigarettes, and it is my belief that they offer the mildest and purest form in which tobacco is used."

Yes, nowadays the cigarette is the most popular form in which tobacco is used. A good cigarette certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Have a Chesterfield—
For one thing—they're milder.
For another thing—they taste better.

It was a matter of pride with a host in Colonial days that his guests should smoke tobacco grown on his own plantation.
