

Astoria, Oakridge Each Place Two on All-Tournament Team

They Stay in Tournament Until Last Day

SARPOLA, ANET ARE REPEATERS

Gale Best Center, Hergert and Fisher Others on Experts' Quintet

ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM
 Jake Hergert, Jefferson, forward.
 Ted Sarpola, Astoria, forward.
 Lauren Gale, Oakridge, center.
 Jake Fisher, Oakridge, guard.
 Robert Anet, Astoria, guard.

SECOND TEAM
 All Sandoz of Corvallis, forwards.
 Mabeo of McMinnville, forwards.
 Bob Hardy of Ashland, center.
 Jay Mercer of Jefferson and Dennis Donovan of Benson, guards.

Most Valuable Player
Bill O'Donnell of Columbia Prep.

Five high school basketball players who in the opinion of coaches, officials and sport writers played the best basketball in the 1935 state tournament, were selected as the all-state tournament team yesterday at a luncheon at the home of Coach R. S. Keene.

The five next best players were named on the second team. The group also picked the player most valuable to his team, the award going to Bill O'Donnell of Columbia Prep.

Ted Sarpola and Bobby Anet, both of Astoria, were the only players on either the first or second team who were also on last year's selections.

Jake Hergert of Jefferson and Ted Sarpola of Astoria were almost unanimously selected as all-state forwards. Hergert received three more votes for the position than Sarpola.

"Laddy" Gale, Oakridge's tower of sharpshooting strength, led the field in the selection of a center with none coming close to him. There were several fine centers in the tournament this year but Gale was put way ahead of the others by the votes of the coaches, officials and writers.

Anet is repeater by comfortable margin. Bobby Anet of Astoria received a decisive vote for the guard position. Fisher of Oakridge, who trailed him most closely, was the other best guard in the first team. There were many good guards in the tournament and the number of players receiving votes for those positions was more than for any other.

All Sandoz, Corvallis' French-speaking twin, walked away with one of the forward positions on the second team, polling nearly half the votes cast. Don Mabeo of McMinnville narrowly scraped by Hoxie of Ashland to get the other forward post.

Although there was more discussion before the ballot about the center position than for any other, Bob Hardy of Ashland gained the second team center position decisively. Rules governing the selections prevent putting centers at forward berths and several centers who were all state material were necessarily left out of the lineup.

Again in the second team voting the race for guard berths was close. Jay Mercer of Jefferson led the field with Dennis Donovan of Benson gaining the second position by one vote. Twelve players received votes for a guard position.

Only Three Schools Represented on Team
For the first time in several years there was no tie in the voting. As last year the principle of not giving more than one position to one school was dropped and the first team was composed of players from three schools, Astoria, Oakridge and Jefferson.

It was suggested by John L. Gary, secretary of the state high school athletic association, that next year only seniors be eligible for all-state positions. The suggestion was enthusiastically endorsed by the coaches.

Paul T. Jackson, president of the state association, made a short talk in the tournament this year. He said the fine work in conducting the tournament and the interest shown by President Bruce Baxter and the Willamette faculty had added a great deal of zest to this year's proceedings.

BRADDOCK FIGURES IN TITLE SHUFFLES

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—The heavyweight boxing situation looked like a subway platform during commuting hours today. Everybody was in a hurry but getting nowhere.

The only thing about it that remained positive was Madcapper Max Baer is still the champion.

Otherwise matters stood as follows:
 James J. Braddock, the Jersey City veteran, who won a clean-cut 15-round decision from Art Lasky last night, is dicker for a bout with ex-champion Max Schmeling now that Primo Carnera has "sold out" Madison Square Garden for the 20th century sporting club and a bout with Joe Louis, sensational Detroit negro.

Jimmy Johnston, the Garden's fistic matchmaker, is just itching to announce a Baer-Schmeling championship tilt for June but doesn't dare in view of the probability that the New York athletic commission won't sanction it before Schmeling tackles Braddock.

NEW IDAHO COACH REVEALS POLICIES

MOSCOW, Idaho, March 23.—(AP)—Ted Paul Bank, Idaho's new football coach, revealed today what he plans to do with the Vandals when he begins spring practice April 1.

Bank, and his assistant, Bob Tessler, will arrive here Wednesday afternoon. He outlined his plans in instructions reaching here today.

Bank definitely hopes to carry on the type of football that brought Tulane and the University of Minnesota to the front rank in the last decade. And with this in mind, the new coach said he would concentrate on five fundamentals—blocking, tackling, consistent punting and passing, timing and coordination, and day after day drill for perfection.

The new coach said he definitely prefers speed and coordination to power and weight. Leo B. Calland, retiring coach, concentrated on the beef and power angles.

BEAVERS OUTSLUG CHAMPION ANGELS

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 23.—(AP)—Portland outslugged Los Angeles to win an exhibition game here today 12 to 6.

The Beavers pounded Emmett Nelson for four runs in the opening inning. He got his range then and held them in check until the fourth, when they scored two more off his delivery. Lefty Grant replaced him on the mound but proved little more effective.

Pudgy Gould held the Angels scoreless until the fifth inning, when he weakened and they garnered four runs. Hal Turpin succeeded him and allowed Los Angeles but two more counters the rest of the game.

Portland 12 16 0
 Los Angeles 6 9 2

Jake Hergert of Jefferson High Scorer in Tournament; Hardy, Sarpola Come Close

Jake Hergert, all-state guard from Jefferson high, took individual scoring honors in the state tournament by scoring 49 points in four games.

Following him closely were Hardy of Ashland with 42, Sarpola and Johansen of Astoria with 40 each and Salstrom of Salem with 39.

Complete scoring for the tournament follows:
 Jefferson—four games—Hergert 49, Jones 26, Baughman 38, Mercer 9, Selberg 9, Burch 2, Milford 2.
 Astoria—four games—Sarpola 40, Johansen 40, Kokko 24, Nilsen 19, Anet 18, Parker 11.
 Salem—four games—Salstrom 39, Cater 10, Brown 18, Luther 18, Waddell 11, Quesseth 8, Quistad 4.
 Oakridge—four games—Dorfler 15, Salton 18, Gale 13, Fisher 21, Varelman 9, Nelson 7.
 Columbia Prep—three games—O'Neal 7, O'Donnell 34, V. Healy 4, Globen 7, Kaufman 5, Mercer 4.
 Marshfield—three games—Smith 18, Rackleff 9, Conrad 2, Ring 13, McCarthy 28, Kolen 6, LaGrande—two games—Stitt

Caustic Carries on "Dishonest John" ought to have won last 15 titles; "may not come" next year; Salem surprises self.

By CAUSTIC
 "Dishonest John Warren" is the new name for ex-Honest John Warren who said before the tournament that his team this year was the "worst he'd ever had. If that team of fighting Fishermen was the worst Astoria has ever had there has been some crooked work in Oregon's state tournament for some 15 years or Astoria would have been champion 15 times.

The all-state team went out of the tournament on crutches last night. It was ever thus. Rarely is it possible to pick an all-state team six hours before the pay-off that will measure up after the final games are played. It's bound to look rather silly afterward. We would like to sponsor a move to have the all-state selections made after the final game. However, we realize the impracticability of such a plan. The time to announce the team is immediately after the games are over and it takes time to pick all-state teams.

Wally Johansen, who looked like several million dollars worth of pre-Roosevelt money in Astoria's regular season games, didn't strut his stuff in the state tournament until the last night. Otherwise he would no doubt have been an all-stater. This is his last year as it is for Anet and Nilsen. "Dishonest John" says he's going to take a rest next year and maybe not even come to the tournament. But he'll have Sarpola, Kokko and that fighting sub, Parker, back, which is a fair nucleus for any man's ball club.

It was a great tournament from all standpoints. Probably the outstanding feature was the showing made by Oakridge, a tiny "B" school, in forging into the semifinals. The other three "B" quintets were eliminated in short order, each losing their first two games. We hope that the state athletic association will next year bracket the "B" teams separately until

Oregon Blind School's Mat Team Winner

Salem's newly organized team of wrestlers—in the dark—the Salem blind school matmen—won handsily Friday night at the first interscholastic wrestling match for blind boys held in the west.

The local lads journeyed to Vancouver, Wash., and wrestled there with a team from the Washington blind school. Salem's squad won four falls and two decisions, dropping only two decisions to the Vancouver team out of the eight matches staged.

The blind boys are able to wrestle effectively with only the occasional help of the referee in getting them together. Walter R. Dry, superintendent of the blind school, reports. None of the rough tactics of the professional matches—kicking and gouging—is allowed, the rules prevailing which the Salem high school teams use.

The students are enthusiastic about the new sport. Mr. Dry said yesterday. Under the direction of Coach George Campbell wrestling has become as popular as any activity at the school here.

The results for the individual Salem school wrestlers in the matches at Vancouver last night follow:
 Waddell, 127, Honey, weight 130, decision; Vernon Monfils, 107, fall; Robert Mealey, 121, fall; Arthur Watson, 121, fall; Myron Sauter, 130, fall; Manuel Mose, 136, lost by decision; George Hudson, 140, fall; Norman Worden, 145, lost by decision.

COMEBACK BEGUN BY HELEN MOODY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—(AP)—Helen Willis Moody, former queen of the tennis world, batted ball softly against a marked wall here today and announced she was preparing for a comeback that will lead to national tournaments next year—"if everything goes all right."

Mrs. Moody, whose wall practice today was her third since her career on the courts was interrupted by an injury in September, 1933, stated:
 "I'm not planning on any competition this year. I don't want to make any plans, because I might disappoint myself. If I do play it will be in local tournaments first. You know you can't play in national tournaments until you're sure of yourself. Next year if everything goes all right, I'll play."

ASTORIA GRABS ANOTHER TITLE

goals. Went the sportsmanship cup. To Oakridge went a silver trophy as the state's outstanding "B" team.

Salem high kept its reputation as dope-spillers clean by defeating the Oakridge team 30 to 21 for a third place spot on the final standings.

There is a four-letter word which means a person of deceitful ways and that is the word that sullied the fair name of Honest John Warren last night as the team he coached as the worst he'd ever had, worked its deadly short breaks for scores at more than a point a minute pace. Like five Olympic sprinters the Fishermen pulled the old Astoria stunt of "racing 'em to death."

If there was ever perfection in a high school basketball team, Astoria was very near it last night. Everything worked. Ted Sarpola and Wally Johansen couldn't miss. Bobby Anet and "Hank" Nilsen fed in the ball at the split-second moment it was needed and checked the Jefferson sharpshooters into utter futility. Big, peaceful looking Henry Kokko had his big self-handling paws ready every time a ball came bounding off the backboard, ready to reach up and drop in another two points for Astoria.

It wasn't because there wasn't any opposition that Astoria was able to restate one of the most decisive victories in the history of tournament finals. Jefferson was going all the time, going at a pace that was too much for it. After the initial period the Democrats didn't have a chance to keep up with the flying, flipping, fighting Fishermen, but they never stopped trying.

Johansen Has His Turn at Limelight

All through the tournament there has been on the Astoria starting lineup a slight built blond named Wallace Johansen. Most of the time he was not much in the public eye. Sarpola was the big shot. But last night Wally Johansen came into his own. He was class with a capital K last night. He scored 13 points. He was everywhere and everything.

It was Wally Johansen who dropped in a free throw to break the 8 to 8 deadlock which was the score at the end of the first period. Seconds later he sank a field goal and from then on it was clear sailing for the Fishermen who went down to the sea in battle cruisers with vengeance and Johansen.

Up to the end of the first quarter Astoria was just getting started. Selberg, Jones and Baughman kept Jefferson coming all the time. When, just as they had drawn away from Oakridge after going even for a period, the Fishermen were away. At halftime they led 26 to 13. By the close of the third period it was 34 to 20.

Baughman, although closely checked by Kokko, scored nine points for Jefferson. Hergert, who was everywhere and everything, was able to account for only two field goals and two free throws.

Salem Puts Up Its Best Game of Year

Salem high played its greatest game of the season as Brown, Salstrom and Quesseth to defeat an Oakridge team that was tired after playing three wearing games.

It was a startling Salem aggregation that upset the much-boostered dope bucket last night and no Salem fans were crying over spill dope.

The pony express was back in style last night and Salstrom and Quesseth, midget sharpshooters, were putting out the best they knew and the best was good enough to beat Oakridge with two all-state players on it.

No pony express was Brown, Salstrom, collected through the medium of 110 field goals and 32 gift shots. He was followed by Burrell Webb with 229 counters, 103 field goals and 23 free throws. Both boys were named on the district all-star team.

The individual scoring standings, as compiled by the statisticians, are:

Rosson to Negotiate With Callison For New Contract Despite Rumors of Shakeup

EUGENE, Ore., March 23.—(AP)—Graduate Manager Hugh Rosson tonight announced that the University of Oregon student executive council authorized him to negotiate for a new contract with Prince Callison, head football coach whose resignation had been strongly rumored.

Rosson said the results of his negotiations with Callison would be presented to the executive council at the start of the next term for consideration. Confirmation of any coaching appointment must be made by the state board of higher education after the associated students have made their decision.

Source close to the faculty and the executive council of students today revealed that dissatisfaction with Callison's administration had been carried to the council. However his teams have ranked well above 500 per cent in the win column and his 1933 Webfoots were co-champions of the Pacific coast conference.

"The whole coaching situation at the university was carefully gone over by the executive council yesterday and today, and as a result I have been empowered to negotiate with Callison on a contract for the coming year," Rosson stated.

"Since Bill Reinhart (basketball and baseball coach) announced his intention of leaving early this week, there has been felt a need for adjusting the present set-up with an eye to the future.

"The executive council has gone over the matter exhaustively and I may say that we see a definite need for a freshman sport coach here."

Reinhart resigned to accept an important coaching position with George Washington university. It was intimated there would be certain changes in Callison's new contract, rather than simple renewal of the old year-to-year document. Rosson pointed out that changes may be made in the physical education department teaching assignments as a result of Reinhart's departure and intimated that this may play a part in his negotiations with Callison.

Stacey Hall And Reed to Vie Tuesday

Stacey Hall, wrestling Olohan, who has turned Oregonian, will meet Robin Reed in the one-hour main event of the American Legion's wrestling show at the armory Tuesday night.

Hall, a former college and amateur star, has won popular approval since joining the Herb Owen circuit and will doubtless have the crowd with him when he attempts to tie up the wily Robin Reed.

Reed is well-known as an unscrupulous ring clown who puts on one of the best shows of the "meanies."

Walter "Sneeze" Achiu, popular Chinese grappler, will tangle with Del Kunkle of Salt Lake, Eugene and Portland, in the semi-windup event. Kunkle is one of the best of the middleweights while Achiu is an experienced grappler with plenty of mat tricks.

DALLAS FORWARD IS HIGH POINT WINNER

DALLAS, March 23.—Jay Pleasant, hard fighting forward on Coach Orville Bailey's basketball squad, was the scoring ace of the team, according to figures just released. His total was 252 points, collected through the medium of 110 field goals and 32 gift shots. He was followed by Burrell Webb with 229 counters, 103 field goals and 23 free throws. Both boys were named on the district all-star team.

The individual scoring standings, as compiled by the statisticians, are:

LITHIANS TAKE FOURTH PLACE

Trounce Pelicans 51 to 17; Benson Fifth by Win Over Corvallis

Playing the kind of basketball that made southern Oregon think Ashland was headed for a state championship, Don Faber's Lithians ran up the biggest score of the tournament yesterday to defeat Klamath Falls 51 to 17 and win themselves fourth place in state standings.

It was Ashland unlimited yesterday as Hardy sank field goals and free throws to total 21 points for a tie with Bill O'Donnell of Columbia as high scorer in any one game. Hardy was death on free throws and took great advantage of the large number of personal fouls called on Ashland.

Until late in the second period he never missed a free throw. Until he missed he had a record of 18 successful free throws in succession during the tournament.

The game equalled the Astoria-Klamath Falls game as a free-throwing contest with 30 personal fouls called. Klamath Falls played the last few minutes with only four men on the floor although Coach Faber of Ashland requested that the Pelicans be allowed to use five men.

In a tedious contest that saw very little scoring Benson played a methodical passing game to defeat Corvallis 24 to 13. The win gave Benson the fifth place trophy.

Corvallis was not at all in form and scored but two field goals, both by All Sandoz, during the whole game. Benson held at 19 to 5 halftime lead.
