Playing of older students reflected careful technical and artistic training as did the younger ones in their natural ingenuous manner. Aumsville.—The women's club were guests Thursday of Mrs. John Ransom at Shelburn. Special guests present were Mrs. D. W. Lamb, Mrs. Oglesby and Mrs. Ada Swank Wells of Los Angeles, a past president of the club. Mrs. Eidon Cone was voted into membership.

OREGON'S WONDERS STRESSED IN TALK

Some of the glories of Oregon, pictured in his own infinitesimal fashion, were brought to the chamber of commerce luncheon meeting yesterday noon by Frank Branch Riley, who linked with his theme of bringing tourists to Oregon, an explanation of the national housing campaign.

Calling this section nature's art gallery, Riley told how Oregon home owners may take advantage of the housing act not only to put men to work or to drag idle dollars from the banks, but also to put man-made attractions more on a par with the God-made beauties of Oregon.

ROLLINS RUNSTOP HOISERY

Riley told numerous anecdotes from his travels over the nation—travels designed to beckon tourists to Oregon.

"I find the man in the east with money or capital is not at all intrigued with industries or business here. He comes first to play golf, and it's a 'screw' game," Riley said in emphasizing the fact that the easterner—who thinks of the Ohio river as the western outpost—comes to Oregon and the coast first on a holiday. Once here, the trained business man becomes interested in industry and possibilities as a future home.

Tourists, Riley finds, long also for the romantic in their travels, and he pointed out that markers, monuments and other devices to spread the story of those romances of early Oregon history and legends should be encouraged.

Doctor's Urge a New Laxative Deal for Children!

Deplore the Giving of Children Laxatives More Sued to Adults!

This thing of giving children adults' laxatives is all wrong, say doctors. They warn it may lead to trouble.

A child is a child, we must keep in mind, and what may be perfectly suitable to a grown person may be entirely too strong for a child. It's safe to say that almost any laxative that causes a child pain or discomfort is too drastic for him.

Reducing the dose doesn't necessarily make a laxative safe for a child. What a child needs is expressly a laxative made for him, a Children's Laxative! This is common sense. It is safety for the child.

Takes Into Account the Delicacy of a Child's Organs

California Syrup of Figs is pleasantly a child's laxative. It's prepared especially for children. It takes into account the delicacy of their organs and their particular needs.

California Syrup of Figs is wholly vegetable, the first requirement in a children's laxative. It contains no chemicals. It is made of elixir of senna and the syrup of California figs.

Senna, as you know, is a plant leaf of natural laxative properties and harmless. Fig Syrup, as you are also aware, is a delicious and wholesome product. The two—senna and fig syrup—combine to make California Syrup of Figs a splendid laxative preparation for children. California Syrup of Figs works gently, but thoroughly. It induces a complete and easy bowel movement without discomfort on the part of the child. It causes no gripping or cramps and does not leave the child weakened. So smoothly does it work, in fact, that a child scarcely realizes he has taken a laxative. That's the action you want, Mother—thorough, but easy!

Non-Habit Forming

California Syrup of Figs is absolutely non-habit forming, another vital consideration in the case of a child's laxative. You can give it whenever needed without fear of it becoming a necessity.

California Syrup of Figs is also pleasant to take. Children actually enjoy it. You don't have a battle on your hands every time you want to give it to your child.

For years California Syrup of Figs has been recommended for children by physicians. They declare it a laxative to be given children from the age of infancy to fifteen. Let it be the laxative you give your child, Mother, and know that you have the medical profession on your side.

All drug stores sell California Syrup of Figs. The package or the price isn't fancy, but the product's right, and that's what counts! Get a bottle today and see how truly it proves itself the children's laxative. Be sure to ask for it by the full name—California Syrup of Figs.

379 STATE ST. SALEM

Laura Wheeler Applique Quilt

Soon now, you will be busily planting seeds and thinking of the profusion of flowers to come. And while you are doing that, you can have lovely flowers growing on your quilt, if you choose this Morning Glory Applique quilt. There are only three patches on each block. You can do the flowers in two colors or in two shades of one color; you can make them the same throughout or different, using up your scraps of material. The leaf, of course, should be green in every block. The block would also make attractive cushions or motifs on scarfs or other linens. And then you could make pillow cases to match the quilt, using the Morning Glory motif at the center of the edge.

Pattern 919 comes to you with complete, simple instructions for cutting, sewing and finishing, together with yardage chart, diagram of quilt to help arrange the blocks for single and double bed size, and a diagram of block which serves as a guide for placing the patches and suggests contrasting materials.

Send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) for this pattern to The Oregon Statesman, Salem, Oregon.
