

Comedy Tells Experiences of Butler Exposed to Democracy

GERVAIS CLASSES ENJOY BANQUET

GERVAIS, April 6.—Places were marked for 42 at the Junior-Senior class banquet given at the auditorium Thursday night. Baskets of daffodils and wild flowers were used as table decorations and Eastern favors completed the decorative motif. A short program was given: Raymond Kuhn, junior class president, extended greetings and Leo Hawley, senior class president, responded. The senior class will be read by Mary Miller and the senior class prophecy, by Iris Cutsforth. Esther Clark gave two popular musical numbers and Joe Bonn gave a harmonica number. Raymond Jefferson, as toastmaster, called on the teachers who responded. Mrs. Joe Kuhn, Mrs. Herman Jelders, Mrs. J. A. Ferschweiler, Mrs. R. C. Jefferson and Mrs. Fred Manning cooked the dinner and the sophomore girls served. The high school teachers this year are J. H. Timbleson, principal; Howard Tong, athletic coach; Miss Wilhelm, Miss Rickman and Mrs. Mochel. Miss Wilhelm is Junior class adviser. Members of the senior class are Iris Cutsforth, Betty Cutsforth, Paul Bonn, Glen Lucas, Donald Smith, Larry Susee, Lloyd Francis, Mary Miller, Martha Hart, Esther Clark, Luella Berning, Erma DeJardin, Clyde Bliven, Ellen Vinton, Leo Howley. The juniors are Harold Baitweber, Prosper Berling, Joseph Bonn, Donald DuRette, Irene Ferschweiler, Mary Ferguson, Dorothy Hannezan, Joseph Henry, Genevieve Jelders, Celia Jefferson, Raymond Jefferson, Myrtle Kurre, Constance Manning, Rose Miller, Joseph Pfau, James Phillips, Orville Ruge, Betty Stubblefield, John Short, Alice Turner.

"Ruggles of Red Gap" at Elsinore Memorable Play; Laughton Takes Lead Role

The amusing account of what happens to a perfect English butler-valet when he is exposed to American ideas of democracy is the plot and story of Paramount's "Ruggles of Red Gap," which comes today to the Elsinore theatre with Charles Laughton in the title role.

The picture, adapted from Harry Leon Wilson's famous story, first published in the Saturday Evening Post, features Mary Boland, Charlie Ruggles, Roland Young, Zasu Pitts and Leila Hyams in support of Laughton. "Ruggles" adventures begin when his titled master loses him to an American tourist and his wife in a poker game. On his first day in his new job, Ruggles takes his exuberant master out to view London's art galleries and winds up with him in a drunken spree.

Beatrice Weigel, Leila Wood, Halie Anne Hudson.

LADIES' AID MEETS

The Ladies' Aid meet at the home of Mrs. Justin Rowland as joint hostess. Rev. Kimball Clark gave a short talk and Miss Zelma Allen pleased with a reading. Dainty refreshments were served.

BAND TO APPEAR

STAYTON, April 6.—The Stayton Juvenile Harmonica band and the Community Choral club under the direction of Mrs. Jessie Chandler, will make their first appearance in public Friday night, April 12, at 8 p. m., at the Grange hall.

Back to Red Gap, U. S. A., a crude but stimulating western town of the 1890's, goes "Ruggles" with his American employers. And, when his master introduces him to the society big-wigs of Red Gap as a colonel of the English army, "Ruggles" becomes the social favorite of the town.

"Ruggles" former master turns up in Red Gap to find a completely altered butler who engineers his lordship into a romance with a lovely American lady.

Finally, "Ruggles" himself finds romance with the town's leading widow and becomes the town's leading restaurateur.

Maude Elburge and Lucien Littlefield, both veterans of the stage and screen, are prominently cast in supporting roles. Leo McCarey, recognized throughout filmdom for his comedy work, directed "Ruggles of Red Gap."

Christening Held for Carol Wachter, Mt. Angel Church

MT. ANGEL, April 6.—Christening services for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. L. Wachter were held in St. Mary's church, Thursday afternoon. Rev. Alcuin Heibel, O. S. B., officiating. The child, born March 23, was named Carol Jo-leen. Leo and Lauretta Schwab acted as godparents.

Mrs. Christine Eberle, who suffered a severe heart attack late Wednesday afternoon and was in a very serious condition for a time, is reported much improved.

Gay Belle!

Mary Boland plays a lady of fashion in the gasty 1900's in "Ruggles of Red Gap." A varied program is planned for the style show Monday night at the Elsinore.

Rev. Augustine Schoenbecher, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart parish in Tillamook, visited at St. Mary's rectory and at the Abbey, Wednesday and Thursday.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

ELDRIDGE, April 5.—Mrs. Fred Viesco underwent a major operation Thursday at the Salem General hospital.

CLUB TRAVELOGUE TOUCHES NEW YORK

HAYESVILLE, April 6.—The Hayesville Woman's club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Williams, Tamarack street, Salem, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. Teal was assistant hostess.

In the travelogue the club members have been taking this winter, the members left the boat at New York, and for roll call each member told of some place of interest which could be seen in or near the city.

Mrs. H. Robertson read a paper on Cuba. The following guests were present: Mrs. Kenneth Talmadge, Mrs. Clyde Crawford, Frances Marshall, Vivian Williams and Mrs. Emma Davis.

There are two more meetings before the annual luncheon. At present, in the roll call contest, Mrs. David Willis' side is four ahead of Mrs. Perkins' side. The losing side will give the luncheon to the winning side at the last meeting.

The radish seed to be used for spring planting was distributed Wednesday. Five varieties are being planted this year as follows: scarlet globe, Cincinnati market, early scarlet turnip, rose China winter and sparlers. In all about one hundred acres will be planted as soon as weather permits.

In spite of the chilly winds, and snows on distant mountains, spring signs continue to appear. The humming birds can be seen flitting around the drooping cherries and flowering quince. Flocks of meadow larks are stopping for a short rest on the migratory journeys. Other brightly colored birds, foreign to the locality, may be seen.

Alice George has passed the medical examinations successfully.

and has been admitted to the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland.

All-Day Meeting of Waconda Club

WACONDA, April 6.—Mrs. Fern Runcora entertained members of the Waconda Community club at an all-day meeting Wednesday. Present were Mesdames Frank Thompson, C. C.
