

SECURITY BILL PASSES HOUSE

Only 33 Oppose Upon Final Vote After Long Fight Over Amendments

stayed in line, and smashed that motion under a 253 to 146 majority.

In the discard—for the rest of this congress, administration leaders said—were such well-known old-age pension plans as the Townsend, Pope and Lundeen. The Townsend and Lundeen plans were rejected as amendments, and supporters of the Pope plan decided not to offer it and take a hitching.

There was little serious fighting today. Only 16 amendments were proposed and only one, which had the approval of the democratic ways and means committee, was adopted. It was not significant.

Machine Well Oiled Oregon Man Chides

As the final vote approached, Representative Mott (R-Ore.), chidingly complimented the democratic chiefs who had put the bill through without a single change not accepted by the leaders.

"I have never seen a machine so well oiled," he said.

Loud yells and applause from the democratic side answered. "Although this bill is inadequate, since it is all we will have, I intend to vote for it."

Loud hurrahs, followed by laughing boos greeted his remark that in Oregon, as in most normal republican states, there already are old-age pension plans.

In the form in which it passed the house, the bill would:

1. Authorize an appropriation of $49,750,000 next fiscal year, and as much as was necessary thereafter, for grants to states which pay pensions to persons who have reached 65. The federal contribution, on a dollar-for-dollar matching basis, would be limited to 15%.
2. Levy taxes, beginning January 1, 1937, on payrolls and incomes for repayment to workers as annuities after they reach 65. The taxes start at 1 per cent each on employe and employe, and rise 1/2 per cent a year every three years to 7 per cent each in and after 1949.
3. Put a tax on the payrolls of all employes with 10 or more workers. That would start at 1 per cent on January 1, 1936, and increase to 3 per cent January 1, 1938. From the federal tax, an employe could deduct up to 90 per cent of what he had paid to a state unemployment insurance fund, but expenditure of the money would be left almost entirely up to the states.
4. Make smaller appropriations for federal aid to states which give assistance to dependent and crippled children, to mothers, and to persons injured in industry.
5. Authorize additional expenditures for public health work.

Actuaries estimated that the tax for old-age annuities would be $560,200,000 in 1938, and increase gradually to $1,877,200,000 in 1950. They calculated the unemployment insurance levy would bring in $501,000,000 in 1938 and $906,000,000 in 1950.

Mickey Mouse Club Notes

M.M.C.

Look what's happening today—on the stage the "Alpine Melodiers", a group of Swiss entertainers presenting songs and dances of their native country. All in costume, and it's lots of fun. The special feature is Charles Ruggles and Mary Boland in "The Night of June 13th," and chapter eleven of Johnny Mack Brown in "Rustlers of Red Dog". The regular feature is a luff fest—Bill Gargan, Hugh Herbert, and Joan Blondell in "Traveling Saleslady". Remember you must have your parents' permission to stay and see the regular feature, although the one this aff is suitable for the entire family.

M.M.C.

Draw a rabbit and bring it to the matinee this afternoon and you may win one of the several prizes. There's a prize for each age division.

Well, let's try something different in these Notes... here's a few letters...

M.M.C.

"My birthday is August 24th. I will be 12. Will you tell me if I have a twin? Please play a number for my sister. We come to your show each Saturday and certainly enjoy the show and the contests."

"Ruby Rose Schultz, 1489 Mission St."

"The last time I wrote you a letter, you read it on the stage. Was I embarrassed? Some things I said I wanted to be read by you alone, not to all the audience. The trouble of it was that I signed my name, and I sort of got into a mess with some of the singlets I criticized. So no more criticizing or signing my name for me, thank you."

"Marie Stutesman and Curt Williams have wonderful voices. They are much better than any I have ever heard at Mickey Mouse."

"I think you have improved your stage shows a lot. Especially the one two weeks ago. Oh! I just remembered you weren't there. Please don't mention my name."

"Doris Hartman, 4 Ewald Ave."

ROAD ALLOCATIONS HEARING IS SLATED

Over 11 Millions Federal Highway Funds up For Oregon Projects

Requests from county delegations and others who desire to participate in the recent allocation of $11,500,000 of federal highway funds to Oregon, will be received at a public hearing to be held in Portland next Wednesday, E. R. Baldoek, state highway engineer, announced yesterday.

The hearing is in line with a request made by Henry F. Cabell, new state highway commission chairman, at the last meeting of the commission in Portland a week ago. County allotments, and the projects to be included in the state's federal aid program, will not be announced until the formal regulations are received from Washington.

Preliminary reports received from federal officials indicated that approximately $3,000,000 of the total allotment would be set aside for the elimination of hazardous grade crossings. Douglas county already has filed application for the removal of three of these crossings during the current year.

None of the funds to be received under the allocation will have to be matched by the state, according to information received by highway department officials. Baldoek said a large number of projects would be included in the federal highway program and that virtually every county in the state would receive recognition.

Dr. White, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's hospital, Washington, spoke before the New York Academy of Medicine.

The hypothetical question—frequently highly involved and technical—asked psychiatric experts in placing their opinions of the defendant's sanity into the record, particularly was criticized by the physician, who said:

"The hypothetical question asks something about an individual who does not exist, never has existed, and from the constitution of most questions never could exist."

METHOD OF SANITY TESTING CRITICIZED

NEW YORK, April 19.—(AP)—Antiquated rules for testing a defendant's legal sanity, Dr. William Alanson White, a noted psychiatrist, said tonight, have made criminal court actions "the trial of a ghost that stalks across the stage in this dramatic procedure" instead of the trial of a human being.

Dr. White, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's hospital, Washington, spoke before the New York Academy of Medicine.

The hypothetical question—frequently highly involved and technical—asked psychiatric experts in placing their opinions of the defendant's sanity into the record, particularly was criticized by the physician, who said:

Cooke Purchase Of Patton Store Shown in Record

Purchase of the goods, furniture and fixtures of the Patton book store, 240 State street, by James L. Cooke, is made known in orders in probate court yesterday which authorize a 5-year lease of the room and store now occupied by Cooke.

One order, in the Hal D. Patton estate which owns a third of the building, approves rental of the store space from April 15, this year, to April 15, 1937, at $100 monthly and at $125 monthly for the remaining three years. A similar order is recorded in estate of Lillian E. McCully, which estate also owns a portion of the building.

Hearing Called Monday on Rail Rates Question

A hearing will be held in Portland Monday, in connection with the application of Oregon railroads to place in operation certain intrastate freight charges similar to those approved by the interstate commerce commission last September. The rates approved by the interstate commerce commission on interstate shipments were restricted to the remainder of the year 1935 and the first six months of 1936.

The hearing will be conducted by A. S. Harvey, special rate examiner for the state utilities commission.

United Mothers' Peace Movement Sponsoring Dance

The United Mothers' World Peace Movement, Inc., will sponsor a dance at the Crystal Gardens here Monday night, April 20, as part of the state-wide move to raise funds for a six-day pageant to be held in Portland in August, Kelsey Devlin, Portland, stated while here yesterday making preliminary arrangements for the dance.

Boots Grant and his band will play for the dance, which is one of a series being held in every principal town in the state on that night for the same cause.

The United Mothers' World Peace movement was originated in Portland by Caroline M. Stafford, who felt the need of organizing all women into one federated organization to establish world peace. Headquarters are in Portland.

HATCHERY MAN DROWNS

LONGVIEW, Wash., April 19.—(AP)—With the hands tied behind the back by a rope which looped around the neck and a heavy sledge hammer attached, the body of R. C. Plumb, 50, supervisor of the state fish hatchery on the Lewis river, was found in a feeding pool near the hatchery late today.

LEGION AWARD FOR BOY IS ANNOUNCED

DALLAS, April 19.—At the regular meeting of the American Legion Thursday night, S. E. Whitworth announced that he had appeared before the Dallas, Falls City and Ricksall schools and spoken about the school award made annually by the legion to the best all around boy in each school.

William Blackley, chairman of the junior baseball stated that an all star game would take place May 24. The Sunday before Memorial day a detail from the post will go to the cemetery and clean up all graves of soldiers who do not have any one here to do so. A committee of Jack Eakin, S. E. Whitworth, H. H. Rich and Fred Stinette, post commander will have charge of program and parade arrangements for Memorial day.

The annual dress up party of the auxiliary and post will be preceded by a covered dish dinner the evening of Thursday, May 2.

The post has gone over the top in its membership drive, with a total of 64 members and an increase of 19 over last year.

More Nomination Petitions Filed, Student Offices

Names of three Salem high school boys were added by petition yesterday to the list of nominees selected for student body offices Thursday. Principal Fred D. Wolf announced. They are: Well-leader, James Sehon; sergeant-at-arms, Glen Luther, and forensic manager, Paul Sams.

The students have until Tuesday night to submit further nominations by petition. The election will be held in mid-May.

Unknown Woman Dies; Denatured Alcohol Blamed

PORTLAND, Ore., April 19.—(AP)—An unidentified woman died at a hospital here tonight from what Dr. J. J. Sellwood diagnosed as an overdose of denatured alcohol.

This was the 23rd "dehorn" death here since December 11. The woman was slight of build, weighing only 90 pounds. She was about 30 to 35. Her hair was dyed red and tinged with gray. She was found unconscious lying on the sidewalk in front of a residence.

Church Release As Davis Estate Trustee Granted

Upon petition of the board of trustees of the First Christian church of Turner, that church has been released as trustee for the estate of Cornelia A. Davis, the estate of Cornelia A. Davis, a corporation, has been appointed trustee.

The petition, signed by William Butzke, president, and Fred D. Brown, secretary of the board of trustees, states that contention among members of the church arose over the trust and that the present pastor is opposed to the church acting as trustee, and that the church's best interests would be served by its release as trustee.

Permits to Wed Are Sought Here By Two Couples

Two couples sought marriage licenses from the county clerk here yesterday.

Darwin W. Calfee, 24, 1510 North Church, salesman, sought permission to wed Cleo Ellis, 21, Aumsville, housekeeper. The wedding is slated for Easter Sunday.

Theodore Damm, legal, route one, farmer, asked license to wed Irene E. O'Leary, legal, 116 Marston, registered nurse, with the ceremony set for April 24.

Teachers Favor 12 Month Basis

Salem public school teachers by a large majority favor receiving their salaries on a 12 instead of a 9 months' basis, M. J. Elle, president of the Salem Teachers' association announced yesterday. The vote, taken in questionnaire form, at the annual meeting Tuesday, showed 90 favoring and 26 opposing the 12 months' plan, he said. It is understood the school board would have no objection to the change. It would entail added work at the clerk's office in making out summer payrolls.

RED CROSS TO AID VETS WITH CLAIMS

World War veterans having difficulties with their compensation claims, may turn to the American Red Cross for assistance, according to John N. Zydeman, who is serving as liaison representative between the veterans' administration and the Red Cross in Oregon and Washington. Zydeman, with offices in the veterans' administration quarters at Portland and Seattle, has all administration records at his disposal to aid him in validating both new and old claims, he said, and many calls for this service are being made.

In cases where information is needed from remote parts of the country to assist a veteran in making his claim good, Zydeman is able to have the Red Cross chapters everywhere ferret out the needed facts, he pointed out. Requests for this claim service may be made through the Marion county Red Cross chapter office, room 9, Breyman-Bush building, Salem.

Kingwood Legion Invites Children To Easter Event

All children who can get to West Salem at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon were invited by Kingwood post, American Legion, yesterday to join in the post's Easter egg hunt. James Mitchell, post commander and hunt chairman, said the search would start at the Randall drugstore. From there the legionnaires will take the children to the scene of the hidden eggs.

More than 1000 candy eggs will have been secreted in the hunt area, Mitchell said. In addition prizes are being offered.

The post auxiliary, of which Mrs. Jack Bohning is president, is assisting in plans for the event.

Dendrometers attached to the trunk of citrus trees are used to record the radial growth of trees to determine whether the growth occurs at the same time as that of the branches.
