

Several Old Favorites Among Film Folk Here This Week

'INTO YOUR DANCE' EL SINORE FEATURE

Ruby Keeler and Al Jolson Star Together First Time; Gay Musical

Night life is night life in any language, but every nationality and every city insists that it be presented in a different style.

Art Director John Hughes made this discovery when he started research on the subject before designing the night club sets in the first National picture, "Go Into Your Dance", which comes to the Elsinore theatre on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, co-starring Ruby Keeler and Al Jolson.

Jolson and Miss Keeler are starred together for the first time in "Go Into Your Dance", the latest First National musical spectacle. Others in the all star cast include Glenda Farrell, Helen Morgan, Barton MacLane, Sharon Lynne, Patsy Kelly, Benny Rubin and Gordon Westcott.

The screen play by Earl Baldwin is based on a story by Bradford Ropes. Dances in which scores of beautiful girls take part were staged by Bobby Connolly with music and lyrics by Harry Warren and Al Dubin.

Never before has a moving picture shown such a variety of night clubs and cabarets as will be seen in "Go Into Your Dance", and that's because the authors of this film have seen fit to start their story on one side of the continent and then send it whizzing overland to the opposite seacoast.

Romance at Its Best—at State

Anne Shirley plays Anne Shirley in "Anne of Green Gables" which is at the State theatre today. Tom Brown takes the role of Gilbert Blythe, and here they are in one of many scenes that will recall the story to those who have read the book.

Al And Ruby Star at Elsinore

They've had a tough time getting Ruby Keeler and her hubby Al Jolson together in one picture—but here they are in "Go Into Your Dance", which opens at the Elsinore today.

"County Chairman" at Hollywood

Will Rogers presides, somewhat quizzically, over the romance of Kent Taylor and Evelyn Venable in "The County Chairman" which is at the Hollywood.

FAIRGROUNDS TO BE SCENE OF PLAY DAY

Sponsors of Marion county's first annual play day and music festival for grade schools throughout the county were greatly cheered this week by word from Solon T. White, new head of the state agriculture department, that the state fairgrounds could be used as the center of the festival which will attract hundreds of school children.

Under the direction of Miss Gretchen Kreamer, head of music in the public schools here, singing of a number of songs in which every student at the festival will participate, is planned as one feature of the gathering.

The sports events will include a track meet and kitball contest, the latter deciding the championship of the grade schools of the county.

Grade school principals met here last night with Mrs. Mary L. Fulkerson, county school superintendent, to make additional plans for the festival.

BAFFLING MYSTERY COMES TO CAPITOL

A new and baffling mystery thriller, "The Case of the Curious Bride", a First National picture screened under the auspices of the Clue Club, opens Sunday at the Capitol theatre, with Warren William and Margaret Lindsay in the featured roles.

The picture, based on the popular story by Erle Stanley Gardner, is another of the exploits of Perry Mason, brilliant criminal lawyer and detective.

The story deals with the "curious bride", who weds a wealthy youth, believing her first husband to be dead. The first husband, however, had fooled the authorities by slipping a wooden casket into a store Indian into a casket, and after his wife's second marriage, turned up to blackmail her.

When he is suddenly slain,

James Dunn and Alice Faye get along well together in "George White's 1935 Scandals," as you can tell from this picture. The show is at the Grand.

Margaret Lindsay and Warren William are scared. It's a scene from "The Curious Bride," mystery play which opens today at the Capitol.

'SCANDALS' COMING TO GRAND THEATRE

James Dunn, comedian by nature and preference, is one of the principals in Fox Film's sparkling, all-star musical picture, "George White's 1935 Scandals", which is hailed as the last word in musical screen entertainment. It comes Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to the Grand theatre.

Singers, dancers and entertainers, all stage and screen topnotchers bestar the new Fox Film super-entertainment, "George White's 1935 Scandals". They include Alice Faye, James Dunn, Ned Sparks, Lydia Robert, Cliff Edwards, Arline Judge, Eleanor Powell, Emma Dunn, Benny Rubin, George White, in addition to having conceived, produced, and directed the entire production, appears in the cast.

The 1935 Scandals, said to be more colorful than the first edition, has a stellar cast composed of stage and screen celebrities.

The entire musical extravaganza was conceived, produced and directed by George White.

Among the hit tunes specially composed for the new "Scandals" are: "According to the Moonlight", "Hunkadoola", "Oh, I Didn't Know (You'd Get That Way)", "It's An Old Southern Custom", "I Got Shoes, You Got Shoes", "I Was Born Too Late". They were created by Jack Yellen, Herb Magidson, Joseph Meyer and Cliff Friend.

When Mayor Juan Posadas, Jr., of Manila, P. I., recently asked the municipal board to appoint him "traffic dictator" so he could untangle the city's many traffic problems, the board promptly said "No".
