Everything you want in a modern motor car

When you talk to the man who owns and drives the car, you're pretty sure to get an opinion you can bank on. We asked a recent purchaser of a Ford V-8 how he liked it.

"It has everything," he said. "Everything I've ever wanted in a motor car."

Nothing spectacular about that-no loud shouting. But it sums up the whole story of the Ford V-8 and the reason it is setting the pace for 1935. That has been the Ford idea always-to give people a well-balanced, all-around car. No one feature is stressed at the expense of others.

Of course the V-8 engine stood out from the beginning. The idea of putting into a low-priced with the most expensive makes was new and revolutionary. But it was not an experiment. We knew it would prove to be economical as well as smooth and powerful-because we had tested it.

In this 1935 Ford we have tried to bring the entire car up to the modern performance of the V-8 engine. We have aimed for beauty and balance and comfort-as well as usefulness and economy. You probably know some people who are driving this car. We would like to have you ask them how they like it.
