

TAX FORECLOSURE CHANGES OUTLINED

Extension Granted, Sale of Certificates Forbidden After June 12, Word

Major changes in Oregon's laws relating to tax collections and foreclosures were summarized here yesterday by L. E. Neet, who has charge of the tax department at the courthouse under the direction of A. C. Burk, sheriff.

A two-year extension of the time for tax foreclosures is now effective, the county not being permitted to take property for taxes before five years have elapsed from the date the property became delinquent. Thus 1931 taxes, delinquent November 6, 1932, cannot be foreclosed upon until November 6, 1937.

Effective June 12, no certificates of tax delinquency can be sold to private purchasers, the county issuing the certificates and carrying them as its own investments. Certificates will continue to bear interest at the rate of eight per cent annually.

Rebate for prompt payment of taxes will be continued in the form of a three per cent reduction for all taxpayers who pay their bill in full on or before March 15 of each year. After that time no rebate will be allowed for any tax payments made on the current taxes. Under the existing law a rebate is allowed for each quarter's tax anticipated.

Effective with the collection of 1936 taxes, all interest will be retained for the general fund of the county while all rebates paid will be deducted from this fund. Under the present arrangement, which was extended to 1931 and 1932 taxes by the last legislature, rebates are pro-rated among the tax levying bodies as their liability occurs while interest payments are similarly pro-rated to these units.

Marion county is now preparing to foreclose all taxes of 1930 and former years which have not been paid. An exception to the foreclosure will be such tax claims as have been funded in 10 semi-annual installments and where these installments have been paid as due.

THREE ARE TREATED AS RESULT MISHAPS

JEFFERSON, May 23.—Robert Royce of West Stayton dislocated his right shoulder while playing baseball across the river Sunday afternoon. Otis Hayes of Marion ran a large splinter in his hand Saturday. E. S. Bryant, who is employed on the night shift with the oil drilling crew on the Stever farm north of here, fell Saturday night and received painful but not serious injury. All three were treated by the local physician.

Mrs. Riley Gilbert and twin daughters of Chicago are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stephenson are the parents of a daughter born at their home Sunday, May 26. This is their second child.

The Epworth league of the Methodist church enjoyed a wienner roast on the gravel bar along the Santiam river Saturday night, with 21 members and guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Hutchinson and mother, Mrs. Addie Hutchinson of Bremerton, arrived in Jefferson Saturday for a visit at the J. O. Van Winkle home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson left Monday morning for Curtin for a visit with their grandmother before returning to Washington.

Confectionery Here is Bought By George Orey

Purchase of the Commercial lunch counter, confectionery and card room at 185 South Commercial street, formerly owned by Mrs. Louise Halder, was announced yesterday by George Orey of this city. The new owner took charge the first of this week.

Mrs. Halder, who has owned the business the last four years, will take a trip to San Diego, Cal., and visit there for a few weeks. She has not made her plans beyond that period, she said yesterday.

Mr. Orey has been in business in Salem for many years. Five weeks ago he sold his business on State street to Tom Holman.

Wandering Byrd Comes Back to Nest

VOCATIONAL SHOPS OPEN HOUSE TODAY

All vocational shops and other units of the department of vocational training at the high school will be open for public inspection today between 8:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. While visitors are welcomed at all times at the shops, the designation of one day for "open house" is expected to draw many friends and patrons of the schools to the high school to become acquainted with the vocational work there being done.

A course of especial interest this year is one in vocational agriculture, designed to help rural boys. Forty lads have been enrolled for this work.

At the open house today visitors may see the auto shop, machine shop and the mechanical drawing departments in regular operation. A display of wood lathes, power saws and other machines made by the students has been set up in the machine shops.

A feature of the day will be a visit paid to the shops by boys from the ninth grade of the Salem schools. Many of these youths have registered for high school shop courses. The visit will be for the purpose of acquainting them with the work done in the various courses.

AIR CORPS LEADER HERE ON VACATION

Captain Dwight B. Schanep, operations officer of the second wing, United States air corps, arrived in Salem yesterday, accompanied by his wife and child, to spend a number of weeks' vacation from his work at Langley Field, Virginia. A large portion of the vacation of the visitors will be spent with the captain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Schanep, 1566 Court street.

Captain Schanep was graduated from West Point in 1929. He did his aviation work at March Field, Calif., and became an aviator late in 1930. For two years he was stationed in the canal zone.

Captain Schanep received his present rank this spring when formation of the General Headquarters air force gave him opportunity to become a member of that department of the air service.

For the past three years the captain has accumulated his annual leave of absence, and with the result he now has three months away from his post of duty. He drove west with his family from Virginia.

The family home of Mrs. Schanep, whose name was Louise Quimm when she resided in Salem, is now at Grants Pass, and the captain and his family will spend a portion of their vacation visiting there.

Loucks Gives Third Baccalaureate Talk to Seniors of Scio

SCIO, May 23 — The first of the commencement activities, the baccalaureate sermon, was held at the Baptist church Sunday night. Rev. Victor Loucks, who has preached the last three baccalaureate sermons, chose "Grace and Grit" as his subject. Special musical numbers included women's quartet, a solo by Glen Thurston, and a duet, by Mrs. Victor Loucks and Mrs. Westenhoe. The entire class and the faculty were present.

Shorthand achievement awards were made Monday as follows: 80 words, Irene Palon, Melvin Holt, Emily Nadyornik and Rose Hetzendorf; 70 words, Edris Thayer; 60 words, Sylvia Fredrick.

BUDGETER RETURNS D. O. Hood, state budget director, returned yesterday after a month spent at San Francisco and other California cities. Hood said he would spend approximately half of his time in Salem.

Governor Backs Observance of Railroad Week

Governor Martin issued a statement Tuesday urging the citizens of Oregon to observe "railroad week," June 10 to 15, in honor of western railroads.

Railroads mentioned in the statement included the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Oregon Electric, Spokane, Portland and Seattle, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific.

Governor Martin declared that the railroads had paid heavy taxes, employed a large number of men and women, and had reduced their fares with resultant heavy travel to the Pacific coast.

The travel conveniences and comforts made possible by the railroads were stressed in the governor's statement.

M'INTIRE FUNERAL IS SLATED TODAY

Pressing business at the national capitol will prevent Dr. Ross T. McIntire, personal physician to President Roosevelt, from attending funeral services here for his mother, Mrs. Addie F. McIntire, 74, who died at the residence, 140 East Superior street, Monday night. He so advised a sister, Mrs. Douglas Dodd of San Francisco by telephone. Mrs. Dodd stated last night.

In addition to Mrs. Dodd, relatives coming for the funeral are Mrs. F. S. Thompson, Portland, a sister-in-law; Mrs. Olive Gilson, Lebanon, a sister, and family; Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Thompson, Hope, well, brother and sister-in-law.

Funeral services will be held today at 2 p. m. from the Clough-Barrick chapel with interment in the I.O.O.F. cemetery. Rev. J. H. McDonald will officiate.

May Festival is Set for Friday, United Brethren

A May festival will be held by the Criterion class at the Englewood United Brethren church, 17th and Nebraska, Friday night. The following program has been arranged: Piano solo, Miss Helene Price; vocal duet, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bradfield; readings, Mrs. Arthur Brown; musical selection, Mrs. Esther Ferguson; address, Lieut. Lansing of the state police; violin solo, Miss Marion Chase.

The public is invited to enjoy the evening.

Glove Plant May Be Sold Soon to Eastern Company

Sale of the Gleason Glove company plant at 1455 Oak street to the Wells-Lamont-Smith corporation of Minnesota is in the closing stages. It was learned yesterday from persons interested in the deal. The purchase price was not revealed.

Leon W. Gleason has been president and manager of the concern. The buyer is a large firm operating widely throughout the midwest, it is understood.

STAY OF MANDATE DENIED ATTACKERS

The state supreme court Tuesday denied the application of Thomas F. Black, Malcolm R. Samuelson and James Hanlon, all of Portland, for a stay of mandate, which means that they will have to go to jail pending appeal to the United States supreme court.

The three men were convicted and sentenced to serve a term of one year in the Multnomah county jail for assaulting a special police officer during the longshoremen's strike in Portland last summer. The state supreme court affirmed the conviction.

Attorneys for the defendants alleged that the sentence imposed was unreasonable and not in conformity with the testimony offered at the trial.

The supreme court reversed county circuit court in the case of C. O. Anderson, administrator of the estate of Darrel D. Johnson, deceased, vs. A. J. Johnson, involving the disposition of an estate.

HOPS COMMODITY MEASURE PASSED

(Continued from page 1) for which were distributed early this month, shows that 446 growers out of more than 900 had not voted on May 23. In Oregon, 437 growers had voted and 210 had not; in California, all but 48 growers had voted; and in Washington, out of 248 growers, only 60 had voted.

Another report on the number of ballots now in Washington, D. C., is expected within a day or two, though no indication of trend the ballots are taking will be known until all ballots to be received are in.

In a letter to Mr. Needham, Clarence F. Lee, representative from California, declared he felt the basic commodity bill would pass the house following a discussion of it in the sub-committee of the house committee on agriculture. "Reaction of the members of the sub-committee has been sympathetic to the needs of the growers," he wrote.

MOTOR OFFICE CLOSED

The Oregon State Motor association office at the Marion hotel will be closed for the remainder of the week, it was announced yesterday. Mrs. Claudia Benson, manager, is making a trip down the Oregon Coast highway with officials of the Portland office of the association, preparing for tourist travel expected this summer. The office here will be reopened Monday.

TURNER ALUMNI IN ANNUAL GATHERING

65 Graduates Attend Banquet; Elect Mrs. Edwards President

TURNER, May 23. — Turner high school alumni association, with a membership of 149, held its 20th reunion at the school house Friday. In the afternoon ball games, alumni boys beat the high school team and the Alumni girls lost to the high school girls.

A seven o'clock banquet with covers laid for 65 members and guests, was the high light of the reunion. Waldo Riches, retiring president, acted as toastmaster, calling upon a member of each class. Those responding were: Mrs. May Hadley, '15; Mrs. Della Heath, '16, of Milwaukee; Ivan Hadley, '17; Perry Baker, '19; Mrs. Evelyn Naderman '20, Salem; Helen Pettz, '21; Mrs. Evelyn Fehlen, '23, of Anaheim, Cal.; Miss Mildred Martin, '25, Salem; Vernon Coates, '26; Mrs. Doris Piser, '27, Albany; Cecil Martin, '28; Mervin Pearson, '29; Louis Fowler, '30; Russell Dunifer, '31; Mrs. Gladys Martin, '32; Miss Jessie Myers, '33; Eugene Mellis, '34; and Robert Laird, '35; who introduced members of the senior class.

The first class of 20 years ago, Mrs. May Hadley and Miss Muriel Salisbury, was especially honored. Dr. Verne Miller of Salem, member of 1923 class, gave reminiscences.

Adjournment was made to the school auditorium, where group singing, led by Mrs. May Hadley, with her piano accompaniment, was enjoyed. Miss Eleanor Moore, class of '27, of Salem, gave two solos, Mrs. Hadley, piano accompaniment; members of the graduating class were initiated into the association with Russell Dunifer who was in charge of this feature. The male members were required literally to ride the goat.

Mrs. Ethel Edwards, '25, was elected president; Dr. Verne Miller re-elected vice-president; Miss Helen Pettz, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Hazel Stewart, reporter.

MANY TRANSIENTS COMING HERE NOW

The number of transients at the federal bureau at De Minto hotel is increasing with the influx of men from the east, according to officials there. The average daily of men going through the "hotel" was run between 70 and 80 in recent days.

"Men are moving fast now," R. R. Boardman, director, reported yesterday. "We are sending all the men we can to camps for summer work. There are now 180 men in Camp Santiam at Mehama and they are doing a good job. The camp is well laid out and conducted. The men have cleared several miles of the route the North Santiam road will follow between Mehama and Mill City."

Before any of the transients go to camp, they must undergo a complete medical inspection and be vaccinated.

Experience Jobs Are Taken by 15 Seniors at H. S.

Fifteen Salem high school boys and girls, seniors in the commercial department, have taken "experience" positions with local businessmen the past two weeks. Merritt Davis, head of the department, said yesterday. The students work at selling, bookkeeping, stenography and clerking, without pay, to gain experience and to give employers the opportunity to select new employees. They spend one-half day in class and one-half day in office or store.

While as many as 40 students have been sent out to work under this program arranged by the school in other years, Davis said he considered the showing this year to be satisfactory. This week and next business or professional men needing commercial students' services may secure them by telephoning the high school, 5981.

Sale of Liquor Here Is Second Heaviest, State

Sales of hard liquors by state stores ran larger in Salem than any city in the state, Portland excluded, the first three months of 1935, according to a total obtained from the state liquor commission here yesterday. Sales for that period in the one store here aggregated $45,960. Salem was closely followed by Klamath Falls where the store did a volume of $42,544 although the population of the city is 9000 less than that of the capital city. For the entire period of 1934, Klamath Falls ran slightly ahead of Salem in total sales.

Eugene with liquor sales totaling $34,403 came next to Klamath Falls in gross business done the first three months of 1935, closely followed by Medford with aggregate sales of $31,392.
