

IDEAL DAY GREETINGS AUMSVILLE PICNIC

AUMSVILLE, June 1.—One hundred students of the local high school were taken in the school buses to Hazel Green park Thursday for the annual picnic.

The students were fortunate in having an ideal day for the outing. Boating and swimming were enjoyed by the group. A ball game was played by the boys and the men teachers, Eldon Cone and T. C. Mountain. A sumptuous luncheon including a large supply of ice cream was served at noon. Parents accompanying the young people were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Potter, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Love, Mrs. Mack, Mrs. Mountain and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wilcox.

Friday the intermediate grades sponsored by Mrs. Julia Starrett, and the seventh and eighth grades sponsored by Perry Spellbrink also spent the day at Hazel Green park for their annual picnic. A delicious luncheon was served at noon.

The primary grades spent Friday picnicking at the Higberger park here, supervised by the teacher, Eva Corser. School closed Friday with graduating exercises for the senior class at 8 p. m.

Henney Home Spot of Foresters' Gating

WOODBURN, June 1.—A large number of members of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters and their husbands motored to the home of Mrs. John Henney at Lake Labish Tuesday night where they held a business meeting with Mrs. Anna Miller, chief ranger, presiding. Mrs. V. W. Tremaine was obligated in the order and will be initiated later with a large class. Plans were made for a picnic to be held the second Sunday of July in the Silverton park.

Cards followed the business session with first prize going to Mrs. Theresa Schindler and the consolation to Mrs. Zeta Brock. Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Ward Lundy. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Stephen Bauman June 25.

ATTEND SCHOOL EXERCISES AMITY, June 1.—Mrs. Fred Newman and daughter Lois attended the commencement exercises here Wednesday night and spent Memorial with Mrs. Newman's sister, Mrs. H. J. Richter and family.

Salem to look over the city with the idea of confirming or disputing the conclusion of the enthusiastic lady on the train. He declared that, as far as he knew, she was correct.

One conclusion from the paragraphs immediately above is that Salem's beauty is an asset. In plain dollars and cents value, to say nothing of the high measure of the esthetic worth of it, Salem people may well take still greater pains in the future to make their city live up to its reputation, and improve it.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

By LILLIE L. MADSEN

THIS, as I have so often said, is the time of the year to visit gardens, a lot of gardens of all kinds. And you should carry a note book with you. A small note book carried in the handbag is perhaps the best. Particularly if it is kept in the bag until autumn. Otherwise one is so very apt to put it away for safe keeping and forget entirely where it was put.

Last Sunday at Miss Mabel Creighton's garden opening I noted some columbines that were different. You might not notice them in a mass of other columbines unless you were in particular search of something different, but when once you saw them it becomes impossible to keep your eye off them. The spurs were unusually long and the flowers were exceptionally wide. Miss Creighton tells me it is a new strain she is endeavoring to develop.

Every rose lover should take the opportunity at this time of the year and visit rose gardens. I like to add a new rose or two each fall to my garden. This past rose planting season I added Nigrette and Better Times. I didn't get them planted until quite late—some time in March—so the blooms are not as good as they will be next year. But the Better Times has lovely shaped buds and the color of the Nigrette is all that its producers claim for it. Many have seen it in the market for the first time a couple of years ago. It is beautiful. Look it up when you get into a rose garden. The buds are well shaped and the color is a bright red. If you are looking over roses with the idea of selecting a nice copper one, look up the Angela Permet. During the past week Althea Meyer, secretary at the office of the Silverton water department, has constantly had a bud vase containing Angela Permet buds from her garden and almost every customer who has entered that office has stopped to admire and to ask the names of the bud. You might, too, if you are not acquainted with it already, search out the Lulu. Its buds are among those that are outstanding for beauty of form and color.

Queries Answered

Answers to questions received this week: A fungus disease has probably attached itself to the leaves of the Madonna lily and this makes them turn brown. Mine did that a year ago, but a spraying with Bordeaux mixture seemed to check it. I have found a similar disease kills the foliage of the narcissus and that spraying will also control this.

When the tips of your weigelia die off and the foliage or new tiny shoots wilt, cut off the dead part and the wilted parts and spray with Bordeaux.

Calendar chores this week: Prune your Forsythia. Cut out several of the old stalks and any weak ones. Prune the weigelia. One of the most delightfully shaped weigelas I have seen is that on the Klein-

AINCHA GOIN' TO THE DANCE, CLARABELLE?

LAND KNOWS, I GOT TOO MUCH TROUBLE TO BE THINKIN' OF DANCIN'!

WHY, WHAT'S THE MATTER?

OH, DEAR! THE MORTGAGE ON MY HOUSE IS DUE IN ABOUT TWO MONTHS. THE BANK SAYS THEY NEED THE MONEY AND MAY NOT BE ABLE TO RENEW!

SOMETHING WILL PROBABLY TURN UP, I WOULDN'T WORRY SO SOON!

NO! Y'GOT A COUPLA MONTHS YET!

OH, DEAR, OH, DEAR! I FEAR THE WORST!

COME ON TO THE BALL—YOU'LL FEEL BETTER!

SURE! WHY BORROW TROUBLE?

ALL RIGHT, I'LL GO! BUT I KNOW I'LL HAVE A TERRIBLE TIME!

TOAR, I HATES TO GO AWAY AN' LEAVE SWEEPEA AT NIGHT. BUT I GOT TO GO SEE MR. SPINK ABOUT ME ARK—YOU TAKE GOOD CARE OF HIM. I WATCH GOOD.

THEY'S LOTSA MEAN PEOPLE ON THIS OL' EART, BUT I SUSPOSE I KIN TRUSK TOAR TO PROTECT SWEEPEA.

THEN PETE WENT BACK TO HIS LUNCHROOM—INSTEAD OF GOING IN THE FRONT—HE WENT AROUND TO THE KITCHEN—THE SHADES ALL PULLED DOWN—BUT I COULD HEAR HIM TALKING TO A MAN.

I COULDN'T HEAR PLAIN—THEY WERE WHISPERING—AFTER ABOUT TWENTY MINUTES, PETE CAME OUT ALONE AND LOCKED THE DOOR.

ALONE? WHERE WAS THE OTHER MAN?

I DON'T KNOW—PETE MIGHT HAVE LET HIM OUT THE FRONT DOOR—OR HE MIGHT BE STILL—YOU STUPID FOOL—AND LET ME THINK.

GLORYOSKY, DIXIE—WILLYA LOOK WHO'S HERE?? WALLIE IS HOME FROM HIS HUNTING-TRIP.

SO YOU'RE CASPER'S GRAND-PA GROVER? I'VE OFTEN HEARD HIM SPEAK OF YOU AND I'LL BET YOUR PROUD OF HOW WELL HE'S DONE!

CASPER, IF I HAD YOUR DOUGH I'D RETIRE—I CAN'T SEE THE SENSE OF ANYBODY WORKING WHO HAS AS MUCH MONEY AS YOU HAVE—

OH, ARE YOU GOING TO BED, GRAND-PA? GET A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP—YOU KNOW WHERE YOUR ROOM IS—

CASPER, YOU'RE NOT WORTH THIRTY CENTS, BUT I SURE MADE GRAND-PA THINK YOU'RE RICH!

YOU OVER-DID IT, COLONEL—I WANT HIM TO THINK I'M MODERATELY RICH—NOT ENORMOUSLY WEALTHY!

THE TVA GRAFT

Nobody need be surprised at the report of the comptroller-general to the effect that the TVA. Roosevelt's pet electric "yard stick" scheme, is soaked through with graft, waste and incompetence. It is the usual history of government in business.

Nobody need be surprised either that the bookkeeping has been juggled so as to charge an undue share of the cost to navigation and irrigation so as to make the electric yard stick cost about half as much as it legitimately should.

Nobody need be surprised that the personnel is loaded with many more people than needed, political hangers-on, and nobody need be surprised that high officials in the TVA have greatly overdrawn their salaries and run up enormous expense accounts. It's typical of government ownership.

Nobody need be surprised that the organization ranted enormous and elegant headquarters so far from the scene of action that they had to buy an air fleet so that they could commute back and forth. It is the way of bureaucrats.

Nobody need be surprised that the TVA paid excessive prices for materials and bought livestock for $1,000 a head that was worth less than $200. Nobody need be surprised that TVA spent over $2,000,000 illegally in its joy ride in a private tax-payer's public utilities. That's just chicken feed besides the three billion already thrown away in experimentation and the five billion about to be spread about for campaign purposes.

Picnic Marks End of School of 2 Grades of Woodburn Schools

WOODBURN, June 1.—The seventh and eighth grades held their picnics at the Paul Coleman farm and Barrett ranch respectively. Games, indoor baseball and other sports were enjoyed, after which a picnic dinner was enjoyed. The scholarships for the 4-H club summer school were announced Monday. Mary Jane Dunn was awarded the ladies' auxiliary scholarship and Glen Hermanson was awarded the American Legion scholarship. The third scholarship of one week was awarded to Viola Mills by Mr. Buchner of the First National bank.

The awarding of these scholarships is based on the following points: Scholarship, in school 1 point; general cooperation, 1; cooperation with leader, 1; cooperation with other members of the club, 1; value to school, 1; number of years in club work, 1 point for each year; number of clubs carried, 1 point for each club; prizes in local, county or state, first prize, 5 points; second prize, 4, third 3, fourth 2, fifth 1. Mary Jane Dunn rated 26 points, Viola Mills 22 and Glen Hermanson 23.

The committee for the anniversary affair includes Otto Dahl, Henry Sprinck and F. M. Powell. Out of town guests are expected.

Aumsville Seniors Win Ball Challenge

AUMSVILLE, June 1.—A ball game in response to a challenge from the senior class of the high school was held at the home of the seniors.

But one may well be surprised that the TVA officials should have charged their shortages to the alleged fact that "children had been playing with the cash register." But the whole scheme is childish and inexcusable.
