Mrs. Berry Raises 100 Chix at Least Week Without Loss

LYONS, June 3. — Mrs. George Berry has 100 white leghorn chicks. They are a week old and she hasn't lost any so far. She is raising them without hens.

Miss Constance Bodeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Bodeker of Lyons, was among those who won high honors for carrying above average grades throughout the school term. Constance finished her freshman year in the Mill City high school this week.

The new power line extension to the Bodeker and Clippell farms is completed, ready for the Mountain States company to approve and connect the current. It is expected they will send their line men out the first of the week to adjust the special voltage line from the Bodeker place to the Clippell place.

Tile Drainage is Fine Investment on Hughes Farm

The drainage paid for itself twice over with the increased returns from the first crop on a 27-acre field on Wilbur Hughes' place in the Salt Creek community of Polk county, reports J. R. Beck, county agent. Mr. Hughes laid 2500 feet of tile, and in 1934 harvested 321 sacks of oats from the field, probably the best crop it has ever yielded, he said. This year he was able to drill all but about half an acre on April 30, while in other years 10 or 12 acres could not be drilled until very late if at all.

RELIEF CANNERY TO OPERATE THURSDAY

Operation of Marion county's community cannery—the most successful of its kind run in Oregon in 1934—is to begin this Thursday noon, according to Roy Melson of the county court who had general charges of its operations last summer, in conjunction with the Marion county relief committee.

The cannery is being completely remodeled to permit 260 cans to be taken care of at each cook instead of 180 which were accommodated last season. Because of the increased facilities the cannery is expected to exceed its last year's mark of 280,000 cans put up during the summer season.

Yesterday a crew of women were preparing 1500 dozens of cans brought to the county from the self-help group at Bayoccan. Two thousand more dozens of cans are to be brought in today. The Bayoccan group takes canned tomatoes in-trade for the cans.

Cans and supplies, apart from fruit and vegetables, used in the operations of the cannery are provided by the relief committee. The Marion county court provides the canning machinery and furnishes the services of a supervisor. A
