USE CHERRY SYRUP IN MAKING TASTE

Makes Bitter Medicine Go Down Pleasantly; Cuts Cost, Announced

By H. W. BLAKESLEE ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 15 .- (AP) - Led by cherry syrup, a new sweet, the cost of taking the bad taste out of medicine is going down.

The movement is a swing back to some of the practices in grandmother's days, fostered by the American Pharmaceutical association at the meeting of the American Medical association.

Under this plan, as exhibited here, physicians can mask the horrible tastes of medicines with simple syrups at one quarter the cost of proprietary preparations commonly used.

The cherry syrup is a wine red liquid, made by crushing cherries, adding water, drawing off a clear syrup and preserving it with benzoate of soda. It is used to mask the taste of preparations used for giving lodine to children.

The taste is one of the most bitter in nature, but in the new syrup exhibited here the flavor is only that of cherry soaked in

The stock market crash furnished the entering wedge for this official move of the pharmaceutical association. It resulted in bigger sales of bromides. Their taste is cloaked with syrup in candy, but the South American licorice root, glycyrrhiza.

There are four other syrups. One is acacia, golden as honey, tasting, with the bad medicine in it, like mild lemon drops. Another is syrup of eriodictyon, or syrup of the "saintly herb."

Eriodictyon is a resinous substance from the yerba santa, which grows in the southwestern United States, a 1 gets its saintly name from the fact that its use as a medicine goes far back in history. It is widely distributed over the world.

The saintly herb syrup masks quinine and the worst of all bitter tastes, that of strychnine.

The third is syrup of cinna-mon, used to cover the bad taste of the calicylates which are given for rheumatic troubles. Fourth is syrup of raspberry. It wipes out the extremely salty and the sour

LOVELOCK WINNER BUT TIME IS SLOW

PALMER STADIUM, Princeton, N. J., June 15-(AP)-The slim, ourly-haired boy from far-off New Zealand, John Edward "Jack" Lovelock, handed everyone but old Pop Time a handsome beating today as the shadows crept over the sunbaked home stretch of the Tiger track and some 35,000 shirt-sleeved spectators roared tremendous acclaim.

Re-asserting his supremacy over the world's greatest milers, after a two-year interval, Lovelock captured the widely - heralded "mile of the century" under wraps. He failed to come even close to record time, but he sprinted down the stretch to break the tape ten yards in front of Princeton's Bill Bonthron, who was in second place, two yards ahead of the great Glenn Cunningham, holder of all world records for the classic distance.

Lovelock's time was 4 minutes 11.2 seconds, far short of the mark which it had expected would be produced by a gathering of the world's fastest milers. It was a big disappointment to the crowd. On the same track two years ago the New Zealander had scored an epic triumph over Bonthron in the record time of 4:07.6. Last year and in the same place, Cunningham raced to a new mark of 4:06. This still stands.

It was highly improbable, however, that this mark would receive sanction, since the Buckeye team failed to pass the baton and instead, pased Troy home in remarkably fast time.

These performances took the ailed in the face of an advance buildup, to shatter any international figures, although he won four of Ohio State's six first places.
