WEREWOLF COMING TO ELSINORE TODAY

Horror Film Brings Valerie Hobson, Henry Hull and Warner Oland Here

What would you do if you thought you were married to a respectable scientist and then discovered you were really married to a wolf?

Universal reached back into legendary folklore for this myth of the "Werewolf," a creature and which lives in the form of a human except for certain periods each month when he becomes transformed into a wolf and turns cannibalistic.

The cast seen in support of Hull, Oland and Miss Hobson includes Lester Matthews, Spring Byington, Clark Williams, Lawrence Grant, J. M. Kerrigan and Charlotte Granville. Stuart Walker directed.

'SCOUNDREL' SHOWS AT CAPITOL TODAY

Although the faces of many of the principals in the Hecht-MacArthur picture, "The Scoundrel," coming today to the Capitol theatre, are new to filmgoers, the film's cast includes the most brilliant gathering of stage celebrities seen on the screen in recent years.

Supporting him are Julie Hayden, brilliant young actress who appeared in only one leading film previous to her role in "The Scoundrel"; Stanley Ridges, Broadway leading man, and Hope Williams, Park avenue socialite.

PORTLAND MAN HIT BY AUTO, INJURED

Henry J. Leverman, Portland, abruptly halted moving his household goods toward his new home, 16 miles west of Monmouth, at 12:15 p.m. yesterday when he was struck by an automobile on Portland road a few feet north of its junction with Silverton road here.

After five weeks the strike appears to have been a boon to the lumber mills in the south, California, southern and eastern Oregon, and to have stimulated considerable business in Canada.

With the industry running, mostly in Oregon, at 30,000,000 feet of production and shipments weekly, it is losing 60,000,000 feet weekly in lumber sales.

STRIKE HERE AIDS MILLS ELSEWHERE

Production at mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's association in the week ending June 8, increased from 24,500,000 feet in the previous week to 32,494,000 or approximately 33 1/2 per cent.

Southern pine and Western pine both added sharply to their production in May. Important markets in the central states and along the Atlantic seaboard report plenty of lumber is now flowing into the Mississippi valley.

Prices along the Atlantic coast have not increased enough, due to the west coast shut-down, to permit a heavy movement of lumber from British Columbia; but some orders are reported as placed there.

'RUMBA' FEATURED AT STATE THEATRE

G. Raft, Carole Lombard and Margo in Cast; Scenes Colorful

The tricky, fascinating and seductive rhythms of Cuba's centuries-old native dances form the accompaniment and background for the dramatic love story of George Raft's new starring Paramount picture, "Rumba", which comes today to the State theatre.

Raft is cast as a cabaret dancer in Havana, exiled from his beloved Broadway by threats of gang vengeance. He falls in love with Carole Lombard, an heiress, and, despite repeated snubs, persists in his suit.

In order to be near the girl he loves, Raft takes the starring part in a Broadway show. The story moves to a climax in which the lovers are rejoined in an ecstatic "Rumba"—the Cuban dance of love.

'VANESSA' ROMANCE ON AT HOLLYWOOD

In a story that fairly sparkles with high romance, Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery come to the screen of the Hollywood theatre today as co-stars for only the second time in their respective careers.

The story is "Vanessa: Her Love Story," from the brilliant pen of the eminent novelist, Hugh Walpole. It is definitely listed among the better photoplays of the new season.

Miss Hayes has never given a more sterling performance than as the heroine, Vanessa, who blindly in love with Montgomery, is persuaded to accept a more suitable marriage with Otto Kruger. She is not able to forget her first love and manages to spend a few happy hours with him after Kruger, insanely jealous, has ordered her from his home.

Kruger, as the madman, gives an exceptional performance, ably assisted by others of the distinguished cast. Among these should be mentioned May Robson, Lewis Stone and Henry Stephenson.

Building Permits Gain in Numbers But Costs Lower

The see-saw condition of building operations in Salem was emphasized again last week. While more permits were issued than during the previous week, values were down.

'DOUBTING THOMAS' STILL HELD, GRAND

"Doubting Thomas", starring Will Rogers continues to draw capacity crowds at the Grand theatre where it is being held over this week.

The picture was adapted from George Kelly's stage hit, "The Torch Bearers," and shows Rogers in the role of a simple, home-loving U.S.A. manufacturer, whose life-world is tossed into a turmoil when his wife, Billie Burke, goes theatrical; as does his son's fiancée, Frances Grant. The two appear in an amateur charity show which is one of the most hilarious scenes in the picture.

FORESTS IN OREGON ARE OPENING EARLY

Oregon's national forest and park resorts are ahead of Washington's in opening this season, it was reported by Mrs. Claudia Benson of the Oregon State Motor association office here yesterday.

The road to Crater Lake park is open and in good condition. Hotel and camp accommodations are available.

Mt. Hood loop highway was cleared for travel last week and is reported as in good shape.

Mount Rainier national park in Washington is only partially open. The road is ready for travel as far as Narada falls; the rest, to Paradise park, will not be open until the end of this month; Sunrise park is still closed.

Mrs. Benson said McKenzie highway travelers reported that road in excellent condition. Other holiday routes of local interest were listed as follows:

Road to Clear lake, open but rough.

North Santiam highway, blocked by snow 19 miles south of Detroit.

Dallas-Coast highway, dusty, minor construction in progress between Buell and Wallace bridge but not interfering greatly with travel.

McMinnville-coast route, oiling going on between Hebo and Dolph.

Other roads all good.
