

Golden Bear Wins at Poughkeepsie by Ten-foot Margin

WEST'S CREWS SWEEP SERIES

Washington Huskies Take Junior Varsity and Freshman Races

By ALAN GOULD
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 18.—(AP)—By the slender margin of three-fifths of a second, a scant ten feet of deck-length, the University of California's brawny Golden Bears stood off Cornell's great closing challenge this evening and captured one of the most thrilling four-mile varsity races ever rowed on the Hudson river.

California's third successive triumph in the big race completed the first far western sweep in the history of the intercollegiate championship regatta. The University of Washington scored decisive victories in both the freshman two-mile and the junior varsity three-mile races.

Cornell saved the regatta from being a complete rout of the eastern "old guard" by fighting the race with the highly-favored Californians throughout the last mile. Finishing second in a race so close that it first looked as though the Ithacans had won, only to have the official stop watches register California's narrow margin of victory, Cornell left Washington's varsity struggling two lengths behind, in third place. Next in order across the finish were Navy, Syracuse, Pennsylvania and Columbia.

Washington and California finished one-two in the freshman race. After the Huskies from the Pacific northwest captured the "Jaycee" race with an all-sophomore crew, the same boatload that was victorious as a freshman unit last year, they faced a great chance to make it three in a row. They apparently appeared to be in Washington's grasp as they varsity eight showed the way for upwards of two miles but the Huskies couldn't keep it up.

The closest that the far western oarsmen had come previously to taking all three races was in 1926. Washington captured the junior varsity and varsity events that year while California was runner-up to Columbia's freshmen. Since 1914, when the "Jaycee" race was added to the regatta, no college has ever scored a clean sweep.

Rowed under rainy, chilly weather conditions, the regatta was witnessed by the smallest crowd in any year since the war. Scarcely 20,000 looked on from shores, boats and a 16-car observation train but the finish gave them something to cheer about, even though the outcome of the varsity race was a blow to the big cheering section that had its hopes of a Cornell triumph lifted high by the gallant closing bid of the sturdy Ithacans.

Winning for Whitney

His Old Winning Form

THEY THOUGHT SONNY WAS THROUGH - BUT HE FOOLED 'EM THIS YEAR.

AND I'M DOWN TO WEIGHT.

STRICT TRAINING IS THE SECRET OF WORKMAN'S FINE COME-BACK.

RAYMOND "SONNY" WORKMAN is one of the real veterans of the riding game, and in the many years he has been booting the horses to victory he has gained a well-earned reputation as one of the smartest and most capable of modern jockeys.

However, last year the great Whitney rider failed to show his usual stuff, and turf railbirds began to insinuate that Sonny was slipping. They said that Workman was getting old; that his riding days were numbered. He was supposed to be troubled with increasing weight, and his habits of getting into trouble with the officials made it seem all the more likely that Sonny's departure from the turf was imminent.

The veteran Whitney star has crossed up all the wise birds, however, for this season he has been flashing all his old riding skill. Recently, at Belmont Park, he scored three double victories in a row, and at the present writing he has already just about equalled his entire 1934 winning total of 74 victories.

At his present rate, Sonny is sure to be batting it out with the leading jockeys at the end of the current riding campaign, and it would be no surprise to see him finish on top among the regular riders without apprentice "bugs."

The secret of Workman's apparently successful comeback lies in the fact that this year the skillful veteran has been paying strict attention to his training. As a result of keeping his nose to the training grindstone, Sonny, in the very pink of physical condition, has come through with colors flying.

Workman is a brainer and more experienced rider than most of the other leading jockeys today, and when he is at his best there is no rider now in the saddle who has a thing on little Sonny. Turf followers all over the country are glad to hear that this famous jockey is back in his old winning form.

Another Meanie, Powers, is Victim of Elliott's Speed; Kunkle and Rob Roy Win

"Dishface" Powers, barrel-chested ring dynamo from Vancouver, B. C., rough and tumble, face contorting member of the wrestling cult, king of the meanie fraternity, was beaten last night at the armory by canny Harry Elliott. Eugene limb twister, before a large and enthusiastic crowd.

Powers, the aggressor throughout, when not calling upon every trick in the books, relied upon rough and tumble fighting. As he mixed wildly with Elliott, he amused a hostile audience with a running fire of gestures and verbal outbursts. During several tumbles he punched it out with Referee Noel Franklin.

The Canadian bomber took Elliott's measure during the first ten minutes' scuffling, mixing flying wristlocks with spectacular aerial headlocks. The Eugene favorite evened the count with crashing sonnenberg butts, slamming the "playboy" out of the roped arena onto the ringside boards. In the deciding melee both boys opened up, hurling each other all over the mat. Powers threw everything but the rafters at his opponent, but failed to connect. The wrought-up Elliott finally finished the battle by putting Powers out commission with a series of resounding body slams, culminating in a spectacular airplane spin.

Wrestling fiercely in the 45-minute special event, Del Kunkle, Salt Lake, smashed Ray Lamphere, Sacramento fighter, to the mat with a ripping uppercut to the jaw. The boys traded falls during the first 20 minutes of the match, then battled in whirlwind fashion for the final advantage. In a flurry of fistcuffs Kunkle exploded like a firecracker and stowed the Californian away with a haymaker to the button. Referee Franklin then roughed the hapless Mr. Lamphere around for an additional 30 seconds to the merriment of the ringsiders.

Rob Roy, burzaway from the Michigan woods, turned the tables on Young Tarzan to capture the opening bout. Roy absorbed the lion's share of the punishment but was awarded the decision after gaining an early fall.

COUNTY FINAL FOR JUNIORS IS TODAY

With a chance for a tie the last hope, the Woodburn Junior Legion team, county champion for three years running, will meet the undefeated Mt. Angel team in the last game of the Marion county series at Woodburn today.

Mt. Angel defeated Woodburn last week at Mt. Angel. A victory for Woodburn would create a tie between the two teams, necessitating a play-off game.

The winner in the county championship will compete in the district finals. The district winner will go to the state meet.

ALL MAJOR LEAGUE GAMES RAINED OUT

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP)—For the second time this season, the entire major league baseball schedule was washed out today.

On May 2, when only three games were scheduled, rain forced the postponement of all contests. Today, however, 12 teams were slated to get into action. The postponements struck another blow at the owners' pocket-books, especially at Chicago, where the New York Yankees, American league leaders, and the second place White Sox, were rained out for the third straight day, after playing only one of their five-game series.

WOODBURN AND SOLONS CLASH

Neighboring Rivalry Marks Contest Here Today; Game Called 5:15

The Salem Senators, now out in front in the State league, will meet the Woodburn Townies, tied for first in the Mid-Willamette league, on Olinger field at 5:15 this afternoon.

The Townies have only one defeat against them this season and have been playing tight ball in all their games. Johnny Perrine, former Salem high ace hurler, will probably pitch for the Woodburn team. He has been throwing three and four-hit ball all season and should provide some stiff work for the Senators. Susee, who held the Salem Knights of Columbia to three blows Sunday, will also be ready to hurl.

With Schwab at first, Garbarino at second, Salstrom at short and Howley at third, the Woodburn team has a tight and fast infield, while the outfield of Ramp, Hunt and Bomsoff is also hard on batting averages.

Johnny Beck will pitch for the Senators. Beck, who hails from Woodburn, formerly pitched for the Townies.

Jim and Max Shake Fists Across Pond

POTSDAM, Germany, June 18.—(AP)—Max Schmeling is willing to go to America for a crack at James J. Braddock's new heavyweight title, but he isn't going until every possibility of getting Braddock into a European ring has been exhausted.

Although reluctant to do much talking, Schmeling pointed out he is under contract to Walter Rathenburg, German promoter, until September 17 and cannot fight under any other auspices until then even if he wanted to.

GLADEK TO BUILD 19TH HOUSE HERE

W. A. Gladek, Salem man who has been building several houses here each year for the past six, today will start digging the basement for his 19th structure in that period. The building permit, issued yesterday, sets the cost of the latest at $250. It will be located at 1520 North 18th street.

One story high, it will have a shakes and stucco outside finish. Inside woodwork will have a driftwood effect, stained, with floors of oak. There will be five rooms.

Gladek declared he believed with the national housing administration that "now is the opportunity to build." He built an average of three houses a year during the recent years when building was slack.

Four other permits were taken out yesterday, as follows:

D. L. Kitcher, erect milk depot at 625 North Capitol street, $400; Mrs. Mary Bilby, alter dwelling at 1153 Hall, $45; Mr. Lear, reeroof office building at 134 South Liberty, $100; Mrs. Eva Ziegler, reeroof garage at 506 South 19th, $20.

HORNBY APPEARS TO BE VINDICATED

ST. LOUIS, June 18.—(AP)—Roger Hornsby of the Browns, whose managerial astuteness was under considerable question following recent sweeps with other American league clubs, saw himself vindicated today in the clouting records hung up by two of his late acquisitions—outfielders Julius Solters and Ed Coleman.

There were howls aplenty from the home fans when "Trader" Hornsby let Philadelphia have the veteran right hand hurler, George Blaeholder, in exchange for "Sugar" Cain and Coleman. There were still more when the Rajah announced he had boosted the club's financial status by trading Oscar Mellilo, star defense second baseman, to Boston for Solters and an unannounced amount of cash.

The two fielders, however, almost at once ranked at the top of the Brownie batsmen. Their impressive showing on the road during their last nine home games has silenced all criticism and provided more than a mild headache to their former owners.

Waging a friendly duel for team batting honors, the two broke even with a .333 average in their six games here with the league-leading Yankees and three with the sixth place Washington Senators.

Two Additional Teams May Join Boys' Softball

SILVERTON, June 17.—The boys' softball league composed of four teams has played two games so far. The first game was between the Pelicans and the Seagulls with the Pelicans winning 6 to 5.

The Four-L band boys, who call themselves the Band Owls, made it a walkaway from the Blue Jays, 41 to 3 Saturday afternoon.

Two more teams may enter this league in the near future. The boys will play each Tuesday and Thursday afternoons on the Eugene Field diamond.

MURPHY REELECTED TO STAYTON BOARD

Paul Stayton, Clerk, Received 60 of the 61 Votes Cast, a Complimentary Vote Being Given to a Local Woman Who was Not Nominated

STAYTON, June 18.—The annual school meeting of District No. 77, held in the high school auditorium Monday afternoon resulted in the adoption of the budget as prepared by the board, by a large majority.

For the office of director there was but one candidate, Grant Murphy. Mr. Murphy has served on the board for 15 years, and was anxious to be relieved of the duty, but by petition and personal request of his friends, he agreed to accept another term, with the proviso that it would positively be his last. He received all of the 61 votes cast. Dr. H. A. Beauchamp and Andrew Fery are the hold-over members of the board.

Paul Stayton, clerk, received 60 of the 61 votes cast, a complimentary vote being given to a local woman who was not nominated.

The matter of a new heating system for the grade school building was presented, and a motion carried requesting the board to find ways and means for making this improvement.

The grade school is a six-room building which has heretofore been heated by stoves in each room. The fire hazard is great, as some of the chimneys have been in use more than 40 years. The building is in good condition and with a proper heating system is good for many years. The general opinion of the meeting was against any heating plant that would require fire within the building.

Scouts from Oregon, Washington and Idaho participated in the camp show.

Siegmund Sending Some Cases Back To Justice Court

Indication that the county judge, who also serves as juvenile judge, will pass back to justice court some of the cases certified up to the county judge because defendants are under the age of 18, was seen yesterday when the first order on such a matter came through from Judge Siegmund of the county court.

The case involved Howard Samuel McInnis, 16, arrested yesterday for driving a car without an operator's license. Justice of the Peace Hayden immediately certified the case over to the juvenile court. But that court shortly ordered it back to Hayden, who continued the case for 60 days for passing sentence.
