

Race Tightens as Wait's Losses; Hogg Squad Turns Trick

EARLY SCORING CAUSES UPSET

Three-Run Rallies in Third and Fourth Result in One-Run Victory

That it's anybody's race in Salem softball circles this season was indicated last night when Hogg Bros. downed, 11 to 2 by Master Bread, stepped up to upset the league-leading Wait's team 7 to 6 in a game that had 700 fans cheering and gasping at alternate intervals.

The Brothers scored all their runs before the fifth inning and the thrills came as Wait's staged an uphill fight that didn't stop until a last moment rally fell one short of the tying run.

The Hogg team, after scoring one run in the second for a starter, pounded Roth for three runs in both the third and fourth. Roth was batted from the box in the fourth when four batters hit safely. Marvitch replaced him and quickly retired the side. He allowed only three hits the rest of the game. Hogg Bros. gained 10 hits off Roth in less than four innings.

With Ritchie in the box Wait's started to add to the two runs it had collected in the first inning. Wintermute got on an error in the sixth. Aden singled and Gribble knocked in Wintermute with another single. Aden was thrown out at home on one end of a double play from Marr to N. Serdotz to P. McCaffery but Gribble scored on an error.

The Butchers loaded the bases in the eighth when Ritchie was intentionally walked to give Serdotz a chance at Seguin who went out at first, retiring the side.

In the ninth hit by Dunn, Walker and Aden produced two runs. With Aden on third Gribble filed out to center field to end the ball game.

McLure Burial Service Today

Burial services for John McLure, age three, who died Wednesday at Colorado Springs, Colo., will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Belcrest Memorial park. John was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McLure. The mother was Virginia Dorcas, who grew up in Salem and will be recalled as a granddaughter of Mrs. Carrie Chapel, for many years a local school teacher.

Slugging Ducks attain par for first time with aid of split season; warm nights swell softball crowds.

By CAUSTIC

The decision of the Coast league owners to have the split season again was a break for Portland. For the first time since the season began the Beavers found themselves yesterday on a par, at least in percentages, with the other clubs. Throughout the first half they were never able to get over the middle bump and up into the first division. The way they have been playing lately the clean slate deal should help them in quantities.

If Owner E. J. Sheffer succeeds in building up his pitching staff to equal the hitting and fielding strength of the club, Portland should become the threat it was supposed to be when the season began. There's hardly a sweeter short-second combination in the minors than Cisell and Wilburn while Garretson or Davis are both hot shots in covering the first sack. As for outfielders Portland fans have little to cry about in that department. And do they hit?

Warmer nights are bringing the crowds out to the softball encounters in droves. The lure of the bright lights, the peanut and popcorn vendors and the promise of a few softball thrills makes it easy for the Salem Softball association to fill up its grandstand and bleachers. There's at least one good game every night, sometimes two. Occasionally though, we must admit, they both turn out to be pretty terrible.

HOP GOLDS COMING FOR GAME SUNDAY

With its newly gained leadership of the State league at stake the Senator baseball club will take on the second place Hop Gold team on Olinger field Sunday.

The Senators defeated Toledo last week to step out in front of the league while Hop Gold was idle, its game with Eugene being postponed. Since the brewers have not played as many games as Salem a victory would put them at the top.

Two of the fastest infield combinations in the state will be exhibited Sunday. Oravec and Harrison, second-short set-up that made Willamette a hard team to beat this season, and Koch and Gordon, who performed the same services for Oregon, will be seen in action.

Koch and Gordon were not with the Hop Gold team when it was defeated by the Senators here early in the season.

PRIZE-fighters are traditionally supposed to be uneducated lowbrows, but while this is still true in many cases, there are quite a few exceptions among present-day pug. Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin are both highly intelligent young men who speak very good English and never say "dese" and "dese"; and while Max Baer may be considered screwy in some quarters, it's a cinch that he's not the type of slow-witted "abysmal brute" that used to symbolize pugilists in the past.

Ducks Amass 17 Hits But Lose 7 to 5

PORTLAND, Ore., June 20.—(AP)—The state game commission reported today that fishing conditions throughout the state are exceptionally good this week.

Roads are open to the most remote lakes, and waters of all streams are low and clear.

Steelhead are still running into the Hood river and good catches have been made in the Punch Bowl and adjacent stretches of the west fork. The road to Lost Lake has been opened.

Fair trout catches were made last weekend at Tahkentich, Siltcoos, Washink and Mercer lakes in western Lane and Douglas counties. Ocean fishing is good, with bass plentiful along the coast.

Fishing has improved at Diamond lake in Douglas county. The Deschutes river continues good. Paulina and East lakes in Deschutes county also are providing good catches.

A few salmon have been taken from the upper Rogue in Josephine county, although catches are below par. Trout fishing along the Rogue has been fair, but natural food too abundant. The trout take flies best in the middle of the day.

LASKY REVIVES HIS FIGHT TITLE QUEST

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—(AP)—Long, lanky Art Lasky, Jewish heavyweight with designs on James J. Braddock's crown, will make his first ring start in two months tomorrow night when he meets Fort Smith, Kallispell, Mont., giant, in a ten round bout here.

Last April Lasky lost a decision to Braddock in a fight that brought the latter the right to meet Max Baer for the title. Lasky went into the bout with a bad right hand and emerged with a bone fractured in it.

Lasky is reported in top condition for his comeback start. He weighs 198 pounds, the same as for his fight with Braddock. Smith, rough, long range swinger, also is making his first appearance here after several battles in southern California. The Mountain will have a weight advantage, tipping the beam at 210 pounds.

One-Man Team Owens and Numerically Strong Troy Rivals For Track Crown

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND

BERKELEY, Calif., June 20.—(AP)—On cinderpath and field tomorrow, 250 star athletes marshaled from every section of the country will open an assault on times and distances expected to make the 1935 National Collegiate A. A. championships one of the greatest, if not the outstanding meet, since the classic was founded.

The opening day of the 14th annual meet, bringing together the pick of track and field luminaries from more than 70 colleges and universities, will find a mighty Southern California Trojan squad favored to win its third important championship of the season.

Twenty-three Trojan aces, under the leadership of Coach Dean Cromwell, are the choice of virtually all observers to dominate the trials, just as was the case in the recent Intercollegiate A. A. E. A. championships and the west coast meets.

For Southern California it is expected to develop into another case of numerical superiority, plus secondary strength, the consensus being the Trojans can win the meet without taking a first place. Only Phil Cope and Roy Staley, both credited last Saturday with tying the 120 yard high hurdles record of 14.2, and pole vaulter Earle Meadows, rate even chances to take first places in the early size-up.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State's negro super-athlete, may lead his team to a sensational victory, especially with a small measure of assistance from his mates.

On his seasonal performances, Owens will be favored to win the two sprints and the broad jump. Recently he tied the world's 100 yard dash record and bettered the accepted marks in the 220 yard dash, low hurdles and broad jump. It was definitely decided today that he would compete in the low hurdles, an event that would pit him against the finest barrier artist of all time, Glenn Hardin of Louisiana State.

Ohio State supporters have visualized a team victory with Owens winning four events, Charles Beetham taking the half mile and Melvin Walker finishing well up among the high jumpers.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 20.—(AP)—For the third time this week the Portland and San Francisco baseball clubs tonight played to a 7 to 5 score, with San Francisco winning to gain a two to one advantage in the series.

Wyn Ballou on the mound for the Seals was in hot water all the time, but with superb last-inning assistance from Mails prevented Portland's 17 hits from producing more than five runs.

Bill English, sturdy third sacker, led the Portland attack with a home run, two doubles and a single. Powers of the Seals also homed.

Schultz was replaced on the mound for Portland in the second by Radonits who yielded five hits and four runs in the seventh and was charged with defeat. Portland hit in every inning and had three safeties in the ninth when Mails took the hitcock and produced the final two putouts.

San Francisco 7 10 1
Portland 5 17 1
Ballou, Mails and Monzo; Schultz, Radonits and Cronin.

LOS ANGELES, June 20.—(AP)—A pair of lanky right handers, Paul Gregory and Manuel Salvo, took the measure of Ed Wells, a southpaw, in a mound duel here tonight as Sacramento defeated Hollywood 3 to 1 in a Pacific Coast league baseball game.

Salvo came to Gregory's rescue after the lone Sheik tally and halted the Hollywood uprising. The Sac bunched six of the 10 hits for runs in the second, seventh and ninth innings. Hollywood collected seven safeties which produced only one run in the eighth.

Sacramento 3 10 1
Hollywood 1 7 0
Gregory and Berres; Wells and Desautels, Kerr.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—(AP)—Wayne Osborne was in top form at Seals stadium today and turned back Oakland with three hits as the Missions defeated the transbay club, 5 to 2.

The Reds landed on the offerings of Douglass for 11 hits, of which three were bunched in the fourth inning—all singles, by Berger, Jost and Almada—to score two runs and put the game on ice.

Lou Almada was the hitting star of the day for the winners.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 20.—(AP)—Swimming records showed signs of seasickness tonight for Jack Medina as splashing back into competition here Saturday at the Pacific northwest amateur swimming and diving championships.

The 78 entrants listed tonight comprised as strong a field as ever competed in the annual aquatic classic of the Pacific northwest. Entries close tomorrow night.

Medica, holder of more records than any other swimmer in the world, and Olive McKean, are two of the top notchers of the Washington Athletic club of Seattle.

With Fred Rossiter, Ray Jeffcott and Herb Elsenhardt of the Multnomah Athletic club float Portland's hopes.

Medica will concentrate on the 800-meter event and since it is just 16 feet more than the half-mile, he will be clocked at both distances.

Entries are from a number of towns in Oregon and Washington. The Central and Northeast Y. M. C. A.'s of Portland will enter their crack swimmers.

Several junior proteges of Jack Cody, Multnomah club instructor, have chances to better record times in their events.

Preliminaries will begin at 10:30 a. m. with finals starting at 2:30 p. m.

DETROIT WILL BACK JOE LOUIS TUESDAY

DETROIT, June 20.—(AP)—If the "good cars hold out," young Joe Louis, the negro heavyweight, is going to receive a royal welcome from his hometown fans next Tuesday night when he climbs through the ropes in New York for his battle with the huge Italian, Primo Carnera.

Eddie Pittis, one of Joe's friends and admirers, decided that something should be done about the number of "the boys" who wanted to see Joe next Tuesday night. So Eddie announced today that a Joe Louis tin can caravan is forming.

The caravan, Pittis believes, may number as many as 150 cars. At 10 passengers a car, Pittis is convinced that the brown bomber will feel right at home in the most important fight of his young and brilliant fistie career.

Budge Advances To Semi-Finals, Queen's Tourney

LONDON, June 20.—(AP)—Donald Budge, red-headed California youngster, smashed his way to a three-set victory over his doubles partner, Gene Mako, of Los Angeles, in the quarter-final round of the Queens tennis tournament today as rain held other American contenders idle.

Budge, whose play has been consistently good since he arrived here with the rest of the American Davis Cup squad, outpointed Mako 6-3, 3-6, 6-2 to gain a berth in the semi-finals, a round ahead of the rest of the field including Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, and David N. Jones of New York, former Columbia university tennis captain.
