

POMONA GRANGERS PICNIC AUGUST 11

Macleay is Chosen for Next Regular Meeting of County Group

FAIRFIELD, June 21.—Around 150 grangers attended Pomona meeting here Wednesday. Flag day was represented with decorations, and a profusion of summer flowers made the hall attractive.

A large number of granges throughout the county were represented, including Roberts, recently organized. Interesting reports were given. At noon a bounteous dinner was served by Fairfield H. E. C.

William Teutsch of Oregon State college, speaker for the afternoon program, presented interesting facts concerning progress of agricultural recovery. S. B. Laughlin gave a quotation from Mr. Kelly's talk during the state grange session at McMinnville: "Labor understands problems of the farmer better than the farmer understands labor."

The annual Pomona picnic will be held at Silverton park Sunday, August 11. The next Pomona meeting will be held at Macleay in October.

The lecturer, Mrs. W. R. Dallas, presented this program:

Group singing; one-act play, "Clothesline Gossip," Mrs. B. C. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wing; harmonica solo, Jack Allenback; address, by William Teutsch; reading, "Immortality," Mrs. C. E. Allenback.

Frank Saalfeld is in Portland where he is a member of the federal grand jury.

Miss Glenna Carter has been ill the past week at her home here.

MRS. ELLA S. ARMS LAID TO LAST REST

DAYTON, June 21.—Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m. Thursday at the Dayton Baptist church for Mrs. Ella Steele Arms, 81, wife of John Arms, who died at her home in Dayton Monday night after two months' illness. Rev. G. L. Hall of McMinnville officiated, assisted by Rev. Kenneth B. Daniels of Carlton.

Mrs. Arms was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Weatherford, her father being one of the first druggists in Salem and a pioneer doctor in Portland. She was a member of the First Congregational church of Portland, the Order of Eastern Star and was the first president of the Daughters of Oregon Pioneers. She was born at Lafayette February 27, 1854; was married to David Steele in December, 1877. One son was born, Mr. Steele died in 1901. She was married to Mr. Arms June 12, 1923, who survives her. Surviving also are her son, Ray W. Steele of Portland; three step-sons, Luther F. Steele of Portland, Arthur Arms of Newberg, Oliver Arms of Idaho, and one step-daughter, Mrs. Bernard Churchman of Newberg. Burial was in Riverview cemetery, beside Mr. Steele.

At Camp Murray

CAMP MURRAY, June 21.—(Special)—Early Monday morning we had general field inspection, and Company B's display was given a very satisfactory rating by Major General George A. White. In the field inspection of this kind the soldiers pitch their shelter or pup tents, and lay out their packs in front of them which consist of blanket, personal clothes, and equipment.

During federal inspection last February at the army our company was given a very good rating by the inspecting officer. Tuesday the general planned a streamer that read very satisfactory to the guidon during the regimental parade. Our guide on has at present four streamers. Yesterday Company B went on sentry duty. Capt. H. G. Malson was officer of the day, and second Lieutenant John George was the officer of the guard. Formal guard mount was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The guard mount is a ceremony through which the new and incoming guard goes before they take up their duties. This consisted of inspection of the men's rifles by Lieutenant George. This was done in rhythm to music furnished by the 162nd infantry band. The commanding officers said it went off well and that it made quite a spectacle to watch.

Both Tuesday and Wednesday mornings the 162nd regiment were given battle maneuvers. This consisted of marching in wartime style for about four miles in five hours. Scouts and points were sent out ahead of the advance guard with its support coming up behind and this in turn followed by a machine gun company. The object was to approach and learn the position that the enemy had taken up in the nearby woods. And after reaching them we were to drive them from the position. During the afternoon we received instructions for defense against airplane attack and learned how to scatter and fire upon the planes with small arms (rifles).

Monday night Company B had a kitball game with Regimental headquarters company and we were beaten by a tune of 8 to 4. The batteries for Company B were Ray Elliott and Sid Van Lydegraf.

Sometime after midnight Wednesday, we will be given an order to move into the field on battle maneuvers. Our mission at the present time is unknown and will be so until the very last minute. Each man takes a full pack including blankets, clothes, tents, mess equipment and rifles. This full equipment weighs close to 70 pounds.

Rebekahs Select Edith Kellis as New Noble Grand

SCOTT'S MILLS, June 21.—Miss Eunice Maulding has been re-hired as teacher in the No. 6 school. Miss Beatrice Amundson has been hired as commercial teacher in the Scotts Mills high school. Other teachers will be Mrs. Bethel Taylor, principal; John Buchanan, Mrs. Buchanan, Mrs. Edith Magee and Mrs. Hazel Frazier.

The Rebekah lodge Tuesday night elected these officers for the ensuing six months: Noble grand, Edith Kellis; vice-grand, Berta Pones; recording secretary, Cora Rich; treasurer, Zella Smith. Nine members of the Canton and auxiliary of the Newberg Rebekah lodge made this lodge an official visit Tuesday night.

REV. FOSS HONORED BY LUTHER COLLEGE

Father of Silverton Pastor Given Doctor Degree at Decorah

SILVERTON, June 21.—Silverton friends are sending congratulations to the Rt. Rev. L. C. Foss of Seattle, pioneer Pacific coast pastor and for 26 years former president of the Pacific district of the Lutheran church of America, who was recently awarded the degree of doctor of divinity from Luther college, Decorah, Ia.

Carl W. Strom, in making the citation for the degree, gave this brief history of Dr. Foss's life: Ludvig Colbjornsen Foss was born at Romerike, Norway, September 10, 1858. He was educated as a teacher at Asker Normal school and emigrated to America in 1880. He taught parochial school and studied until his ordination to the ministry in 1891 on a call from congregations in and near Bellingham, Wash. His was a particularly arduous task, serving the people over a wide area on the Pacific coast in settlements separated by dense forests. Through untold hardships and privation he displayed an unwavering devotion to his calling and gave courage to his younger fellow-workers while it marked him as their leader. So intimately has his work been associated with the growth of the Lutheran church on the coast that its history is largely the story of Dr. Foss' work."

Dr. Foss is the father of Rev. H. L. Foss, former pastor of Trinity church at Silverton and now president of the Pacific district, and of Rev. C. L. Foss, present pastor of Trinity church at Silverton.

FRUITLAND, June 21.—Ed Hinton was reelected director and Miss Daisy Lambert was elected clerk succeeding Albert Harmon at the annual school meeting here. Work will begin soon on the new school building.

Hubbard Girl Writes of Woeful Sufferings and Ruins in Wake of Flood

HUBBARD, June 21.—The destruction left in the wake of overflow waters of the Republican river in Nebraska, is told in a letter received by Mrs. Neva McKenzie from her daughter Marion, who is visiting friends and relatives in that state.

Pitiful stories of suffering, ruin and death may be heard on all sides, she states; children torn from their parents and lost in the flood, homes and belongings destroyed, families separated and members missing, presumably dead but whose bodies have not yet been recovered. Dead and missing number 125. Loss in buildings and valuable livestock is very high. Total losses for the state are estimated at over $13,000,000, which is much higher than that of any of the other four states affected by the flood.

Twenty-five miles of highway that was completely washed out, 50 or more bridges that were either badly damaged or totally destroyed are now in the process of repair or rebuilding. Electric light and telephone service which was completely disorganized is still only partially restored.

Much concern is felt over the condition of farm lands covered with mud, silt and sand. While there are conflicting opinions as to their possible effect, the consensus of opinion is that while the land is unquestionably damaged, there are reasonable grounds for hope that the sediment may have a beneficial effect on the land after it has dried out.

A permanent rehabilitation program is now under way, the latter states.

ADDITIONAL WATER MAINS ARE PLACED

WOODBURN, June 21.—A new city water main is being put in on Corby street this week. The new line extends from Lincoln to Hardcastle and will total between 800 and 900 feet. When this line is finished one will be placed along West Cleveland from Second to Settlemier avenue, completing this year's work of replacing the old water mains. It will require about a month or more of work to complete this project, according to E. N. Soule, water superintendent.

The Assembly Artisans held their last meeting for the season Thursday evening, H. E. Heffing, master Artisan, presiding. Plans were made for a picnic at Hazel Green park Sunday.

Home Rebekah lodge No. 58 met at the I.O.O.F. hall Tuesday evening. Installation of the new officers and initiation was announced for the next regular meeting, July 2. The ritualistic work was given by Miss Hall and the vice grand-elect Mrs. Beulah Lessard. A short program was given which included a piano solo by Charlotte Ma. Livesey, a reading by Miss Ethel Tresider and guitar numbers by Miss Georgia Cole. Refreshments were served.
