

BUCKEROO WILL BE BEST EVER, BELIEF

Crowd Friday Bigger Than Expected; Show Runs Two More Days

MOLALLA, July 5. — Good crowds, good weather and a lively succession of spills and wild struggles between cowboys and animals continued today to carry out the prophecy that Molalla's 15th Buckeroo show, which opened Thursday for a four-day showing, would be the biggest in the history of the show.

Although the crowd today did not compare with the thousands who crowded into the new grandstands the fourth, it was a good crowd for the second-day show and was larger than had been expected by Buckeroo officials. Many reserved seat tickets have already been sold for Saturday and Sunday.

One of the events that the cowboys managed to handle much more successfully today than yesterday was the calf-roping. Clay Carr won first place with 21 seconds, bettering Holloway Grace's record of yesterday by one second. Second and third places were won today by Dee Horton, 23.6 seconds, and Len Perkins, 29.1 seconds. Eleven cowboys successfully roped their calves today, against the seven of yesterday.

Smith Bareback Star
Hank Smith, who won second place in the Thursday bareback riding contest, gained first place today. Other winners in this event were Tommy Woods and Clare Wagner, who tied for second place; Bob Locke, fourth place, and Dave Hart, fifth place. Tommy Woods' luck managed to hold out during the steer riding contest, when he won first place. Canada Kid, a star of Thursday's show and a newcomer to the Molalla show, and Freddy Powell, tied for second place.

Bulldozers fell far short of Thursday's remarkable records of 6.6 seconds and 8.8 seconds. Holloway Grace, Eastland, Texas, won first place with 24.4 seconds; Cherokee Alcorn was second with 26.2 seconds, and Canada Kid third with 47.8 seconds.

Cowboys had a tough time throwing the leather-necked Texas longhorns. Frank Smith, veteran of wild west shows, who is performing this year with two badly injured hands, made a fine catch but was unable to throw his steer.

Features Numerous
Features of this year's Buckeroo include exhibition rides by Alvin Weaver, 16-year-old cowboy from Redmond, who won the pony express race from Klamath Falls to Molalla; trick and fancy roping by Mr. and Mrs. Monte Montana and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bowman; exhibition steer and bronc riding by Leah Ferris, world champion cowgirl; whip-cracking demonstration by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mikel; special events by Guy Ray, clown, and numerous races, including wild horse chariot race, relay race, cowboy and cowgirl race, stage coach race and Roman standing race. The full program includes 19 events.

PLANS DRAWN FOR FILTER AT OLINGER

Plans for immediate installation of a filter system for the Olinger swimming tank have been delayed long enough to permit the preparation of specifications by an engineer, it was revealed yesterday. A lone bid which was received early this week for a filter system and left unopened may be rejected and new bids based on the new specifications called for.

Jay H. Kelley, Portland consulting engineer, is expected to come to Salem today to work out the filter specifications. For the present season the school board plans to do without a filter at Leslie pool. To improve visibility in the water for the lifeguards the bottom of the tank and possibly the sides will soon be given a coat of waterproof white paint. A coating applied before the swimming season began soon peeled off.

Nineteen Die in Plane Crash

Nineteen persons were killed when two air liners collided and burned as an SCADTA plane attempted to take off for Bogota from the Medellin airport, Colombia, S. A. Two of the victims were Carlos Gardel, upper left, South American stage and screen star, and Ernesto Samper, lower right, known as "the Lindbergh of Colombia."

LOCAL PATRONAGE AVERTED BY HUEY

BATON ROUGE, La., July 5. — (AP)—The death knell of local political patronage in Louisiana was sounded today with approval by Senator Huey P. Long's obedient house majority of legislation placing every non-elective worker in the state under the civil service commission composed of Long's supporters.

Although Long denied it, the effect of the measure—one of 26 sped through committee today in 42 minutes as another special session of the legislature made its customary whirlwind progress—was revealed when Long's amendment successfully moved amendment of a bill broadening the scope of the civil service act.

Officers Handcuffed
Automatically the proposal would deprive city, parish and village governments of authority to hire or discharge employees, from well-paid appointive offices down to the lowest laborer.

The bill, amending the act, would extend the civil service commission's jurisdiction, originally confined to municipal police and firemen, to "any municipal, parochial or state officer, and any deputies, assistants, clerks, or any other employees except where such selection is made by the direct vote of the people."

LIFESAVING TO BE TAUGHT NEXT WEEK

Field Examiner Here; Tests Instructors and Finds Them Competent

Five fully qualified life saving examiners will supervise the Red Cross learn-to-swim campaign which will open at Leslie and Olinger pools here next Monday and run for ten days, offering adequate instructional opportunity for all persons desiring to meet Red Cross lifesaving standards.

While in Salem Carlson put three members of the swimming pool staff, Esther Arnold, Ty Gilmore and Mark Satchler, through rigid tests to prove their qualification satisfactorily. Gilmore reported. Gilmore and Anoka Coates, who last month attended a Red Cross lifesaving school at Hicks Lake, Wash., complete the staff of examiners. Carlson oversaw the retesting of Gordon Skinner's status as senior Red Cross lifesaver.

Gilmore and Satchler will oversee lifesaving instruction at Leslie and Miss Arnold, Miss Coates and Gillespie at Olinger pool during the campaign. In addition there will be two instructors holding the senior lifesaver rank and two who are ready to receive it. Greatest interest in the forthcoming campaign is being shown by persons unable to swim. Gilmore said. During the 1934 campaign it was estimated 300 children and adults were taught to swim. A large number of adults are inquiring daily regarding the swimming classes offered them during the nights of the campaign. Registration will close Tuesday.

capitalism is disintegrating," and it wanted "a new party to build a new social order."

Other delegations, especially from farm states, urged a "production for use" plank, a plan which Gov. Olson wrote he was "completely committed to."

Bingham described the delegates as "radicals of a typical American strain." They included unofficial representatives from the Minnesota farm laborites, Wisconsin progressives, national farm holiday association, technocrats, commonwealth federation of New York, Washington state's commonwealth builders, Pennsylvania security league, and the socialist party. No communists were admitted.

Mickey Mouse Club Notes

At last the judges finally picked the winners of the "Why I Attended The Mickey Mouse Matinee" contest. It was rather a hard job—due to the amount of entries. First prize went to Barbara Bell, 2070 Center Street, second to Donivan Esplin, third to William Esplin, 1105 S. Liberty, and fourth prize was awarded to Marjorie Davis. Their awards will be presented to them at the matinee this afternoon.

In addition to the special feature—Kermit Maynard in "Northern Frontier"—and chapter ten of "Call of the Savage," "Scott" Barclay and Al Adolph will offer a magician's act. Due to the unsuitability of this act for radio presentation, this part of entertaining stage show will not be broadcast. The regular feature is Chester Morris in "Public Hero Number One."

Why don't you try your hand at writing material for the Mickey Mouse matinee—perhaps a play, a comedy scene, a poem, or any suitable gags.

Passing through Salem — Jimmy Martin, who we all know better as "Sunshine" of the gang. Jimmy is now a master of ceremonies with a large walk-in in Seattle.

After getting out last summer's white flannels down out of the attic, we find there has been no unemployment or starvation among 'th' moths.

We received over two hundred phone calls last Saturday during and following the broadcast. Thanks a lot.

The program Saturday aff consisted of, Lou Hickman, Charles and Thelma Kollapp, Mary Jane Kealy, Alida Mae Sautter, Hilda Beach, Jay Teed, Curt Williams, and "Chuck" Bier.

School Fund to be Apportioned by County Head

The annual apportionment of funds from the 1934-1935 income on the irrevocable school money of Oregon was being made to Marion county schools yesterday by Mrs. Mary L. Fulkerson, county school superintendent. Each school district is to receive $1.25 for each child reported in the 1934 census. Marion county's total is $22,168 of which the Salem school district is to receive $9070.

Highway Flagman Killed at Toledo

TOLEDO, Ore., July 5. — (AP)—W. A. Craft, 68, highway construction flagman, was fatally injured here today when he turned suddenly to look at an oncoming caterpillar and backed into the rear fender of a slow-moving truck driven by Marion Bryant, truck driver, a recently retired merchant here, is survived by his widow and three sons.

Rules for Relief Expenditures Due

R. H. Baldock, state highway engineer, expects regulations today from the federal government, detailing the manner in which the state can expend its share of work relief funds on highways. The state has been apportioned $5,300,000 of the emergency funds, $2,300,000 of which goes for grade crossing elimination. The highway department has not called for any bids on the work pending receipt from Washington of detailed word on the rules governing the outlay.

Baldock said he was informed the president approved the method the funds would be expended on July 1, and that they were being sent to the states.

Henry F. Cabell, chairman of the highway commission, with Baldock, will attend the meeting of Western States association of highway officials at San Francisco July 16 at which time the regulations will be discussed with officials of the bureau of public roads.

LARGER PENSIONS ARE SOUGHT HERE

Many requests for additional payments on old-age pensions are being received currently at the courthouse. Pending passage of the social security bill by congress and the setting up of the state-wide organization to administer the fund here, Marion county is not able to add to pensions now granted, inasmuch as current outlays will use up all the moneys budgeted for pensions in 1935.

When the federal bill becomes law, the state relief committee is to administer the old-age pensions in this state, counties providing one-fourth of the funds, the state one-fourth and the federal government one-half. The maximum monthly payment which the federal government will make is $15; in no event will the federal government's contribution exceed the joint payments of the states and the counties. Average pensions now paid in this county are $11 a month.

Employment Figure High During June

Employment in Marion county as indicated by activities of the national re-employment agency here reached the highest point of the present year during June, according to the monthly report of Lois Barker, district statistician. A total of 475 jobs were filled through the agency, 20 by women and 445 by men. Five of the men employed were sent to other counties. Twenty-four of the men placed were war veterans.

The end of the month saw 3181 men and 385 women listed on the agency's files as desiring employment. During June, 445 new applications for work were received and 380 old applications canceled.
