

Gay Musical at Elsinore, Tense Dramatic Stories at Other Theatres

'ESCAPADE' COMING TO ELSINORE TODAY

William Powell Given New Type Role; Voice of Caruso is Heard

Viennese gaiety and music, whimsical comedy and luring musical sequences mark "Escapade," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new Continental romance coming today to the Elsinore theatre, and in which William Powell is introduced in an entirely new type of role.

The picture has many interesting surprises. It brings to the screen the golden voice of Enrico Caruso, amplified from existing records into the most lifelike replica possible of his actual voice, for a great opera sequence.

It introduces to the American screen as Powell's leading lady Luise Rainer, Viennese stage star, acclaimed in the Old World as a great dramatic actress and owner of Europe's "Most Beautiful Eyes."

His cast includes Frank Morgan, Virginia Bruce, Mady Christians, Laura Hope Crews, Reginald Owen, Henry Travers, Mathilde Comont and others of note. "Age of Indiscretion" Showing at Capitol

Capitol Film Is Dramatic

A story of divorce in the family is "The Age of Indiscretion" with Paul Lukas and Helen Vinson, current attraction at the Capitol.

'THUNDER IN EAST' AT STATE THEATRE

"Thunder in the East," formerly known as "The Battle," and probably the most talked-of picture of the season comes to the State theatre for three days starting today on its first Salem run.

Charles Boyer, Merle Oberon and John Loder have the leading roles in this Leon Garganoff production, presented by Al Lichtman and released through United Artists.

Based on "The Battle," popular pre-war French novel by Claude Farrere, the film tells in dramatic fashion the deeply moving story of the noble Marquis Yoriska, a Japanese naval commander, whose intense patriotism impelled him to sacrifice his beautiful wife Mitsuka to Fergan, a handsome English officer, for the glory of his country.

The story links two conflicts—one in the soul of Yoriska, the other the contest between two rival battle fleets.

The battle scenes, which offer a thrilling climax to the undercurrent of conflict in the lives of the husband, the wife and the lover, have been unanimously hailed as the most magnificent and effective ever shown upon a screen.

A new Walt Disney cartoon in color, "The Cookie Carnival," is on the same bill.

"Babooona" Jungle Film at Hollywood

One of the most sensational adventure films of all time is promised for the Hollywood theatre when the newest production of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, "Babooona," begins an engagement there today.

"Babooona," it is said, outdistances anything the Johnsons have yet brought back from unexplored and savage lands, not only for its authenticity and graphic detail but for sheer suspense and excitement.

This time the intrepid pair of explorers have made safari in Africa by air. They have created it during the last two years—some 60,000 miles by air above jungle and plain, above unknown waters and mysterious mountains.

According to those who have witnessed "Babooona" in preview showings, it furnishes one of the world's most extraordinary records of the conquest of the unconquerable.

The jungle has baffled the Johnsons before, as it has baffled many an adventurer, but this time they flew in! Where others had halted, they plunged on—and from the air they entered the forbidden kingdom of claw and fang.

EX-SALEM COUPLE IN MURDER-SUICIDE

Two former Salem residents, George E. Taylor, 65, and Grace Taylor, 42, his wife, met death by murder and suicide at San Jose, Calif., last Sunday, according to the account in a California newspaper received here yesterday.

Taylor, who visited Salem recently, was said to have gone to the hotel room of his wife, from whom he was estranged in the hope of effecting a reconciliation. The call ended in Taylor's shooting his wife and then turning the gun on himself.

While on his visit here Taylor told P. H. Preston, an old friend, that he was having marital troubles, borrowed $5 and said, "Thanks, I'll be seeing you," Preston states.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were for several years employed at the Oregon state hospital here before they went to California. In the south Mrs. Taylor worked at the Agnew hospital in San Jose and Mr. Taylor until recently at the Mendocino state hospital.

Yates Is Winner In Tight Battle With Porcupine

A battle to the death with a porcupine was the experience of E. J. Yates Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Conley were spending the evening at the home of Mrs. Fay Sherman when Mrs. Yates, who lives across the road on route 7, called to them.

They followed her into the garden where Yates was battling with a porcupine. The man had a long-handled hoe and the animal only its sharp spines. A bystander dog got a few quills in his nose but the rest of the audience escaped unharmed. It was the porcupine, of course, that was killed.
