With Mary Ritchie Pitching four hir ball, Wait's defeated the Eagles 6 to 2 last night in a game that saw tight defensive work on the part of both teams.

Double plays at crucial points saved runs for both sides, while Craig, Wait's second baseman, made what is undoubtedly the fluklest catch of the season to stave of a possible Eagle rally. Gribble played more than his share of the game for Wait's, including an unassisted double play that started with a one handed catch of Belt's hard liner. The game was much closer than Wait's four run margin indicates. Three of the four runs were the result of Ike Wintermute's home run to deep center with two on. Wait's scored first in the sec-ond when Dunn batted in Wintermute. The Eagles knotted the count in their half when Moriarty singled, was sacrificed to second by Humphreys and came home when Craig erred. Aden, first Wait's batter in the third, bit off a double and Gribble walked. Manning flied out and then Wintermute took square hold on one and laid it among the daisies in center field for a round trip ticket.

The two little shotmakers, neither weighing over 135 pounds, alternately hobbled and raced into the finals on this stifling Hoosier summer day with decisive victories that forecast a great duel for the title. Coria, limping and stumbling with ailing "dogs" that seemed to bark a dirge for his opponent, defeated Bill Russell, home town pride of Indianapolis, 4 and 2, while Frankie romped in to join him with an 11 and 9 conquest over Bob Tomes of Long Beach, Calif.

The softhall season is approaching its grand finale. There are only two more nights of regularly scheduled contests on the book, Monday and Wednesday. After that comes one playoff game, maybe, Thrown in next week is also the all star benefit game on Tuesday. That makes possibly four nights next week. Then comes the city playoff of two and maybe three nights. That's seven nights. Last year there were five hights in the state tournament. So softball fans have only a dozen nights of bleacher sitting and booing until their favorite sport moves over for football.

Another monicker has been uncovered for Lord Lansdowne. This time it's supposed to be his real one. The name is Jack O'Brien. It was brought forward, it seems by the Hamlin-Thye wrestling interests, now in the throes of a war for the juiclest parts of the mat business with Herb Owen and associates. The fact is that Lansdown is registered as O'Brien with the Coast Athletic association. He is also known to the trade as Pat Finnegan and the Duke of Barrington. The Hamlin-Thye brought out their confusing revelation with great eclat, proving once and for all that Lord Lansdown is no more royalty than Happy Hooligan. Waich is just like saying that there ain't no Santa Claus.
