that farming should be treated as a business.

"The farmer, as a class, is better off in these times than any other group of business men in the state," he declared.

Thornburg also said farm income can be doubled with irrigation.

Sam Brown is Head of Drainage Section
The drainage section of the congress re-elected Sam Brown, Salem, chairman; Dr. W. L. Powers, Corvallis, secretary; Ed Wist, Scappoose, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Grace Magruder, Clatskanie, legislative committee.

Lynn F. Salton, assistant manager of the Portland chamber of commerce, told delegates that industry is fully aware of the importance of reclamation and said his organization favors an aggressive policy in reclamation work on the part of the state and nation.

Other speakers, stressing particularly asserted errors in reclamation efforts of past years and pointing out means to avoid mistakes in the future, included C. C. Chapman of Portland, Percy Cupper of Salem and W. P. Stapleton, agricultural agent of the Northern Pacific railroad.

Many of those attending sessions of the reclamation congress announced their intention to remain for the two-day field tour, to start tomorrow, sponsored by the Willamette Valley Irrigation association.

MILITARY GUARDS OF HONOR PLANNED

for a fitting public memorial to the actor.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 20.—(AP)—For the first time since the intrepid airman first emblazoned his name on the skyways of the world, a Wiley Post homecoming was a solemn occasion tonight.

A quiet, orderly crowd stood mutely by as a silver, twin-motor plane settled slowly to earth at the municipal airport at 3:54 p.m. (CST).

It was Wiley Post's last landing. It ended an air journey of 4500 miles from the bleak Alaskan scene of the crash that took his life and the life of another of Oklahoma's famous sons, Will Rogers.

His widow, parents, and other relatives did not get to the airport, preferring to be alone when they received their dead.

Those in the crowd stood silent as the hearse swung out of the hangar, dropped in behind a cordon of motorcycle officers, and started from the field.

The hearse bore the remains of the famed flier to a funeral home. There it will rest until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, when a cortege will move out of Oklahoma City to Maysville, the tiny town in Garvin county that Post called home.

At 10 a.m. Thursday the body will be placed in the rotunda at the state capitol, there to lie in state for two hours and at noon, Oklahoma time, the same hour that services are being held in Los Angeles for Will Rogers, Oklahoma will pay its final tribute.

Both Rogers and Post will be given the state's homage in the official ceremony before the capitol. The memorial service will be brief, probably an invocation by a national guard chaplain and a brief address by Governor E. W. Marland.

A guard of honor composed of national guardsmen will escort the casket Thursday.

Way Resigns as Schramm's Aide For Private Job

Edmund T. Way, assistant state superintendent of banks, resigned Tuesday to accept a private position with the Grant County bank at John Day. Way has been connected with the state banking department for eight years.

T. B. Lumsden, present examiner, has been promoted to succeed Mr. Way. Lumsden previously was employed at Medford.

J. C. Lindley, deputy superintendent of banks, has been transferred to the examining department. He has been at Albany recently in connection with a bank liquidation.

Lindley will be succeeded at Albany by C. H. Young, now in charge of a defunct Klamath Falls bank.

Intrigue Afoot—Laughs Ahead!

In "Doubling Thomas", Fox Film's latest laugh success, Will Rogers portrays the role of a simple, home-loving sausage manufacturer, whose home life is suddenly tossed into a turmoil when an amateur impresario, Alison Skipworth, persuades his wife, Biddle Burke, that she has been suppressed all her life and that she really belongs to the stage and her public. Rogers effects a cure that will make America's ace humorist more loved than ever. Showing all week at the Hollywood theatre.

LARGER FUND FOR HEALTH IS SOUGHT

for transportation in 1935, estimating the health officer, dairy inspector and city health nurse travel 15,000 miles a year on city business. Dr. Douglas set mileage costs at four cents a mile.

Clerical Service Shortage Hampers
Shortage of clerical service has hindered the health department during the last few years in keeping its vital records and at the same time handling other office work. For this reason $500 more for the salaries of the three staff members who are paid all or in part by the city.

The health department for 1935 is receiving $21,253.93 from local sources in contrast with $30,610 in 1930. Further contributions of $11,300 from the Commonwealth fund and $375 from the state board of dental examiners were paid the department in 1930, making its total budget in that year $42,285.

Budget Spread Out Among Districts
For the present year the health department is receiving $5600 from the Salem school district, $6331 from the county, $1280 from the Silverton school district, $850 from the Marion county public health association, $450 from the Mill City school district, $225 from the Gates school district and $150 from the city of Silverton. An additional $1557.93 in the form of warrants carried over from 1934 is carried as 1935 income.

The health board is anxious to make ample provision in 1935 for matching federal funds which will be available under the social security act of congress. The local health unit, considered the most advanced in the northwest, has a good chance of being delegated to train public health workers for this area under this act. Dr. W. Frank Walker of the Commonwealth fund, stated while here last month.

HYDRANT CHARGES PROTEST TARGETS
Hearing involving the protest of the Oregon-Washington Water Service company, against a reduction of hydrant charges in the city of Hillsboro from $3.50 to 87 cents a month, was held in the state utilities department Tuesday.

An ordinance reducing the hydrant charges was adopted recently by the Hillsboro council under the home rule amendment.

The water company alleged that the reduction was unreasonable and that the rate of $3.50 a month previously was upheld in an opinion of the state supreme court.

In case the utility commissioner rules against the city of Hillsboro the ordinance may be referred to the voters. A favorable vote of the citizens of Hillsboro would mean that the reduced rate would prevail.

SAFETY GLASS LAW URGED FOR OREGON

Designed to eliminate one of the most serious causes of injury in an automobile smash-up-splintered razor-edged glass—the Oregon state legislature at a proposed session in September may consider a measure which would require all new automobiles to be equipped with safe, shatter-proof windshields and windows.

This has been indicated by the Oregon State Motor association, which has led in safety education and legislative work in Oregon. The safety glass law has been adopted in 21 states. The measure was recently enacted in California.

Laws Mostly Uniform
Virtually all of the new laws follow a uniform pattern, it was pointed out, in that they require safety glass of a type approved by the state motor vehicle authority as a prerequisite to registration of new vehicles manufactured or sold in the state after a certain specified date, or on school buses and common carrier passenger vehicles operating after a certain date.

According to accident investigators, nearly 75 per cent of the most serious injuries that result from automobile accidents are caused by broken glass. In many cases, the motor association explained, names could be kept off the injured list if safety glass were used in all automobiles.

As shatter-proof glass has become available, its use in the manufacture of automobiles has steadily increased. Now it is standard equipment in windshields at least on nearly 75 per cent of all new automobiles.

Ballot Title of Motor Fuel Bill Is Drafted Here
Ballot title for the proposed initiative measure to prohibit agreements, combinations or interference with free and unrestricted competition in the manufacture, transportation and sale of motor fuel, was completed by Attorney General Van Winkle Tuesday.

The measure is intended to restrict the operations of large motor fuel oil companies and prevent price fixing. The original petition was filed by Saul Friedman, Portland, treasurer of the independent gasoline retailers. It was signed by K. L. Gustin and 23 other persons.

Completed petitions must contain the signatures of 16,371 voters and be filed in the state department not later than July 1, 1936.

the next few weeks, Chairman Walter E. Miner stated last night. He was dubious of success, however, because C. C. Hockley, Oregon PWA engineer, recently advised the board such an application would be unlikely to bring an allocation of funds.

The board was expected to convene some time this week, possibly tonight, to consider bond election plans, which had been delayed pending preparation of legal opinions as to how the bond proposals should be worded.

A $50,000 building fund was contemplated. Of this amount, $30,000 would be a grant from the PWA.

Fire Threatens Settlement at Bonneville Dam
BONNEVILLE, Ore., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Flames which for a time threatened an entire settlement of 26 houses were brought under control by forest rangers and a construction crew tonight at Eagle Creek, three miles east of Bonneville. One home was destroyed.

Mrs. J. C. Johnson and Mrs. Martha Hanson, asleep in the house, escaped injury. The structure burned to the ground within a few minutes. The fire, believed to have started from a flue, leaped to surrounding timber before being controlled.

North Dakotan Insists That Neutrality Legislation Must Be Considered

cludes new graduated corporation income taxes, higher capital stock taxes, increased excess profits tax, boosted surtax rates on all individual incomes over $50,000, a new levy on dividends received by a corporation from another and increased estate and gift taxes.

The inheritance taxes were suggested by the president with the assertion that "inherited economic power is as insistent with the ideals of this generation" as having kings.

But the congressional conferees, attempting to harmonize the differences between the bills passed by the house and senate, agreed there should be no inheritance taxes.

Except for the Nye threat, the general adjustment machinery functioned smoothly. The senate passed the "must" railroad reorganization bill, debated the Guffey bill and was ready to proceed with other legislation.

The house marked time while conferees reached a final agreement on the Tennessee Valley Authority amendment, machinery of the house judiciary committee held a night meeting in an effort to expedite the "must" Walsh bill setting up NRA requirements for government contractors.

Considerable debate was expected by leaders when the tax bill reached the floor. Republicans immediately after it was agreed upon, issued a statement denouncing it.

20-30 CLUB PLANS LAWN FETE FRIDAY
Plans for a lawn party to be held Friday night, August 23, were discussed at the last meeting of the Salem 20-30 club, the first regular meeting following the election of new officers. The lawn party is designed to show the club's appreciation of those persons who helped to make the recent donkey ball series a financial success.

Pat Patterson, newly elected president, announced committees for the coming year as follows:

Owing, contending one purpose of the fire department millage tax voted several years ago was to provide such a system, contemplates using $10,000 from that fund for the alarms next year. An additional $3000 from this fund would be added to a $5000 extra appropriation in the budget to buy a new chemical truck to replace the old LaFrance which has been in service for 23 years.

The committee would first install alarm boxes at alternate corners in the business district and later put them in throughout the residence districts, O'Hara stated. In the late night hours at present citizens often have had to drive to the fire stations to turn in alarms, when telephones were not in reach.

Fake Sales Bill Signing Delayed By Acting Mayor
The ordinance passed by the city council Monday night banning "fake sales", a measure urged by the Salem Businessmen's league, has not yet been signed, Acting Mayor David O'Hara reported last night. He indicated he was undecided as to whether to sign this measure or leave it for the consideration of Mayor V. E. Kuhn, when the latter returns next Monday from a vacation trip to Vancouver, B. C. O'Hara, however, did sign an emergency ordinance Monday night setting the interest rate on a $78,000 bond issue to permit prompt signing of the purchase agreement.

The council elected O'Hara acting mayor without further nominations.

whole show. He issued only one free pass. He allowed two hits in the seventh and was replaced by Allard who also gave two.

Fielders Unemployed For Most of Game
Having only eight chances in nine innings, the M & M fielders had an easy time in turning in a perfect performance for the first errorless fielding of the tourney.

The M & M bats spoke to the tune of 11 hits off Louden, Toledo's snappily dressed pitcher. Two hits, a walk and an error started it off in the second when three runs crossed the platter. The hard-trying Toledo outfit held the flood in check for two innings but the dam burst in the fifth and M & M splurged in the next three frames brought the count to 10 to 0.

Morrie Helsler, M & M third sacker, set himself up as a rival to his brother Hank of Rotary Bred in the quest for tourney batting honors, with three hits in four times at bat. Schlaflig got a triple and Drake and Ash each turned in doubles.

M & M ..... 10 11 0
Toledo ..... 0 4 4
Berlant, Allard and Gette; Louden and Post.

Hooker Lee, Corvallis Chinaboy pitcher, and Sel Larsen, lanky Lebanon hurler, put on a mound duel of real calibre. Larsen won in strikeouts but the sly-eyed boy had him one better in hits and Corvallis had the real counter in the winning run that gave it a 3 to 2 victory.

There were only seven hits in the entire contest. Three were off Lee's delivery, four off Larsen's. Larsen struck out ten batters, Lee only six.

Poor Base Running Helps Decide Fray
The game was the tightest seen in this year's tournament and about as tight as any game can be in softball. Only a bit of unsteady base running on Lebanon's part kept it from going into extra innings.

The hustling Corvallis infield backed up Lee in fine fashion and cut off what would have gone for hits with many clubs.

None of the runs scored was earned off the two battling pitchers. Lebanon brought in the bacon first in the second inning when Campbell singled, went to second on a passed ball and on to third when Van Valin threw wide in trying to stop him at second. He scored on Clark's single.

Corvallis did all its heavy work in one big inning, the third. Two Lebanon errors on the variety known as Campbell singled, went to second on a passed ball and on to third when Van Valin threw wide in trying to stop him at second. He scored on Clark's single.

DELINQUENT WATER RENTAL ISSUE EYED

Claims of the Oregon-Washington Water Service company for delinquent water rentals due from relief families before the city bought the water system will be discussed at a conference of city, company and relief officials in the near future. The claims put forward at present amount to approximately $60.

The company avers that water requisitions were properly applicable to back bills, rather than to the periods they stipulated, and that later delinquent bills should be paid by the city. Officials of the city, however, contend they cannot pay water bills for periods other than those specified in the requisitions made out at relief headquarters.

A preliminary conference on the matter was held at the city hall yesterday afternoon by Acting Mayor David O'Hara, City Attorney Chris J. Kowitz, City Recorder A. Warren Jones and Walter E. Keyes, attorney for the company.
