Pretty Service is Event of Week

MONMOUTH.—A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Miss Jeanetta Marks became the bride of Herschel Bond at the farm home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Marks, near Monmouth. Rev. W. A. Ekins of the Christian church of Monmouth read the service before a group of relatives and close friends. Miss Marks wore an attractive floor-length ensemble of white lace over blue silk with blue jacket and carried an arm bouquet of sweet peas in pastel shades. Miss Elvie Bond, sister of the groom, was her bridesmaid, and wore pink crepe. Howard Crook was best man. An informal reception followed. Guests were: Mrs. J. R. Bond, Richard and Carl Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lotting and children, Mrs. Fred Cody and Teddy, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Cody, Miss Velma Bond, Miss Elvie Bond and Howard Crook, all of Monmouth, and Mr. and Mrs. William Kloehe of Canby. Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bond were hosts at a dinner party honoring the couple. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Bond, Miss Velma Bond, Miss Elvie Bond, Howard Crook and Mr. and Mrs. William Kloehe of Canby.

Celebrities on Honeymoon

Another Hollywood honeymooning pair. Marian Mansfield, radio star who has made a number of appearances in the films, and Arthur Rankin, screen actor, were married recently and wouldn't even tell their friends where they were going on their honeymoon. Photo shows the couple just before the trip began.

Salem B & PW Club Honored at Supper

THE country home of Miss Mabel Savage on the Garden road was the scene of a gay and festive supper Tuesday evening when members of the Salem Business and Professional Women's club met for an informal affair. Lighted Japanese lanterns added to the festiveness of the occasion. Many additional out-of-town guests were in attendance including the Portland and Oregon City clubs, the latter being cleverly costumed typifying the Pioneer Festival which will be held in Oregon City in September.

Miss Helen Louise Crosby, president of the Salem club, gave the address of welcome and responses were made by Mrs. Carolyn Cathcart, president of the Portland club; Miss Frances Bowland, vice-president of the Oregon City club, and Mrs. Winifred R. Herrick, state president.

Among those attending were: Mrs. Faith Kimball Black, Independence; Miss Hilda Swensen, Monmouth, Portland, Oregon City and Salem lists followed in order: Miss Ann Hinde, Mrs. Carolyn Cathcart, Miss Martha A. Field, Mrs. Rosaline Nattson, Miss Genevieve I. Fred, Miss Ina May Gellchell, Miss Anne Virth, Miss Nellie Purdy, Mrs. Bertha Jones, Mrs. H. Angenette Cressy, Miss Anna W. Calderwood, Miss Ethelwyn M. Hart, all of Portland.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS
There's a constant demand for the dress which makes a woman feel well-dressed in no matter what company, and yet inconspicuous because of its flawless taste. Popular demand is answered in pattern 2380, which has been designed with the heavier women in mind. How slenderizing the central skirt panel front and back, outlined simply by vertical seaming! How clever the way the slenderest part of a woman's arm, the wrist, commands attention with its deep, high cuff, which you may omit if you choose Grand and cool for hot September afternoons in a triple seer or new, novelty synthetic.

Pattern 2380 is available in sizes 14, 18, 20, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 34 takes 4 1-8 yard 39 inch fabric and 1/2 yard lace for vestee. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) to Anne Adams, 215 South Commercial Street, Salem, Ore. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Harold Santee Wed in Portland

MONMOUTH.—Of special interest to Monmouth people is the Santee-Baker wedding in Portland Saturday.

The pretty ceremony, at which Miss Leone Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Baker of Portland, and Harold Santee, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Santee of this city, were married, was an evening rite at 8 o'clock in the chapel of Stauß Memorial Congregational church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin dress combined with lace and a tulle veil, in the new short length, arranged in a cap. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Carlene Scott and Miss Marjory Linbaugh were bridesmaids. They wore blue and apricot colored organza dresses with matching hats. Their arm bouquets were of orchid and yellow asters.

The bridegroom was attended by his only brother, Donald Santee, and ushers were Glen Halliday, Viri White, Norman Roth and Kenneth Roth, all of Monmouth, and University of Oregon classmates of the groom.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents for the couple, their attendants, members of the two families and a group of close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Santee are on a wedding trip by motor to Seattle and other northern points. For going away Mrs. Santee wore a suit and accessories in black and a corsage of gardenias. They will be at home in Coquille where the groom will teach in junior high.

The bride, a 1932 Ross Festival princess, is graduate of Oregon Normal school, and is well known in Monmouth, and a student of the University of Oregon.

OREGON LAWYERS TO BETTER PROFESSION

Integrated Bar Will Bring Improvement, is Hayter's Word to Rotarians

Oscar Hayter, Dallas attorney, explained to Salem Rotarians Wednesday the purposes of the incorporation of the Oregon state bar.

Lawyers, he said, are "as much trusted and as much distrusted" as any profession. They are as honest as any other vocation, was his opinion, but there are individuals who give offense.

"Under the plan of the integrated bar, the profession hopes to build itself up so its members are above reproach in their dealings. We cannot make men angels overnight, but the new organization, with definite standards and officers, should be able to accomplish much."

"People are not going to get along without lawyers. You bump into law in all your relations—business, property ownership, driving an automobile, marriage, divorce. Then there is the large body of administrative law and regulation. Attorneys are required to aid citizens in complying with laws. The organized bar should be able to raise professional standards."

Hayter gave a spirited plea for improved methods in selecting judges. "Improve Judge Choosing" "It is a mistake," he said, "to select the best handshaker, those who can appeal to class prejudice, the best vote-getters for judges to deal with the lives and fortunes of people. Judges, by virtue of their position can do more mischief than other lawyers. In medicine we select the most skilled specialists for scientific problems. We should be likewise discriminating in choosing jurists."

September 4 is Earliest Grand Jury Will Meet

Judge L. H. McMahan will not call the Marion county grand jury into session before September 4, Pope and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bicker made a trip to the coast Sunday.

One of the most important cases to come before the grand jury is that of Dan Kellaher, former state parole officer, who was bound over to that body after waiting preliminary hearing in justice court on a charge of agreeing to accept a bribe.

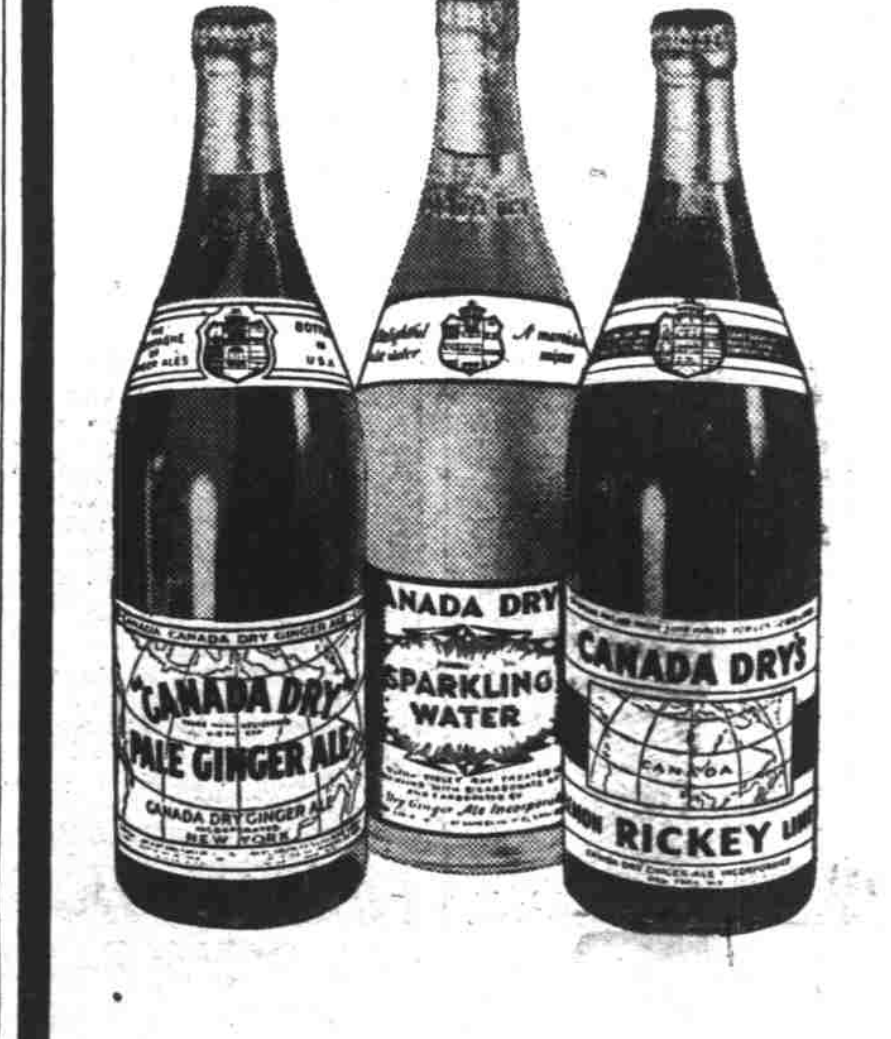

Kellaher was arrested in connection with an alleged contract between himself and L. A. Banks, life taker at the state penitentiary in case the latter succeeded in obtaining a pardon for the prisoner.

After spending the past ten days at Agate Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Asabel Bush left Monday for their home in Klamath Falls.
