CHERRIANS ATTEND DALLAS GATHERING

Wind Up Good Will Trips to Invite Valley Residents to Oregon's Fair

Salem Cherrians made their final good-will appearance advertising the Oregon state fair, which opens here today, before a luncheon meeting of the Dallas chamber of commerce and Kiwanis clubs Friday.

"And you can tell the world that Dallas is going to send a big delegation to the state fair this year, judging from the hearty reception the Cherrians' invitation received Friday," F. G. Deckebach, sr., main speaker at the luncheon for the Cherrians, declared upon return to Salem. Dallas businessmen declared they are just as deeply interested in the state fair as are Salem's civic leaders who attended the luncheon.

Invite Dallas People
J. A. Inglis, president of the Dallas chamber of commerce, presided, with C. E. Wilson of the Salem chamber introducing the Salem visitors. In addition to the main address by Mr. Deckebach, short talks were given by C. P. Bishop, Henry R. Crawford and J. E. Roman, Salem leaders, who invited the Dallas citizens especially to come to the fair.

Never before have Salem business and civic leaders, from the mayor and city officials and county officials on down, been so actively interested in success of the fair, Deckebach told the Dallas group.

Representing the Cherrians at the meeting were C. P. Bishop, pioneer merchant; Henry R. Crawford, postmaster; F. G. Deckebach, sr., past kingling; Dr. David B. Hill, J. F. Weisser, Portland Electric company; Geo. H. Riches, cashier Ladd & Bush; J. R. Roman, manager First National bank and Kiwanis club president; William E. Hanson, Union Abstract company, and C. E. Wilson.

Thousand Pounds Of Beans Packed At County Plant

One thousand pounds of string beans were packed by the county canning merchant, Henry R. Crawford, following a brief illness. Funeral will be conducted from the St. Boniface Catholic church at Sublimity at 9 o'clock Monday morning, with burial in the family plot in the Sublimity Catholic cemetery.

Weddie's mortuary of Stayton will direct the funeral which will be under the auspices of the Catholic Foresters and Knights of Columbus of which Mr. Hottinger was an active and ardent member.

He leaves to mourn his loss a son, Fred Hottinger of Stayton; three daughters, Mrs. Joseph Benedict of Portland, Mrs. E. A. Ditter of Sublimity and Mrs. Edward J. Bell of Stayton; and seven grandchildren. His wife preceded him in death about five years ago.

Four Mentioned For Council Job
The names of E. L. Wiedner, Van Wiedner, William McGilchrist, Jr., and William Schlitt were receiving mention yesterday as possible candidates for the city council position from the second ward which was left empty by the death of Alderman Henry H. Vandeventer, whose successor will be elected by the council. The Wiedners are proprietors of the Salem laundry. McGilchrist is an insurance and real estate agent, and Schlitt is president of the Sanitary Service company and King King of the Cherrians.

Accident Case Continued—Continuation of the case of Fred Rogers, accused of failing to stop and give first aid after an accident, was announced yesterday in justice court. It will be heard sometime in September.

Seeks Bankruptcy—Edgar Francis Jacobson, bartender and fry clerk of Salem, has filed an involuntary petition for bankruptcy in federal court, Portland. His liabilities are listed at $351.25; his assets, at nothing.

Allowed Expense—O. W. Emmons has been allowed $126.25 as guardian of the estate of George W. Washington, for expenses, attorneys fees and guardian fees from June 1, 1934 until May 31, 1935.

Sell Wheat—The United States National Bank of Portland, as guardian of the estate of Virginia Campbell, a minor, has been granted authority to sell 6,500 bushels of wheat belonging to the estate.

To Sell Property—Herman Otjen, executor of the estate of Ann Peters, was granted authority in county court yesterday to sell personal property to pay claims against the estate.

Files Answer—An amended answer was filed in circuit court yesterday by Mike Wolfe and Jane Wolfe, defendants in a suit brought by Charles Amort and Lena Amort.

With Suttle lake, in the upper Santiam region, as a definite objective, and with a probability that the trip will include a swing over to the Metolius and a touch at Breitenbush, with a detour by way of Castalia, Dr. Eschell, accompanied by Mrs. Brunk and the son, is leaving Saturday morning by motor for a 3-day outing.

Helen Borrego is back from her long visit in Arizona. Helen, in case you don't know, is one of the efficient young women on the usherette staff of the Grand theatre.

Salem travelers who have just returned from a tour of the California cities, including a brief side trip to Juana, tell of a great change that has come over the famous Mexican resort as a result of new laws governing gambling. The noise and color and animation of the past have largely disappeared.

The opening date for the new Grand theatre has been definitely established as next Monday, September 2. Labor day. The feature picture will be "Ginger," the star of which is Jane Withers. Interest in what the Messrs. Schmidt have accomplished in the way of making an entirely up-to-date theatre of the old Grand is general. It has been a big and costly piece of work, and the Schmits, who have established themselves thoroughly in the good graces of the Salem public, are subject to the warmest of congratulations. The house force will continue as it was when the theatre was closed in July.

HOTTINGER RITES SET FOR MONDAY

STAYTON, Aug. 30—Charles Hottinger of Stayton, 73, passed away at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland Friday morning at 2:15 o'clock, following a brief illness.

Funeral will be conducted from the St. Boniface Catholic church at Sublimity at 9 o'clock Monday morning, with burial in the family plot in the Sublimity Catholic cemetery.

Weddie's mortuary of Stayton will direct the funeral which will be under the auspices of the Catholic Foresters and Knights of Columbus of which Mr. Hottinger was an active and ardent member.

He leaves to mourn his loss a son, Fred Hottinger of Stayton; three daughters, Mrs. Joseph Benedict of Portland, Mrs. E. A. Ditter of Sublimity and Mrs. Edward J. Bell of Stayton; and seven grandchildren. His wife preceded him in death about five years ago.

Seminary Grads, Faculty to Hold Reunion Sept. 4
A reunion of former students and faculty members of Lafayette seminary will be held at Lafayette September 4 with picnic dinner in the park at the Locks, at noon. Should the weather prove unfavorable for an outdoor gathering the meet will be held in the Evangelical church.

Culvert Project Handed Approval By County Court
Approval of a WPA project, covering replacement of a concrete culvert one mile north of Woodburn, was announced yesterday by the county court. Work will start immediately.

The culvert is said to be the largest in the county, and has been broken down for some time. Traffic conditions were maintained by constant filling in of the road.

The road in question absorbs a great deal of local traffic between Woodburn and Hubbard, and was up this year as an oil road project, but was refused because of the condition of the culvert.

Poultry—One entry, by Gertrude Mason, Brooks.
Rabbits—Four entries, all by Donna Upjohn, Bethel.

Results of demonstrations staged at the high school Thursday were announced yesterday as follows:

Dollar dinner—First, Rowena Upjohn; homemaking, first, Bethel team; clothing demonstration, first, Sublimity team; cooking demonstration, first, Keizer team; second, Salem team; third, Gates team; fourth, Bethel team.

Hearing of Pair Set for Today; Larceny Charge
Preliminary hearing in the case of Virrell Kinney and Theron Wilson, accused of larceny of radio, caps and a watch from a local auto wrecking yard, yesterday was set for 10 o'clock this morning in justice court. Both pleaded not guilty, and Kinney was freed on $150 bail. Wilson was unable to furnish bail, and is waiting hearing in jail.

Ernest Craig yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery, and his case was continued until Tuesday for sentence. He was charged with beating his daughter.

A charge of disorderly conduct against Paul Billings was dropped upon motion of the district attorney because of insufficient evidence, and Lee Ray, found guilty of trespass on a private bathing beach, was ordered to appear next week for sentence.

BIG PLANE COMES TO LOCAL AIRPORT

An airplane declared to be the world's largest all-metal tri-motor ship, carrying 12 passengers and two pilots, is at the Salem airport, prepared to make passenger flights today and next week. It is a Ford ship equipped with three Pratt-Whitney Wasp engines, each of 425 horsepower.

The pilot is Eddie DeLarm, who was chief test pilot for the Ford company for three years, and held for some time the record for the longest over-water flight, from Miami to Buenos Aires. Co-pilot is Claude Wilson, veteran flying instructor from central California. Regular scenic passenger flights will be made and special flights may be arranged by getting in touch with Ken Clark of Pacific Airlines, at the airport. Arrows pointing the route to the airport, for convenience of fair week visitors, were to be posted.

Member Drive to Be Started Soon By Local YMCA

Sustaining membership drive for the local Y. M. C. A. will begin immediately after the closing of the state fair, according to an announcement yesterday by C. A. Kells, secretary of the Salem division.

At a luncheon yesterday, plans were begun for the launching of the annual general membership drive here early in October. A. E. Larimer, associate general secretary of the Portland Y. and Secretary Kells, will be in charge.

Those attending the luncheon were Douglas McKay, general chairman of the membership committee; Carle Abrams, W. I. Staley and C. A. Sprague.

CLINIC ANNOUNCED
SILVERTON, Aug. 30—The regular pre-school clinic will be held Tuesday afternoon at the health center at the Silvertown school.

ARROWS POINT TO FAIRGROUND GATE

Yellow arrows pointing the way to the new main gate of the state fairgrounds were up yesterday and larger signs at important intersections were expected to be set up today to remind Salem motorists in particular that the easiest point of entry to the grounds is that on North 18th street, state police announced.

The 18th street entrance, which draws traffic away from the heavily congested Smith street and Silvertown road gates, leads directly to the center of the fairgrounds parking area and permits early arriving motorists to park close to the grandstand and the midway. "Salem people will find this entrance a great convenience," declared Lieutenant Walter Lansing of the state police. "By using it they will get away from the dust, slow traffic and danger of being caught on the Smith street railroad crossing, and they can drive along a graded road to a point near the center of interest at the fair."

The North 18th street entrance is best reached by driving north to Market street and east to 18th. The route is well-marked with red-bordered arrows lettered in black.

Report on Banks Pardon Hearing To Be Given Out

What action will be taken by Governor Martin in connection with the pardon application for L. A. Banks, now serving a life term in the state penitentiary for murder, will be determined definitely early next week.

Governor Martin said the report was being completed and that it would deal with all phases of the pardon hearing.

The petition originally was filed by Dan Kellaher, ex-state parole officer. Kellaher later denied that he sought a pardon for Banks but merely an investigation of the trial.

Banks shot and killed George Prescott, Jackson county constable, during the ballot theft controversy.

New High School Students Asked To Register Now

Boys and girls who plan to enter Salem high school September 16 and who did not attend public school in Salem last year were requested yesterday by Fred D. Wolf, principal, to register at once at his office. But nine new pupils have registered to date in contrast with an average of more than 70 in past years at this time.

New registrants at the high school include the following: Earl M. Preston, Newport; Marjorie Baker, Barbara Lamb, Wilmer Lamb, Albany; William Vice, Plattsmouth, Neb.; Dorothy Roberts, Oregon City; Rodney C. Hawkins, Klamath Falls; Reynold Lawe, Shawano, Wis.; Edna Novak, Oregon City; Jack Roach, Jewell rural high school.
