Seen by the Sage

By D. H. TALMADGE
The streets buzzed this morning with the Huey Long news. On the walks, in the banks and shops, that topic was uppermost.

A man in one of the banks delivered himself of this: "The result will be one of two things—Long will die or he will be president." I am withholding the man's name to save him from the necessity of explaining explanations later. In the event, of course, that the Louisiana senator survives the shot.

Good attendance is reported from all theatres Sunday. Average congregations at the churches were small. Weariness due to a week of fair is held responsible in both instances.

Expert opinion—or at any rate, the expert we have—is that Garbo in "Anna Karenina" tops anything in point of artistic finish that she has heretofore done. Furthermore, in "Karenina" she has the best support she has ever been given. A year or two more and the accent and the mannerisms she brought from Sweden will be gone. They are noticeably less in each succeeding picture.

Western Auto Supply has annexed the room on Court street heretofore occupied by the J. C. O'Rielly harness shop. Devoting it to all supplies.

It was Lotion
Says a postal received this morning from a feminine Salem reader, pertaining to an item published here the other day: "The man who thought he saw Clark Gable wash his hands from a bottle of Perry street." Has this gentleman never heard of after-shaving lotions?" I reckon not. He wore a beard and his hands were dirty. I should have known better.

Mrs. Rose Andresen is back at her old job in the Commercial Book Store.

News from a certain Iowa newspaper in the morning mail: "D. H. T. is getting along in years." Probably true. I suspect as much now and then. But I reckon there is nothing to be done about it.

Lad Little Hurt When Auto Hits

Lloyd Parish, a boy reported to have been playing hide-and-seek with some young companions, was struck and slightly injured by an automobile driven by Everett Hunter, 1975 North Fifth street about 7:30 o'clock Monday night on Silverton road. According to Hunter's report to the police, young Parish ran across the road in front of the car, and was struck despite the fact that Hunter swerved his car and took to the ditch in trying to avoid him.

BEAN PACK ENDING; PRUNES COME NEXT

Pears are Sidetracked for Big Local Fruit Run at Plants Here

With the 1250 ton pack of beans expected to be virtually finished this week, the tomatoes coming in slowly, and the pears either canned or in cold storage, six of the local packing firms prepare to start prune packing this week.

The early estimates of 1250 ton production of beans for the West Station section, Grover Hillman of the West Salem cannery states, is not more than 5 per cent off, which means that about 100,000 cases of beans will have been packed.

Around 500 pickers, according to estimates, were used in the bean patches during peak time, with a peak delivery of 60 to 70 tons a day.

Paulus Bros. Packing company, just entering a new venture in the line of tomato canning, reported yesterday that the tomatoes were coming in slowly. No one would venture an estimate on the tonnage of tomatoes which is particularly subject to possible changes in weather conditions. The main block of tomatoes for Hillman's comes from the West Station irrigated section but this plant has contracts in other districts also. Tomatoes are being grown for the two plants on Grand Island, near Jefferson, near Stayton and in scattered plantings including a number in bottom lands along the river north of here.

Starr Fruit report that no heavy deliveries of tomatoes will be made until the middle of next week.

Sidetracked Pears For Prune Pack

Prunes, according to Paulus Brothers, began coming in yesterday. They were, they declared, not running pears very heavily because they wanted to get the prunes out of the way, although they do not expect to hit the peak in prunes until the latter part of the week. Starr Fruit also reports that it will have a heavy run of prunes by the last of the week.

The California Packing corporation, while it has just opened on prunes, will continue with the pear packing. The Produce cooperative will begin work on prunes today, with the pears in cold storage awaiting some spare time before receiving consideration. Reid Murdock company, while still handling pears, report that they will start on prunes Wednesday. Prune packing began last night, with pear packing continuing, at Hunt Brothers.

Berry canning continues at Reid Brothers, Starr Fruit and Reid Murdock and company.

LONG GETS BANNER IN PAPERS ABROAD

LONDON, Sept. 9.—(AP)—By banner headlines and fat-typed newspaper placards, England learned today of the attempted assassination of Huey Long.

The Louisiana senator rivals President Roosevelt here as a candidate for what Britishers consider America's most interesting personality. The press put out headlines describing "fears of coup d'etat" and "turmoil after shooting."

Despatches to England papers had:

"National guard called out to control crowds."
"There is tense atmosphere throughout whole state but little possibility of armed revolt."
"Long's opponents not equipped for national guard's machine guns."

Besides the cable reports, all London newspapers carried lengthy articles on Long's career. Phrases fell like:

"America's playboy."
"Roosevelt's bitterest critic."
"The most baffling and bizarre character in American politics."
"The Evening Standard said editorially:

"Perhaps Long was more frequently charged with corrupt practices than any other man of our time. In his own state he established a dictatorship by methods not known to Mussolini or Hitler."

Another commentator wrote: "Outside of Louisiana, the world has a distorted view of the Kingfish. He is remarkably intelligent. There is no more talented lawyer in the United States. If he lives, he will win the sympathy which accrues to every political martyr."

"Camels don't get your Wind" FAMOUS ATHLETES AGREE

DIVER (left) Harold ("Dutch") Smith says: "After a meet, a Camel restores my energy. And what's equally important to me—Camels never interfere with my wind."

TRACK STAR (right) James Bausch reports: "Camels are so mild they don't get my wind or cut down my speed and endurance. And Camel is a better-tasting cigarette."

SLUGGER (left) Lou Gehrig says: "Camels never get my wind or my nerves. I like their flavor. That famous saying, 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!' goes for me too."

SWIMMER (right) "One of my hard and fast rules in smoking," says Josephine McKim, "is always to choose a Camel. Camels are mild. They never bother my wind."

SWIMMER (right) Susan Vilas says: "I've discovered that Camels are mild. They don't cut down my wind or upset my nerves. And Camels are so full of delightful taste."

TENNIS ACE (left) Bill Tilden: "I must keep in 'condition.' So I smoke Camels. They don't get my wind or upset my nerves. And I never tire of their smooth, rich taste."

STAR WOMAN GOLFER (right) "There's a certain delicacy in the flavor of Camels," says Helen Hicks. "And Camels do not affect my nerves or cut down my wind."

GOLFER (left) Tommy Armour: "Camels never bother my nerves or shorten my wind. And a Camel combines mildness with rich flavor in such a pleasing way."

JANE FAUNTZ, Olympic Swimming and Diving Star. "Being both a swimmer and a diver," says Miss Fauntz, "I have to keep in perfect 'condition.' Since I started smoking, I have always smoked Camels. Camels are mild and made from naturally fine tobaccos. They do not get my wind or jangle my nerves. And as for taste—Camels have a most delightful and appealing flavor. They are so soothing and gentle to the throat."
Other champions agree with Miss Fauntz as to the mildness of Camels...their fragrance and flavor...their good taste. Athletes say Camels don't fray their nerves or get their wind.
