

Local News Briefs

Answer Filed—The Southern Pacific company filed answer in court yesterday to the damage action brought against it by M. S. Smith. The company admits that part of the complaint stating that the defendant and his tractor were struck by the train at a crossing on his farm May 10 of this year, but denies that the company or the engineer of its train were at fault, since the complainant paid no attention to the approach of the train at that time, and that the accident was due to his own negligence.

Seen by the Sage

By D. H. TALMADGE
Hash is not the only mystery in life. There is considerable puzzle in the office of a well-known life insurance company on North Commercial street because of the receipt during the past few days of a mail package which should have been forthcoming from Portland in June.

In June J. H. Zelle was local manager at that time and the contents of the package were of interest to him only, being testimonials as to his record with the company. Zelle is now working for the company in San Diego, and the mail will be forwarded to him, but the mystery still remains. Where has the package been during the past nine years? The explanation is doubtless simple, whatever it may be.

M. E. Thompson is owner and manager of the new dairy lunch just opened in the old Home restaurant location.

Clay McDowell's name was put on the window as owner of the Valley Meat company's market across the street from the old-established McDowell market.

Adolphs Leaving
Mrs. Joe Adolph and Alden are leaving this morning for a stay of two weeks at Victoria, B. C.

Following the resignation of Eva Kerber white as cashier at the Elsinore, Elvina Kasberg has been transferred from the Capitol box-office to the Elsinore and Helen Pierce has succeeded Miss Kasberg at the Capitol.

Irene Stover has resigned her place at the Court Street Dairy lunch.

The room now in process of refitting in the new High building on State street is to be occupied by a wine store.

Attended an impromptu fortune-telling party at the Miller store yesterday. Chinese system. My fortune was not so hot, but perhaps as good as might reasonably be expected. I have not much faith in fortune-telling, but have a preference for reasonably favorable ones. I reckon each of us has a streak of superstition in us. This is because, I presume, there is so much of the mysterious in life.

County Jail Not Barred for Uncle Sam's Prisoners
Apparently the Marion county jail is not one of those in the state which has been condemned for use in holding federal prisoners, or at least no such notification has been received here, the sheriff's office reported yesterday.

Federal regulations prohibit collection by the county for keeping federal prisoners, if the jail has been listed as "condemned." Apparently unless such action has been taken lately, the Marion county jail is not included because a voucher was mailed to the sheriff's office in payment for keeping the last federal prisoners held here.

Reports from other sections of the state revealed that a number of jails in the state have been discontinued for handling government prisoners.

FURNACE ORDERS FORCE EXPANSION
A contract received from Sears, Roebuck & Co. by the W. W. Rosebraugh company, 680 South 17th street, has necessitated extensive additions to the company's plant and has doubled the payroll of the firm.

The nationally known mail order house is now selling the Rosebraugh furnace throughout the country, although the contract with the local manufacturing concern pertains mainly to the eleven western states. The furnaces are shipped wherever Sears, Roebuck & Co. may direct.

The Rosebraugh company is the only one of its kind on the Pacific coast and was selected after the Chicago company had inspected furnace factories all over the northwest.

The company now has an average payroll of about 20 employees. This fall it plans construction of a warehouse for housing the furnaces while they are held for shipment.

Sand Island Case Goes to High Court
Both the states of Oregon and Washington have appealed to the United States supreme court in litigation involving title to Sand Island, commercial fishing resort near the mouth of the Columbia river. Ralph Moody, assistant attorney general, declared yesterday. The island is now claimed by the national government, as decided by the federal court recently. Fishermen at the mouth of the Columbia river will join in the appeal, Moody said.

FILES COMPLAINT FOR FALSE CHARGES

Jack Price filed a complaint in circuit court Wednesday against the United Pacific Casualty Insurance company for $5,000 general damages and $5,000 punitive damages, for "slandering statements" which he charged were made against him on August 20, 1935, and that they were untrue, and made to injure his reputation.

He charged that the defendant "by insinuation and innuendo, did wrongfully, unlawfully, wilfully, maliciously and falsely say of and concerning the plaintiff herein, that plaintiff was a thief and guilty of larceny in a dwelling house." The complaint stated that the statement was made in the presence of Floyd Ellis and S. L. Jepserson and other persons.

15 Cars, Labish Onions, are Sold
Fifteen cars of Oregon onions have been marketed from the Lake Labish district, as a portion of a 100-carload movement which was launched by a group of Portland wholesale dealers. Reflecting the heavy demand for the premium product, the price of this long-keeping variety has advanced to $1 a hundred. The 1935 onion crop has been estimated at about 1300 carloads.

Violence is Bad Factor in Long's Death, Prof Says

"The deplorable thing about the death of Huey Long is that the political situation in this country could become such that violence and murder is called into play," Dr. S. E. Laughlin, professor of sociology at Willamette university, said yesterday.

"Long accomplished a lot of good but he did it in a bad way," Laughlin said, adding that Huey's accomplishments included good roads, a marvelous state capital and an improved school system.

T. Roen Heads New Hermit Club
The Hermit club, at their first meeting of the season at the Y. M. C. A. last night, elected Tom Roen to the office of Peter the Hermit; Douglas Chambers, Hank the Hermit; Coryden Brodret, Jake the Hermit, and Stuart Nelson, Keeper of the Rock. The club will sponsor several hikes this fall, a junior first-aid class starting October 1, a camp-craft school during the winter, and a camp cooking school next spring.
