Ethiopian Envoy Responds to Barbarism Charge; Language is Eyed plicate the league's dilemma over the Italo-Ethiopian affair. Many speakers appeared regardless of the communique. But after the oratory was over the text of the Italian communique—posted on the league's bulletin board—remained the chief center of interest.

In all corners of the assembly building it was eagerly discussed as creating an entirely new situation.

A spokesman for the Italian delegation said no aggressive intention was behind the Italian cabinet action. It was merely a defensive measure, he said, "not aimed at anyone."

Canada Will Join In Any Peace Move
Canada's representative, George Howard Ferguson, told the assembly that if a peaceful solution cannot be reached: "Canada will join other members of the league in considering how, by unanimous action, peace can be maintained."

"There is only the question of defending the covenant of the league as the Litvinoff, soviet commissar for foreign affairs, Litvinoff created surprise by saying the "covenant is not enough" and asserting certain bilateral non-aggression pacts "actually are designed for security and aggression."

Poles and Germans interpreted this remark as an attack upon the German-Polish treaty of non-aggression.

The Little Entente, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Yugoslavia, and the Baltic states also defended the league covenant.

The speeches today followed ones in which Great Britain and France earlier this week pledged whole-hearted support to the league covenant.

The British delegation declined to make any statement until after a study of the official text of the Italian cabinet declaration. Informal conversations in British circles, however, gave the impression they were not "frightfully worried" over the communique.

Nimrods Prepare for Early Start

With the opening of deer season only a week away numerous Salem nimrods are preparing to lead into the mountains at the end of the week so as to be among the first to bag a limit after the bars are lowered next Sunday.

The opening of the season on September 22 is two days later than in previous years but the closing date, October 25, will be the same as before.

Promises of rains during the week has forestalled fears that the season might be further shortened due to closure of forest areas as a fire precaution.

Bay limit will be two Columbia blacktail deer or one mule deer or one whitetail deer during the season.

Among hunters from Salem and vicinity who are planning to do red shirts are the following: Warren McEwen, George Lathrop, Marvin Headrick, Carl Shaffer, F. B. McKinney, Webb Ross, William Osterman, George Viesko, Ed Viesko, Russ Butler, Bill Merriott, Joe Palnter, Glen McNeil, A. E. Cole, John Landeman, James W. Hussey, Morris Aelford, Marion E. West, Elmer L. Erickson and Vernon Clark.

Newspapers Given Portion of Blame

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Principal speaker at memorial services held here today for the assassinated Senator Huey P. Long, the Rev. Gerald L. S. Smith, national organizer of share-the-wealth clubs, urged his hearers "not to believe anything you read in newspapers, to believe nothing unless it bears my signature or the signature of Gov. O. K. Allen."

"I lay the assassination of Huey Long to the newspaper editors of Louisiana and the political gangsters of Louisiana," said Dr. Smith in an address similar to one delivered over radio from New Orleans last night and reminiscent of the fiery and vituperative speeches of his late leader.

The minister said newspapers had "encouraged" the shooting attack in the state house last Sunday night which claimed the life of Senator Long and his assassin, Dr. C. A. Weiss, Jr., "by playing up any hoodlum who talked of going to Baton Rouge with a shotgun to kill Huey Long."

400 Pay Taxes in Rush on Saturday

number to approximately 500. Taxes on an additional 104 parcels, in a single tract, were expected to be paid soon.

At the present rate of incoming taxes, the collector declared a turnover of approximately $100,000 would be made this month. He said his goal of collecting enough 1935 and back taxes to equal the total amount levied for 1935 appeared likely to be reached.

The county's foreclosure suits have caused so many delinquencies to be wiped out that the list of parcels liable to foreclosure after next January 1 doubtless will be "very light," Sheriff A. C. Burk said.

Forget-Me-Nots Will Go on Sale Here Soon; Veterans Cause Wins Whole-Hearted Support of Mayor

As a part of a nation-wide campaign to raise funds for local services and emergency relief programs, and for the continued maintenance of rehabilitation service maintained by the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, blue forget-me-nots will be offered for sale in Salem on September 27 and 28, proclaimed by Mayor Kuhn as forget-me-not days, under the sponsorship of the local D.A.V. organization.

"If all of you could become personally acquainted with the problems of the disabled veterans," Dr. D. A. Williams, chairman of the forget-me-not committee of chapter No. 6, local, declared, "your eyes would be awakened to the truth that we have not yet fulfilled our generous war-time promise, and your hearts would prompt you to open your pocket-books for the purchase of a forget-me-not."

"I have seen several examples of the humanitarian service rendered by the D.A.V.," Dr. Williams continued, "which has not only helped the unfortunate individuals directly concerned but has converted them from community liabilities to community assets."

Mayor Kuhn's proclamation reads as follows: "I as mayor of the city of Salem, Oregon, do hereby designate Friday and Saturday, September 27 and 28 as forget-me-not days for the benefit of all Disabled American Veterans of the World War. It is my hearty wish that the city officials and the public

Choir Will Sing Daily at W.U. Conclaves, Voted at Faculty Meet

Plans for making Willamette university's chapel services, for years compulsory for students, of interest to town-people as well as those of the university were approved yesterday when the Willamette faculty held its first meeting of the year.

A choir of 30 voices will sing at each chapel program, it was decided, and programs on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be broadcast by radio. The chapel program, previously held every school day from 11:25 a. m. to 11:55, will be discontinued on Mondays while on Fridays the period will be devoted to student meetings.

Dr. Bruce R. Baxter, president of the university, will conduct the exercises on the three mid-week days when the program is broadcast although prominent speakers from outside the university will be invited to appear when available. Breaking precedent of years' standing, a plan whereby students will be seated by classes, regardless of sex, was approved. Formerly men students were seated on one side of the chapel while women were on the other. Another change will be that freshmen, who formerly were seated at the back of the chapel, will now be seated in front while the seniors will be moved to the back rows.

Borah Popular in Own Home State

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 14.—(AP)—William E. Borah, a potential but unannounced candidate for the presidency, is back in Idaho mingling with the people and winning interest to town-people as well as those of the university were approved yesterday when the Willamette faculty held its first meeting of the year.

When the shaggy-haired veteran of nearly 30 years in the United States senate enters a hall crowded with waiting listeners, his audience rises and claps and cheers, sometimes for minutes.
