

Comedy Reigns in Fast-Moving Musicals and Romantic Farces

Music Feature Is at Elsinore

"Top Hat" Brings Astaire and Rogers; Joe Brown Stars at Capitol

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers come to the screen as co-stars in their fourth musical picture, "Top Hat," today at the Elsinore, which features a score of lyrics and melodies by Irving Berlin. They introduce a new sensational ballroom dance in "Piccolino."

In "Top Hat" Astaire and Ginger are the principals of a gay romance which unfolds in London and climaxes at the colorful European resort, the Lido. They introduce the new dance, "Piccolino," hailed as a more vibrant and exhilarating routine than either the "Carols" or the "Contestants." Said to be easily adaptable to the ballroom, it is expected to become the nation's most popular new dance.

The "Piccolino" is one of six numbers written by Irving Berlin for "Top Hat." The others are "No Strings," "Cheek to Cheek," "Get Thee Behind Me, Satan," "Top Hat" and "Isn't This a Lovely Day."

The featured cast with Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers includes Edward Everett Horton, Helen Broderick, Erik Rhodes and Eric Blore.

"Alibi Ike" Comes To Capitol Today

Joe E. Brown wrote the lyrics for a song sung by a baseball players' quartet in his new Warner Bros. picture, "Alibi Ike," which comes to the Capitol theater today. The theme is typical of the bar-room ballads of the late 90's.

Joe E. Brown comedies usually subordinate the love interest, but in "Alibi Ike" there is a real romance, which gives Olivia de Havilland an opportunity to show her talent.

"Alibi Ike" is Joe E. Brown's latest comedy for Warner Bros. It is based on the famous baseball story by Ring Lardner, the screen play being written by William Wister Haines and directed by Raymond Enright. Others in the cast include besides Miss de Havilland, Ruth Donnelly, Roscoe Karns, William Frawley and Eddie Schaubert.

"Two Sinners" is the second feature at the Capitol theater, with Otto Kruger in the starring part, Martha Sleeper, Minna Gombell, Ferdinand Munier and Cora Sue Collins in featured roles, and Harrington Reynolds, Fred Walton, Olat Hyten, Montague Shaw, Wm. F. Carlton and Harold Entwistle in the supporting cast.

100 Seek Places, Willamette Choir

At the first rehearsal of Willamette university Philharmonic choir Thursday night, more than 100 students attended, approximately twice the number in the combined ensemble of last year. Prof. Cameron Marshall, head of the music department, announces that unusual interest has been manifested in all musical activities. The Philharmonic choir, the combined men's glee club and the girls' treble clef, will present the musical oratorio, "Elijah," by Mendelssohn next semester.

Independent Men Pick Bill Lemmon as Head

The new officers for the Independent Men's Social organization at Willamette university are Bill Lemmon, president; Frank Thomas, vice-president; and Walter Bach, secretary-treasurer. All men students who are not members of Greek letter social fraternities are eligible for membership.

Fox Convicted of Inebriate Driving

Jurors in the C. W. Fox drunken driving trial took about 10 minutes yesterday morning to return a verdict of guilty, whereupon Judge Miller Hayden of justice court assessed a $100 fine and 30 days in county jail. Fox immediately appealed the matter to circuit court, and continues at liberty on $250 bail.

Testimony and arguments in the case, a retrial after a jury had deadlocked the week previous, consumed all of Friday, the case going to the jury the first thing yesterday morning. An attorney's lengthy argument over admissibility of testimony of the physician who attended Fox after the collision of which the arrest was an aftermath, stretched the case out Friday.

Fox was arrested the latter part of last month after his car and a county truck, loaded with relief canned goods and driven by William Holland, collided at the railroad crossing north of town near the Valley Packing company.

Chemeketa Players to Start Season Monday

Chemeketa Players, Inc., will open activities of the season Monday night with a session in the chapel at the Oregon School for the Deaf in North Salem, at which time members of the board of directors and other officers will be chosen. Plans for the year will be discussed and it is hoped that all members of the player group will attend.

Miss Colbert Now at Grand

"She Married Her Boss" Offered; "Hooray for Love" at State

The problems of a private secretary are bristly dealt with in Claudette Colbert's new Columbia picture, "She Married Her Boss," which opened at the Grand theater last night.

Miss Colbert herself is delightful. As a very efficient secretary who carelessly falls in love with her boss, she sees to it that he takes time off one day to buy her a wedding ring. That proves a costly mistake, for the marriage turns out to be one of the maddest things one can imagine.

The fun continues fast and furious, with Miss Colbert as the storm center. Melvyn Douglas does a fine job as the frantic boss, and Michael Bartlett is thoroughly engaging as a devil-may-care chap who tries to manage the secretary's affairs for her.

Edith Fellows as the boss' precocious nine-year-old daughter; Katherine Alexander as his nerve-racked sister; Raymond Walburn as a butler; Jean Dixon as Miss Colbert's crony, and Clara Kimball Young in a small role are all splendid.

"Hooray for Love" Offered at State

Top line artists have a field day in RKO Radio's "Hooray for Love," today at the State, which with a sound foundation of romantic drama and comedy provides excellent all-around musical comedy entertainment. The plot deals with a Broadway show, "Hooray for Love" and introduces the stage specialties in a logical manner.

Marla Gamberelli, recognized as America's prima ballerina, leads in strikingly lovely ballet. Bill Robinson, who recently won distinction by being chosen one of the world's ten most charming people, contributes several amazing dance routines. With him performs a young colored girl, Jenni LeGon, who will go away up in the ranks of big time tap artists. Ann Southern carries the romantic lead opposite Gene Raymond in the dramatic section.

Memorable work is also contributed by Thurston Hall, Lionel Stander, Georgia Caine, Etienne Girardot, and Pert Kelton and "Fats" Waller, noted radio comedian. Dorothy Fields and Jimmy McHugh composed the melodies for the picture, with "I'm in Love All Over Again," standing out.

Rulings Are Made On Road Petitions

Petition of E. A. Beugli and others for a short road in the Silver Creek falls area was disallowed by the county court Friday when several petitions came up in the road calendar. The court acted in accord with the viewers' report.

Relocation of a section of road in district No. 43, up the Abiqua, sought in resolution by the county court, was ordered viewed and surveyed. The short road at Mill City petitioned for by Frank Rada and others was ordered established.

The short route sought near Hubbard by Irwin S. Moody and others was continued until November 8 for further study until November 8. Action on petitions of P. A. Loar and others for road in the Silver Falls country and on petitions of George Goodwin and others for a road south of Turner were continued.

Mission Lecturer To Preach Sunday

Dr. O. C. Wright, who will be guest preacher at Calvary Baptist church tonight was for 31 years the executive secretary of the Oregon Baptist convention. Since retiring from that position he has traveled extensively as missionary lecturer for the board of missionary promotion and finance of the Northern Baptist convention with headquarters in New York.

His moving picture lecture on "Builders of Old Oregon" has met with universal success. One year ago he received unusual recognition being made a tribesman by the Crows and given the name of "Shining Star." On these trips he has made moving pictures of the Crows, the last one being in colors. This color picture will be shown here Sunday night, in addition to the moving pictures of the Baptist young people's assembly at Cascadia in which many of the Calvary and other Salem Baptists appear. Dr. Wright will speak on the "Living Church" at the morning 11 o'clock service.

Course in Landscaping And Allied Sciences is Offered; Starts Oct. 15

William Berg, landscape architect has announced the starting of a class in landscape gardening, practical designing, psychology and social science combining as a unit. The classes start October 15. A complete list of books will be available at the class covering the subjects referred to, and may be obtained from local library, the state or the state college library.

The government program for adult education is reported as sponsored by O. S. C. Robert J. Maaske, of the state department of education; Mary L. Fulkerson, county superintendent; and T. T. McKensie, vocational director. Enrollment for the course should be made with Silas Gaiser, city superintendent.

First Evangelical Plans Fall Rally

Sacred Concert Scheduled as Afternoon Feature; Petticord Speaker

Dr. E. W. Petticord, pastor, as speaker for the morning and evening services, and a sacred concert for the afternoon, are arrangements for the annual fall rally of the First Evangelical church to be held today.

The special rally of the day will be in the morning worship service at 11 o'clock when Dr. Petticord will speak on "Victory." "They That Sow in Tears," by Rogers, will be sung by William Wright, tenor soloist. New members will be received into church fellowship at this service and dinner will be served in the dining room of the church at 12:30 o'clock.

For the evangelistic service at 7:30 Dr. Petticord has chosen to speak on "Heaven—Its Certainty," one of a series of sermons on heaven. Mr. Wright, minister of music of the church, will sing a solo number.

Of unusual interest will be the sacred concert at 2:30 in the afternoon when Willard R. Hallman, baritone, and William H. Wright, tenor, and Miss Bethel Mays, talented pianist, will be the artists.

The sacred concert program follows:

Give Thanks and Sing — Harris
Ho That Dwelleth in the Secret Place — MacDermid
Calvary Covers it All — Taylor
Sonata in D minor — Beethoven
Allegro — Miss Mays
God So Loved the World — Fears
The King's Highway — O'Hara
Twas Jesus Who Came — Ibbysen
Mr. Wright
Nocturne in G — Chopin
Reflections in the Water — DeBussey
Sing Unto the Lord a New Song — Hooper
Inspire and Healer of Prayer — Gehlert
Down From His Glory — Arr. from E. di Capua
Mr. Hallman and Mr. Wright

Court St. Church Has Anniversary

The Court Street Christian church will observe its 21st rally day today, with a special program to be given. Mrs. Mary McGilchrist will be guest soloist at the morning worship hour and the Keena Serenaders will make a personal appearance in the evening.

The church is commemorating its 22d year of service in better condition than it has been in for years. Pastor D. W. Daniels, states. He will bring special messages for rally Sunday. The basement of the old bungalow has been remodeled and work on the new classrooms in the basement of the auditorium is being rushed to make available more room.

Dance Planned by 20-30 Group Here

October 19 at Golf Club; John George Tells of Engineer's Office

Plans for a dance at the Salem golf club Saturday, October 19, were presented by Robert Sears, chairman of the program committee, to the 20-30 club at their meeting Friday night. The dance will start at 10 o'clock and end at 1, according to the announcement. Tickets have been prepared for 60 couples.

John George, from the city engineer's office, told the club about the relation of that department to the rest of the city government and discussed the organization of the city government as a whole. The club elected Wayne Smith, 555 North Summer street, instructor in Liberty school, to membership.

The activities of other 20-30 clubs throughout the state were the topic of a speech given by Jenks Beard, Portland, who has just finished a tour of inspection of all the clubs.

A farewell speech was delivered by Russell Woodry, local auctioneer, who is leaving for an indefinite stay in California.

S. Vernon Domagala provided accordion music for the benefit of the club members.

Special Services At Church of God

A twenty-day evangelistic campaign will begin Wednesday night, October 9, at the First Church of God, North Cottage and Hood streets, under the leadership of Rev. and Mrs. Clifton H. Lord of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Rev. Lord will deliver services prepared for regular audiences, children, young people, and divine healing for the sick.

Mrs. Lord, a nationally known soloist and song director, will lead the choir of 24 voices. She will present solos as special musical features of the program each night.

Meetings will be held every night, including Saturdays, at 7:30 until October 27.

Little Theatre Guild At Willamette Active

At a meeting of the Little Theatre Guild of Willamette university, William McKinney, junior from Moro, was elected president, Jane Fisher, Salem, vice-president and Marion Minthorn, Salem, secretary-treasurer. Tryouts for membership in the guild were held in Waller hall Thursday and Friday afternoons.
