

Two Affairs of Week Very Attractive

TWO beautifully arranged affairs were given by Mrs. James W. Lewis and Mrs. D. C. Minto the past week in the attractive home of Mrs. Minto. Ivory tapers in candelabra glowed throughout the guest rooms at the tea Thursday afternoon.

Baskets of huge chrysanthemums were in the drawing room and the tea table was centered with bride red carnations guarded by red tapers. Firethorn and red tapers lighted the dining room.

Mrs. John Minto and Mrs. David Adolph were at the door and the hostesses received. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. Charles V. Galoway, Mrs. Florence Irwin, Mrs. Rose Babcock and Mrs. R. E. Downing.

Inviting to the dining room were Mrs. Ann Kline of Portland and Mrs. Arthur Moore.

Pouring were Mrs. Dan J. Fry, sr., Mrs. Edgar Hartley, Mrs. Leo Page and Mrs. Percy Cupper.

Those serving were Miss Betty Callaway, Miss Margaret Hauser, Miss Jane Johnson, Miss Gretchen Thielson, Miss Bertha Babcock and Miss Gertrude Lamb.

Friday Mrs. Minto and Mrs. Lewis invited 11 tables for a dessert luncheon and bridge. High scores went to Mrs. Edward Vielesko, Mrs. Rex Davis and Mrs. George Rossman.

Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. David Adolph, Mrs. John Minto, Mrs. Ann Kline and Miss Margaret King.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

There's just no better way of keeping glamour high, and costs low than by making your own smart frocks. And there's no reason for not making them, when you've as easy a pattern as this to work with. A deep round yoke, softly gathered bodice, and gored skirt are soft details usually found in expensive dresses, while with an occasional change of accessories, you can produce a variety of effects with the same, all-occasion frock. The business girl will love its dressy simplicity, that enables her to wear it to dinner after office hours. Matron, school or home girl will find it nice, too. Choose novelty crepe or shimmering satin. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Pattern 2461 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 59 inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Order your fall and winter edition of Anne Adams pattern book. You'll be thrilled with the smart designs it pictures—clothes for all occasions... for all your family. Adorable, easy-to-make Christmas gifts, too. And helpful advice on being the charming, perfectly-groomed woman. A book you'll love and consult frequently—all season! Price of book fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Address orders to The Oregon Statesman Pattern Dept., 215 South Commercial street, Salem, Ore. Make necessary enclosures. Your order will be promptly attended to.

Missouri Coeds as Chorines

How is Your Garden?

Oak and Walnut Trees Furnish Acid Compost and Maple Leaves Neutral Reaction

By LILLIE L. MADSEN

THERE is a difference in leaf mold which is not always sufficiently noted. The ordinary garden material, maple leaves or grass, is often neutral or even alkaline in reaction.

The oak and walnut trees furnish the acid compost. Oak leaves are slow in decaying, taking from three to four years to completely decompose, as a Lillie L. Madsen rule. It seems the slow-decaying materials are those that furnish the acid condition. Those of you who have an azalea or rhododendron bed will do well to accumulate your oak leaves. If you keep a compost heap, turn the leaves from time to time. Some follow the practice of putting the leaves right onto the shrub border.

If elm, maple and linden leaves are used on a border of acid-loving shrubs, aluminum sulphate can be used to retain the acid quality of the soil.

Bonemeal or Not?

I have been advised against the use of bonemeal on azaleas. I am rather in favor of it still. For five years I patted along a native azalea, experimenting with this and that. It never bloomed, nor did it grow well. Two years ago last spring I gave it a trowelful of bonemeal and last year it grew several inches and produced several blooms. Of course, too much bonemeal may tend to neutralize the soil. But I always use peat moss around my azaleas, and occasionally do give them a small dose of aluminum sulphate.

From time to time some one asks if the Lake Labish soil would not be good for azaleas and rhododendrons. It is best they say.

Acid for Azaleas

While I have not seen a chemical analysis of this soil, I would judge it to be alkaline or at least neutral. I am correct, as a test by acid soil does not produce such good onions, celery and lettuce as does the Lake Labish ground, and a strictly acid soil is necessary for the healthy growth of rhododendrons and azaleas.

Other gardeners inform me they have removed their alkaline soil and filled peat moss and sand in about their acid-loving shrubs and still these do not grow as they should. The peat moss we buy in bales, while it is splendid for acid-loving plants, is often deficient in plant food as is also sand. A fertilizer must be added. A special acid fertilizer, recommended by blueberry and huckleberry growers is made up of ten pounds cottonseed meal to four of acid phosphate and two of sulphate of potash.

If your soil has become alkaline through the use of too hard water, it can again be remedied by the addition of aluminum sulphate. This should be used at about the rate of one pound to 10 square feet.

Queries Numerous

I am pleased to note the amount of questions I receive on care and culture of azaleas and rhododendrons. The Willamette valley is particularly suited to the culture of these shrubs. We are becoming noted for their bloom during spring. Visitors to our community have come to speak of "azalea blooming time" as we do of Christmas or rose time. It is a very definite period, worthy of their remembering. There are those who plan their visits to the Willamette valley for azalea time. The shrub covers a long period of

Crocheted Square Pattern 1007

This beautiful dinner cloth is but one of the many things you can crochet in string, using this square. A set of scarfs for the dining room, a handsome spread for the guest room, a luncheon set — these and more will fly from beneath your fingers. Since the square measures but 6 1/2 inches, it makes grand pick-up work to carry about with you. Pattern 1007 comes to you with detailed directions for making the square shown; illustrations of it and of all stitches used; material requirements; suggestions for a variety of uses.

Final Rites Held For Jennie Hines

LABISH CENTER, Nov. 16.—Final rites for Mrs. Jennie Hines, who died Sunday morning at the Deaconess hospital following a major operation Thursday, were held Wednesday afternoon in Salem, conducted by Rev. G. F. Fleming, jr.

Jane Ann Sewell was born August 15, 1871, at Newcastle, England. In 1910 she came to Canada, where three years later she married Charles Hinds. In 1927 the family moved to Oregon, living one year at Silverton before settling here.

Surviving are her husband, two children, Mrs. Leonard Greig and James Sewell, and a number of brothers and sisters, all of the latter in Canada and England. She was active in community affairs and a charter member of the Ladies' Aid.

Girl to Roberts

RICKEY, Nov. 16 — Mr. and Mrs. B. Roberts (LaJune Gesner) are the parents of a 9-pound girl, Shirley Elizabeth, born November 12. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gesner of this place are the grandparents and B. B. Gesner of Auburn, a well known pioneer, is the great grandfather. This is the first child. The young lady has an aunt about two weeks older than she is.

Vesper Service Set At Monmouth Normal

MONMOUTH, Nov. 15.—Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Oregon Normal school A Cappella choir, and orchestra, will present a vesper service in the school auditorium. This is an annual feature which gives much pleasure to a large audience from Monmouth and surrounding community. Mrs. Florence W. Hutchinson directs the choir, and Mrs. Grace Maurie Mitchell the orchestra.

Benefit Card Party Slated

The Woman's relief corps and friends will be entertained with 500 card party and tea Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Florence Shipp, 1630 Saginaw.

Service Club's Bazaar Success

WHEATLAND, Nov. 16.—The social evening and bazaar sponsored by the Social Service club and interesting program presented by the school at the community hall Tuesday night, was a decided success. A large gathering of patrons of the district and surrounding neighborhoods attended and more than $25 was added to the club treasury. The quilt was purchased by Mrs. Herber Hemphill.

Booths where candy and fancy articles were sold were attractive. Many pioneer keepsakes were on display by descendants of pioneers who crossed the plains in early days. A shotgun, double-barrel, muzzle loading, hand carved butt and inlaid with gold, brought from Montreal by "Nate" Davidson was especially remarkable; and a large sugar bucket with wooden lid and handle, in a good state of preservation, that was brought across the plains by the father of P. H. Fowler, was unusual. Many dishes of old style were on display and very interesting. Refreshments were served.

Lodge Members Gather For County Convention

DAYTON, Nov. 16.—Fourteen members of Yamhill lodge No. 29, Odd Fellows of Dayton attended a meeting of the County First Degree association held at Willamette No. 96 Odd Fellows temple at Newberg Thursday evening where approximately 80 members of the various lodges gathered. Talks of the fraternity by prominent members was enjoyed. A banquet was served by the host lodge at the close of the business session.
