School Boards' "False Economy" Blamed for Prep Grid Deaths

Four Leading Causes Listed

Poor Outfits, Coaching, Medical Supervision Cause Deaths

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.-(A) -The American Football institute blamed "false economy" practiced by school boards throughout the nation today as a major contributory cause of the annual toll of football fatalities and serious in-

In a report announcing the results of a recent national survey, John da Grosa, institute president, also took the national football rules committee to task because high schools are not represented on it and pointed to such representation as one of five major reforms necessary to make the game safe.

Four Causes Listed He listed four immediate causes through which his survey found serious injury and death had occurred and held that each of these was traceable "straight back to the men who make the financial budgets for the education of American youth." "These causes." he said, are:

Haphazard selection of coaches and improper coaching facilities; inadequate equipment; improper technique in the execution of fundamentals, and lack of proper medical supervision. Reforms recommended were:

If Willamette university ever had a football player qualified for selection as a member of the western squad for the annual east-west Shrine classic at San Francisco on New Year's, Johnny Oravec is that man. No other Willamette player has ever produced the record and won the recognition that the tow-headed flash from Jersey has won in his four years at Willamette.

_Johnny's chances are favorable. Several influential coaches have already indicated that they will recommend that Oravec be a member of the squad. If our recommendation counts for anything, we heartily give

While most of the men selected naturally come from the larger schools, the small schools are not forgotten. Exceptional ability is usually recognized even though the player comes from Podunk college. An example is Murl Nehl, the Woodburn boy, who was selected two years ago after a great grid career at University of Portland (Columbia then). Nehl was not left sitting on the sidelines, either.
