

Final Budget Meet Monday

Many Taxpayers Plan to Attend with Economy Moves Watched

ed upon to cast a vote. With Roy Nelson, the senior members of the two commissioners, it is considered likely he will preside at the session Monday.

Economy in Road Items One Issue

Matters which are expected to bring forth the greatest interest are economies in the county road funds sought by Commissioner Hewlett at the previous meeting and warned against by Commissioner Nelson; the final allowance for the county poor fund; the matter of cutting off the downtown rent for the district attorney's office and requesting him to take quarters in the county court house; the health appropriation; and the county agent appropriation.

Incidentally, the matter of rent for the district attorney, which brought a protest from Judge McMahon as did the payment by the county of salary for the district attorney's stenographer, was noted for this year at least earlier this month, when both county commissioners signed the claims for payment of both the rent and stenographer's salary, stating that the claims are paid to date.

However, Commissioner Hewlett, especially, is expected to urge that the district attorney take quarters in the courthouse after this year, and that the budget carry no item for rent for him elsewhere.

Reputedly Idle Employee Target

Representatives of the county taxpayers' league indicated following the preliminary budget meeting that the final meeting they intended to hold is better of payment of $1200 annually to a member of the sheriff's tax collecting department, who, according to allegations cast at the prior budget meeting, is doing no tax work for the county. This matter was first introduced by Commissioner Hewlett at the last session, but let drop when the suggestion was made the item be left in the budget until the final session.

Both commissioners said yesterday they would favor leaving the full $60,000 appropriated for old age pensions in the budget, indicating that they will take no chance on passage of the gross revenue or sales tax in January. The commissioners hold it is better to have this item in the budget and not have to use it, than to find it missing in event it is needed.

Some support is expected to appear at the final budget session in favor of a new courthouse, or at least in starting a sinking fund to take care of this in the future. This matter was talked at the preliminary session, but sentiment being that it should be left untouched until the taxpayers of the county appeared to express their views.

The budget committee at its first gathering sliced $18,628 off the 1935 figure, with the budget cut to $712,996.10 for 1936, on basis of the proposals which will come up for final vote Monday. If the final hearing succeeds in cutting more from the total, it is possible that some move will be made to switch these savings to a sinking fund for the courthouse construction.

Ferry Strike to Be Broken, Plan

SEATTLE, Nov. 28.—(P)—Capt. F. E. Lovejoy, president of the Washington Ship Owners' association, said tonight non-union crews will be placed aboard strike-bound Puget Sound ferries next week in an attempt to restore service.

"We have given the unions every chance now for three weeks to consider their position, and give adequate transportation to Puget Sound residents," said Captain Lovejoy.

His announcement followed the submission of new demands to the operators by the striking masters, mates and pilots association. The association pressed the demands after John H. Connors, state labor commissioner, threatened state intervention unless service was restored.

Tiniest of Quints Walks with Rest

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 28.—(P)—Little Marie has been pitted as the weakest of the Dionne quintuplets, the ones who always tagged along behind her sisters.

But today, when they were 18 months old, she stood up and declared herself among the select circle of "quints" who can walk.

Marie was crawling on the Dufferin hospital when her mother, Elsie and father, Elsie and Oliva Dionne, dropped in from their farmhouse across the road to watch the youngsters celebrate their 18th month "birthday."

To celebrate it, the children were served breakfast in new dishes.

Marie promptly stood, waved aside a nurse's helping hand and walked five steps in her mother's direction.

"La petite peut enfin marcher," cried Mrs. Dionne (the little one can walk at last). Papa Dionne beamed.

War Promised if Embargo Ordered

League of Nations committee meeting scheduled for tomorrow to consider an oil embargo. Officials refuse to predict course.

A government spokesman, interpreting the phrase "oil means war," said war might not be immediate but oil would be "the first step which might eventually lead to European hostilities." Beyond that officials do not go.

Mussolini plainly recognized the possibility of a European war in his talk with former Sen. Henry J. Allen of Kansas more than a month ago.

Bearcats Are Champs Again

Olson Scores Touchdown To Wind Up Career; Oravec Is Star

On the Mission 24. Three bucks by Oravec and Wiesgerber were good for only six yards and Wiesgerber dropped back on the fourth down to boot the oval squarely between the posts.

After the Bearcats added seven more points in the second half the Mission defense stiffened and Willamette was unable to get within scoring distance again though the ball was in Whitman territory most of the time.

The Mission's only threat was made in the final quarter when wide runs by Diets and Whitacre carried the ball to the Willamette 25, where it was lost on a fourth down fumble. Oravec punted out of danger.

Roach Willamette Territory Twice

That one thrust, except for a Willamette fumble recovered by Whitman on the center stripe, was the only time the Mission carried the ball to the Willamette territory.

Although he got away for several good gains in the first half, flashy Johnny Oravec was generally a marked man and the Bearcat attack depended mainly on the power drives of Welgerber and Olson. These two virtually provided Willamette with two fullbacks, both on offense and defense.

Diets and Whitacre starred in the backfield for Whitman while Lynch and Cummins at ends smashed much of the invaders' interference to aid the Whitman defense.

Father and Three Daughters Burned

BEAUMONT, Tex., Nov. 28.—(P)—Eddie Vayon, about 40, tenant farmer, and his three small daughters, ranging from one month to ten years of age, were burned to death in a farm house fire late today. The Thanksgiving day tragedy occurred about three miles west of here.

The children were Lillian, 10; Margaret, about 3, and Anna, one month old. Mrs. Vayon, wife and mother of the victims, and a sister were outside, unable to save the four.

Vayon and his family were moving into the house and had reached the board when Vayon grabbed the board with gasoline to clean them. Heat from the smoldering embers in a stove ignited the fumes and caused an explosion.

The children were asleep on a bed in the room. The father rushed in to save them. Mrs. Vayon grabbed the board to reach a window but her loose loose and disappeared into the interior.

Officials added they believed the date for enforcement of oil sanctions would be fixed early in December.

The staff decided that all goods delivered to Italy must be paid for immediately and even a delay of 15 days in payment should be deemed granting of credit, and hence, forbidden.

Munitions Export Ban Is in Effect

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(P)—The national munitions control act, important cog in the administration's neutrality machinery, became effective at midnight tonight.

Beginning tomorrow, all manufacturers, importers and exporters of "arms, ammunition and implements of war" must be registered with the new munitions control board established by executive order of President Roosevelt under neutrality legislation enacted last session.

The munitions control law, while it does not prohibit export of war material, does give the administration a definite source of information on such exports. The legislation was enacted before the east African dispute had materialized into warfare.

The states Farley listed definitely in the Roosevelt column—"I can tell you now with absolute sincerity," he said—were Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, Tennessee, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Utah, Nevada, California, Oregon, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Ohio and Indiana.

Joseph Hook, mystery story writer and father of the girl, said he believed she was traveling by night and hiding by day in fear she might be wanted in connection with the slaying of an Idaho officer, Douglas Van Vlack, the girl's former husband, in jail at Twin Falls in connection with the shooting.

Bluecoat Burglar Ring Traced Back

SEATTLE, Nov. 28.—(P)—Police Chief Walter B. Kirtley said today the "bluecoat burglar ring," believed broken up by the arrest of seven policemen, one of whom has taken his life, and three other men, has been in operation at least three years.

Paul C. Latimer, 37, a farmer, the latest to be arrested, has confessed taking part in a burglary with his brother-in-law, Patrolman W. H. Voltz, as early as 1932, the chief said. Latimer was arrested last night.

He can not be prosecuted for the 1932 burglary, because of the statute of limitations, but he has admitted participation in two subsequent burglaries which do not come under the statute, Chief Kirtley said.

Selassie Goes to Command Troops

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 28.—(P)—Emperor Haile Selassie left today for Dessale to take command of his warriors attempting to repel the Fascist invasion.

A huge military escort was provided for the ruler, who traveled by automobile. He was accompanied by Tege Hawariat, former minister to France and representative at Geneva, who also is one of Ethiopia's best military strategists.

"I leave without knowing when I return or if I shall die for my country," the Emperor told the Abuna (high bishop) of Ethiopia's Coptic Christian church.

"But if I never return, I shall be happy knowing that you, my father, are in my place. Give me your benediction and do not forget me in your prayers."

Wrong Shift, Say 18 Smoke Eaters

Eighteen city firemen decided they were on the wrong shift when they found their "long day" on duty began on Thanksgiving day, yesterday. But they will have it on the other shift when the latter has the "long day" on Christmas day.

At the weekly reversal of shifts, one crew remains at the stations 24 hours, on other days only 12 hours. So 18 men spent Thanksgiving day and night at the stations yesterday, some ordering special meals sent to them. A few were relieved by off-shift firemen long enough to go home for turkey dinner.

Victim of Comer Identified Again

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 28.—(P)—Identification of the bullet-torn body of a girl found in Wyandotte county, Kans., October 6, 1934, as that of the first wife of Chester Comer, came from her parents tonight as the first "definitive clue" to nine vanished persons.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Childers, parents of Elizabeth Childers Comer, missing more than a year, said a picture of the girl found in Kansas was that of their daughter.

Captain Aili Vahlia of the Kansas City, Kans., police department, expressed doubt the identification was correct; "They'll have to identify more than just a picture before I'll believe it," said Captain Vahlia, after pointing out that 18 times parents or relatives "positively identified" the body, but that each time they were proven wrong.

Thankfulness of America Doubted

Rev. Drill interposed the suggestion that America might send her abundance of food to the world as a gesture for peace.

"I believe it would be less expensive to America to produce all she can and send the surplus to all the world gratis than to attempt to bring peace by treaty or arms," he said.

"Certainly we have a right to go on our knees for the abundance God has given and to rejoice for the presence of the word of God. Remove that word and society would collapse in the twinkling of an eye," he said for those who keep the spirit of the Thanksgiving.

Rev. J. E. Milligan, pastor of the host church, presided over the services, with Rev. J. R. Simonds of the First Congregational church and Rev. Marvin Jobe of the Nazarene church assisting. Music was furnished by a quartet and trio from the First M. E. church.

The entire offering will be given by the Ministerial association to the Young Women's Christian association for its work in behalf of transient women and girls.
