Clingman and La Bell Meet

Meanies; Elliott and Ellis to Tangle

The navy will be pitted against the forest service at the armory tonight when Otis Clingman, wrestling Oklahoma sailor, tangles with Jean La Bell, newcomer from the North woods, in the main event of Herb Owen's weekly grapple fiesta.

Clingman, a grappler of nationwide reputation, is eager to give the French-Canadian newcomer a rousing reception with all hands joining in and ending up with the pride of the fleet topside.

Supposed to Be Bad La Bell, a feature artist on grappling cards on the Washington and Canadian circuits, brings with him a reputation as a rarin' tearin' mean man who was brought up on the gouge and weaned on the strangle hold.

Harry Elliott, lithe and handsome arbiter, will step out of his white ducks to take on another first-timer, Joe Ellis, in the 45minute semi-windup event. Elliott, who knows the game in all its aspects, usually relies on science to win but may be forced to assume rougher tactics to down Ellis, billed as a super- meanie. The newcomer is said to be fast and clever at avoiding the watchful eye of the referee.

"Snowball" Jack Claybourn, negro grappler, will meet Joe Reno in the 30 - minute opener which starts at 8:30 o'clock.
