

Pioneer of 1843 Called by Death

Mrs. Sarah Jones Covered
Wagon Immigrant; Long
Resident of County

Mrs. Sarah E. Jones, 95, who came to Oregon in 1843 in one of the first covered wagon trains, died yesterday morning at her home, 875 North 18th street. She had been in ill health the past two years, but prior to that time was unusually active for one of her age.

Sarah E. Hess, the daughter of Joseph and Mary Hess, was born near Little Rock, Arkansas, April 18, 1840, one of 13 children. The family came across the plains by wagon train when she was three years old, settling near where now stands the town of Newberg.

Here Since 1902
She became the bride of Henry Jones of Marion county July 24, 1862, and they went to Waldo Hills to live, staying there except for a brief period until they moved to Salem in 1902. Mr. Jones died in April, 1902.

Surviving are her three children: Mary C. Jones of Salem; T. M. Jones of Lebanon; and Mrs. W. N. Long of Springfield; and five brothers and sisters; James T. Hess of Newberg, Julia Brun of Dilley, Ore., Morticia Hess of Fort Klamath; Martha Young of Oregon City and Ellen Pruitt of Salem; also two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Rigdon mortuary, with Rev. Lynn A. Wood of the First Methodist church officiating. Interment will be in City View cemetery.

Shasta, Klamath Separate Trains

"The Shasta" and "Klamath," early next month, will be operated as separate and independent trains between Portland and San Francisco, according to an announcement made today by J. J. Ormandy, general passenger agent, Southern Pacific.

The present consolidation of these trains between Portland and Eugene and between Eugene and San Francisco will be discontinued. This increase of trains will greatly improve the through service between the Pacific northwest and California.

Southbound, "The Shasta" will leave Portland at 8:15 a. m., arriving at San Francisco at 9:50 next morning. "The Klamath" will leave Portland at 8:40 a. m. and arrive at San Francisco at 7:50 the next morning, thereby reducing the morning schedule between the two points by approximately 2 hours and 30 minutes.

Northbound, "The Shasta" will leave San Francisco at 6 p. m., arriving Portland at 7:15 the next evening. "The Klamath" will leave San Francisco at 9 p. m. and arrive Portland at 8:20 the following evening.

Early next summer, Ormandy further announced both of these trains will be fully air-conditioned.

Saturday Closing Favored by Many

The Salem Business Men's league in its first meeting of the year last night at the chamber of commerce, heard expressions from many of its members favoring 6 p. m. closing for stores each day of the week. Members were informed that hardware, furniture, variety and book stores had agreed to that closing hour.

Grocery men at the meeting stated that their problem was somewhat difficult due to the many groceries here. Some speakers expressed the opinion that 6 p. m. closing was going to come from these stores.

The league then instructed Lawrence T. Simon, president, to appoint a committee to confer with the management of stores here to seek an agreement on uniform closing hours.

Kristensen To Be Producers' Chief

H. Kristensen, until recently manager of the Cowitz Dairy-men's association, has arrived in Salem to take over active management of the Producers' Milk company on South Liberty street here. Kristensen will spend this week acquainting himself with the business affairs of the company before taking active charge.

Prior to his experience in Kenosha, Wash., Mr. Kristensen had extensive experience in the production department of the Sateway butter and milk department in Seattle and prior to that time managed a Los Angeles creamery. He expressed himself yesterday as pleased with Salem and glad to have the opportunity which management of the Producers' company affords.

State Auto Fuels Tax Rises During November

Motor vehicle fuels oil tax paid to the state of Oregon in November, 1935, aggregated $748,287.58 as compared to $627,534.99 during the same month in 1934. Secretary of State Snell reported yesterday.

Soil Study Class Proving Popular

A great deal of interest was shown in the soils school by the 53 people who attended the first meeting of the class at the chamber of commerce Wednesday night. Fees for the course were paid by 16 and it is expected that several more will sign up at the next class. A charge of $2 is made for the course of 12 lessons, in order to cover necessary expenses.

Professor E. F. Torgerson, who made the soil map of Marion county was the speaker at the first class. His discussion concerned soil surveys and their uses, dealing particularly with sub-soils and surface soils in the various soil series.

Subjects that will be covered in the remaining lessons include: soil maps, physical properties and improvement, soil organization, liming, drainage, irrigation, fertility, rotation of crops, land appraisals and value and soil management.

The next class will meet at the chamber of commerce Wednesday, January 15 at 7:30 p. m. Registration for the course may still be made at that time. Harry L. Riches, who has charge of the organization of the school, announced.

Sample Election Ballot Available

Sample ballots are now available for the special election to be held throughout the county January 31. U. G. Boyer, county clerk, announced yesterday. Four measures are up for voters' consideration: the bill to change the primary election from May to September, proposed amendment of the state constitution to permit legislators to set their salaries; a sales tax act, returns from which would go for old-age pensions in Oregon and a measure to permit the state board of higher education to make student fees compulsory.

Voters in Salem also will vote upon the city manager form of government and submitted for popular consideration by the city council.

Sample ballots can be obtained by calling at the clerk's office, third floor, courthouse.

Reports Heard by Directors of Y.M.

Members of the Y.M.C.A. board of directors met at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday and considered reports of the physical department and junior division of the association work. The reports showed increasing activity in both the physical and educational departments.

Dr. L. E. Barrick, coach and manager of the volleyball team, was a guest at the meeting. He discussed the possibility of the Salem team winning the northwest volleyball championship which will be decided here on April 18. Dr. Barrick told the board that the chances of the Salem team winning were good and that in the event the team won it would get to attend the national meet later in the year at Davenport, Iowa.
