

Op Oregon Statesman
Founded 1851
No Favor Sways Us; No Fear Shall Ave
From First Statesman, March 28, 1851
THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO.
CHARLES A. SPRAGUE Editor-Manager
SHELDON F. SACKETT Managing-Editor
Member of the Associated Press

Editorial
Comment
From Other Papers

WHIPPING UP THE FURIES
Bewailing the decision of the supreme court invalidating the New Deal's AAA, the Portland Journal indulges its disappointed members in abuse of those members of the court who voted "agin' Roosevelt."

Now would be a proper time for the democratic party to proceed with its 1932 platform to revise tariff schedules, with the idea of stimulating foreign trade and making possible the natural export of farm surpluses.

Gilbert in Fade-out
ONE of the screen's great lovers drank himself to failure and to death, John Gilbert. He was once office boy on the Portland Telegram.

Make-up of the Court
THE Pendleton East Oregonian derives hopes from the fact that the "supreme court justices are mostly old men and as they gradually retire should be replaced by men more in touch with modern conditions in the United States and other lands."

Spending Without Taxes
IT was a foregone conclusion that the lower house would pass the bill for immediate payment of the bonus. It is agreed that the senate will pass the bill; and if it is vetoed that there are sufficient votes to pass it over the veto.

Twenty Years Ago
January 11, 1916
There is a balance of $3208.08 in the state fair fund.

Ten Years Ago
January 11, 1926
In the society section Nancy Thielson, Josephine McGilchrist, Josephine Corbyer and Jewell Miner are pictured as prominent young Salem misses.

Bits for Breakfast

By R. J. HENDRICKS

Salem 56 years ago and some of its history and this section's franchise and its advantages:
(Continued from yesterday):
When the Lee missionaries came to the site of Salem they found it being called Chemeketa by the natives, the Indian name for place of gathering.

Then, in 1844, when was opened the Oregon Institute by change of name in 1853 became Willamette university, the town began to be called "The Institute" and so continued until 1850.

It included the land on what was then called "Boon's Island," being all the land between North Mill creek and the mission mill race which took its water from that stream.

Health

By Royal S. Copeland, M.D.

RECENTLY I TOLD you about "emphysema." This is a condition marked by dilatation of the air sacs of the lungs.

Symptoms of Disease
At the onset of the disease the sufferer complains of pain in the chest and difficulty in breathing.

Hubbard Woman Writes Of Extreme Cold Found In Southern Indiana

HUBBARD, Jan. 10.—Miss Etelle Sargard of Hubbard, who is spending the winter months with relatives in southern Indiana

Health Meeting 13th

BRUSH COLLEGE, Jan. 10.—Mrs. A. E. Ulley, of Brush College, president of the Folk County Health association, announces the next meeting to be held at the Monmouth hall, Monday night.

“HIGH SCHOOL TRAGEDY”

By MAXINE CANTY

Julie Martin, she's all of 17, in relating what happened after her French teacher, pretty Constance (Connie) Sinclair, was found shot dead at a desk in her (Miss Sinclair) apartment.

Julie's young brother, Allen, also a high school pupil, leaves the breakfast table soon after the family starts discussing the tragic news.

Other words, she must have been alive when he left. "I don't see that," said Dicky. "I mean, I don't see why that proves he didn't kill her."

Woman Is Injured As Bus Overturns

MONMOUTH, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Merie Moore of Corvallis who is well known in Monmouth as Bessie Graham Moore, was one of 4 passengers injured Sunday night when a northbound stage overturned near the Six Corners en route to Portland.

Mrs. Rose Riestler Is Sole Owner of Sublimity Store; Buys Out Hassler

SUBLIMITY, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Rose Riestler is now sole owner of the former Riestler and Hassler store in Sublimity.

Hubbard Woman Writes Of Extreme Cold Found In Southern Indiana

HUBBARD, Jan. 10.—Miss Etelle Sargard of Hubbard, who is spending the winter months with relatives in southern Indiana

Health Meeting 13th

BRUSH COLLEGE, Jan. 10.—Mrs. A. E. Ulley, of Brush College, president of the Folk County Health association, announces the next meeting to be held at the Monmouth hall, Monday night.

Mrs. Sardon had seen a woman enter Miss Sinclair's apartment the week before . . . the stranger left in a temper . . .

That night Dicky came over, and did we have a lot to talk about! He had a lot of questions, and I had told about the same story I had. We were awfully puzzled over the pen. Then, too, Dicky did not know about Melvin's being there that night.

"Well, I don't think Melvin did it," I said. "But you are right. We ought not to count him out. He could have done it, if he had a gun."
"Your father," Dicky was awfully serious. "I think the French system is right. A man ought to be considered guilty until he proves himself innocent."

(To Be Continued)