Mississippi Governor Sworn in

Payless Professor Retires

Dr. Rollin H. Walker, professor of English Bible at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, O., practices the principles of Christian generosity as well as teaching them. Since Dr. Walker joined the Wesleyan faculty in 1899, he has given more money to the university than he has received. He has worked without pay for years and even paid the salaries of his departmental assistants out of his modest income from other sources. His academic career ends next June when he retires at the age of 70.

City Warrant Debt to Be Liquidated Soon if Tax Payments Continue

If tax payments continue at their present rate, the city should be free of warrant debt within a short time, Alfred Mundt, acting city treasurer, said yesterday. During the day he redeemed approximately half of $50,000 worth of warrants called in for cashing. The call was of all city warrants to and including number 97-150.

Redemption of these warrants will leave warrants dated December 20, 1935, the oldest outstanding, Mundt said.
