Give Three Short Plays at Normal

Crimson O Club Schedules Program For Tonight; Casts Announced

MONMOUTH, Feb. 20.—Three plays will be presented Friday night, February 21, by the Crimson O dramatic club of Oregon Normal school in the auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. They are:

"The Monkey's Paw," a drama by W. W. Jacobs and L. N. Parker. A dried-up monkey's paw said to give its possessor three wishes, is acquired by Mr. White. As a test, Mr. and Mrs. White wish for the money to pay off a debt. The wish is granted but tragedy follows in its wake. Cast: Mr. White, Charles Byers; Sgt. Major Morris, Frank Pratt; Mrs. White, Eldora Voss, Mr. Sampson, Frank Adams.

Lewis Douglas is director; Lloyd Gustafson, stage manager; Mildred McKnight, property manager, and Dorothy Dentel, costume manager.

Joneses Resentful
"Mrs. Jones and the Bourgeoisie," a farce-comedy by John A. Kirkpatrick. Mrs. Jones returns from a club lecture in high dudgeon because the lecturer, a distinguished French author, has pointed out Mrs. Jones as a typical representative of the "respectable bourgeoisie." Although she and her family are not altogether sure what this means, they feel bitterly insulted. Then each member of the family attempts an astonishing role to lift them all from the hated middle class, and their careers prove hilarious. Cast: Mrs. Jones, Eva Peterson; Stella, her daughter, Delphine Martin; Bob Williams, Stella's fiancé, Kenneth Stewart; Herbert Jones, Francis Hamstreet; Marcelline LeFoy, Marie Simmons; Aunt Esther, Ruth Duren; Freddie Jones, Grover Kelsey.

Marion Schreiber is director; Mazyne Huber, stage manager; Dorothy Friesen, property manager, and Lavon Sayers, costume manager.

Fantasy Offered
"The Wonder Hat," a humorous fantasy with an unusual ending by K. S. Goodman and Ben Becht. The wearer of the hat becomes invisible, and a magic slipper makes all men love the wearer, which brings about strange and astonishing complications. Cast: Pierrot, Clarence Hulse; Columbine, Ione Moore; Harlequin, Gordon Ebbert; Punchinello, Warren Elliott; Margot, Isabel Hanson.

Directing this play is Betty Cameron; Veri Cochran is stage manager; Helen Gherity is property manager, and Claudia Alexander is costume manager.

Other committees contributing to the plays are: Publicity, Oren Jordan, Isabel Daughton and Helene Homewood; programs and ushers, Grace Johnson, Gordon Ebbert and Connie Cochran; make up, Helen Hall, Dorothy Holben and Birdie Derby; business, Arlene Peoples and Dixie Keys. Mrs. Beulah Thornton, faculty staff member, is coach of all the plays.

Mrs. Jones Better
KEIZER, Feb. 20.—The many friends of Mrs. Seymour Jones will be pleased to learn that she is convalescing from an illness suffered last in December. She is now able to get about a little.

Enlarges Market

BERT BERKEY

Safeway Store in Hollywood Larger

Opening of the Hollywood Safeway store, doubled in size and fitted with the most modern shopping and serving conveniences, was announced last night by Bert Berkey, manager, in conjunction with Safeway stores' jubilee which begins today and lasts through Monday. During the last week the Hollywood store has undergone remodeling and expansion to make the equal of the other two Safeway stores in Salem.

A new Safeway meat market is a major addition to the Hollywood store. It is equipped with an advanced type of refrigeration system and meat display cases that makes for added efficiency. Berkey said all remodeling was done by Salem workmen.
