Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS
Behold!—a pretty model which might successfully be made up twice. First, in one of the gay, new cotton prints or gingham, percale, broadcloth or chambray, for as attractive and comfy a morning frock as one could wish; then in eyellet batiste, or printed crepe, (minus the pockets, if you wish) for afternoons and runabout. Wouldn't you like it if you knew how easily it goes together? Anne Adams, your designer, has combined yokes and sleeves-in-one to simplify matters and save you precious minutes. If it's a sports frock you're needing, just witness the action in those roomy sleeves and that inverted skirt pleat! Sleeves may puff or flare.

Pattern 2535 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with each pattern.

Sweet and Lovely—Knit It Yourself!

"How sweet and lovely!" you say of this latest Laura Wheeler blouse, making up your mind instantly you're going to knit one like it! Well, it's a jiffy-knit, so if you get started now, you'll be displaying it to an admiring audience in virtually no time at all. Just two simple stitches are all there is to it—a drop stitch for the graceful yoke and sleeves, and a lacy stitch for the softly feminine bodice. Make it up in white or colored Shetland fleece. And then just see if you can resist making a plain knitted skirt to go with it! The pattern is N1192 available in sizes 16-18 and 38-40. It gives complete instructions for making both blouse and skirt; illustrates them and the stitches; gives material requirements. To get pattern N1192, send 10c to our Needlecraft Department, The Oregon Statesman.
