For Easy-to-Clean Smart Walls

"Wash dresses" are fashionable — even for walls and woodwork! That's one reason Satin Eggshell is so popular for kitchens, bathrooms, nurseries and breakfast rooms. Its semi-gloss finish gives a crisp, colorful freshness that can be washed and washed. And, like a cotton frock—it goes on so easily and wears so long.

President Gets Baseball Pass

Sandy McDonald—President Roosevelt—Clark Griffith

One person who was assured of a seat at the opening game of the 1936 baseball season was President Roosevelt, shown receiving his annual gold-bordered baseball pass from young Sandy McDonald, left, son of a sports writer, as Clark Griffith, veteran president of the Washington Senators, looks on.

Parent-Teachers Hold Last Meet

WALDO HILLS, April 30.—Mrs. E. V. Eaton and Mrs. Albert Mader were the program committee for the final Parent-Teacher meeting of the year at the McAlpin school.

The program arranged included: song by the school; a vocal solo by E. V. Eaton, accompanied by Mrs. Eaton; reading, "New Deal on the Farm," by Walter McElhenny; song, "Dear Little Home of My Dreams," by Cleo Mae Eaton, Gladys Peterson and Hazel Beas; a play, "The Disturbance of the Jolly Four," by the school children; "Cowboy's Dream" by the school; accompanied by Theodore Fischer on the violin and Mr. Eaton on the guitar; "A Neighborhood Dispute," given by the adults of the district; "My Wild Irish Rose," sung by Mr. and Mrs. Eaton; reading, Howard Mader; a farewell song by the school children, and a community singing led by Mr. Eaton and accompanied by Mrs. Eaton.

While the adults were being served refreshments, the pupils sang a group of songs. The lunch committee was Mrs. E. H. Beas and Mrs. Mabelle Terry.

Water Dog Finds Tail Life Saver In Snake's Mouth

SCIO, April 30.—A two-foot garter snake attempted to make a meal of a small water-dog at the Jim Oupor farm seven miles south of Scio this week, but hadn't taken into account the latter's tail. Being head first in the snake's mouth, the water-dog wrapped his tail around the snake's mouth, and prevented himself from being completely swallowed.

The snake could not back away and disgorge his prisoner-captor, and neither could, escape.

Benefit Program Is Slated Friday, Unionvale Church

UNIONVALE, April 30. Friday night the primary classes of the Unionvale Evangelical Sunday school will present a program beginning at 8 o'clock. A free will admission fee will be applied on the recently purchased organ.
