County Grade Schools' Music Festival Draws 1000 Children

Event Proves Huge Success

Chorus, Orchestra, Some Specialty Numbers on Program, W.U. Gym

The Willamette gymnasium was filled with 1000 children from rural schools in Marion county yesterday afternoon, but the turnout of spectators was not large, probably because of the blustery day. It was the music festival in observance of National Music Week. Mrs. Lillian B. Shaner was chairman.

The youngsters were seated around the walls of the gym on bleachers. The Chemawa Indian band centered the floor.

In addition to boys' and girls' choruses, rhythm bands and orchestral numbers by the Central Howell school orchestra and Chemawa orchestra, there several special features. A tribal dance from Chemawa and a Hawaiian folk dance by little Joan Lochead, who was born in the Islands, were well received. Directors from the 25 schools represented included Texia Kennen, Clara Girod, Emily Van Santen, Grace Sehon, Agnes Booth, Robert Thomas, Laura Miles, Willow Evans and Roben J. Maaske, assistant state superintendent of public instruction.

'Diamond Master' Coming to State

Cecil Rhodes Role Taken by Walter Huston; to Open Here Sunday

Kimberly, South Africa, during the early days of the diamond rush, was the scene of the first triumph of Cecil Rhodes, diamond master, empire builder, jungle conqueror, as portrayed by Wal-ter Huston in "Rhodes, the Dia-mond Master," the GB production coming Sunday to the State theatre.

In those days of frantic rushing to dig fortunes from the earth there were so many times more men than women in the rough town of iron shacks that grew up overnight, that a new woman in Kimberley was more precious than diamonds and was bid for marriage with diamonds. It is in Kimberley that Rhodes meets Dr. Leander Starr Jameson and Barney Barnato, two men whose fortunes are linked with Rhodes until his death.

Another character figuring conspicuously in Rhodes' career is Oom Paul Krueger, stubborn and crafty President of the Transvaal. who fought Rhodes from start to finish.

Playing these important characters are Frank Cellier, Basil Sydney and Oscar Homolka, Cellieris Barnato, who after being defeated by Rhodes for diamond control becomes his friend and supporter.

Water Claims of Zielke Sustained

Claims of Leonard Zielke to water flowing from Acorn Springs were sustained yesterday by Judge L. G.
