ment. "Feeling that effective law enforcement and clean, moral conditions will be assured only by the constant, efficient efforts of those elected to public office, the committee very sincerely recommends to the thoughtful consideration of citizens, the following ticket," read the statement. Endorsements made by the Laymen's committee follow:

County officials: For sheriff, James McGlichrist; for justice of the peace, republican nomination, Miller B. Hayden; democratic nomination, William McKianey. For constable on the republican ticket the committee endorsed Webb W. Haskins. For the legislature, sole endorsement made by the committee was for Mrs. Hannah Martin.

On the city ticket the committee endorsed Chris J. Kowitz for mayor. The endorsements for aldermen were:

First ward, Jeanelle V. Moorhead; second ward, Lloyd L. Hockett; Fred E. Wells; third ward, N. J. Reasoner or W. H. Daney; fourth ward, Gertrude F. Lobdell; fifth ward, Paul Pickle; sixth ward, D. O. Lear.

In an additional statement issued last night by U. J. Lehman, the latter declared that the Laymen's association had taken no vote on the candidacy either of Herman Lafky or B. S. Martin for district attorney. The group had decided to make no endorsements either for that office or the position of circuit judge. Mr. Lehman said there was no discussion of the county recorder's position and declared that Fred Tooze, sr., was not voted upon as one of the candidates for that office.

Institution Farm Irrigation Urged

State institutional farm improvements, estimated to cost $25,250, exclusive of $10,000 for irrigation, were recommended by Oregon State college experts in a report filed with the state board of control Tuesday.

The report was based on a survey of 2700 acres of state farm lands at a cost of $2012. Five farms studied by the college experts included those at the state penitentiary, Oregon state hospital, Fairview home, tuberculosis hospital and girls' industrial school.

The proposed irrigation project would serve approximately 900 acres.

The report will be studied by members of the board of control before any definite action is taken.

Officials said the initial cost of the improvements would be offset many times through increased production.

Students at Salem Heights Present Circus of Their Own as Feature of May Entertainment by the School

Safety Record Is Made by General

SALEM HEIGHTS, May 12.—The annual May festival was presented by the school this week and was a real success. The timely idea was a one-ring circus. The sawdust ring was laid on the new playgrounds, under the trees, which made a perfect setting. A large crowd attended.

Directors were the four teachers, Mrs. Agnes Booth, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Miss Margaret Barquist and Miss Luetta Baker, who also played the accompaniments for the dances presented. King Jimmie Stewart and Queen Louise Hansen were crowned, followed by their singing "Indian Love Call," while eight girls danced, Maxine LaDuke, Frances Heinlein, Margaret Kashers, Dorothy Jones, Eloise Bowman, Mildred Rothweller, Norma Smith and Pat Manning.

A boxing match between Schyler Gile and Robert Woodburn, with balloons used instead of gloves, was a humorous act; an equestrian dance was given by Patsy Manning and Mildred Rothweller; animal trainers with their pets, who executed clever dances, were Maynard Drawson, Carol Smith, Gertrude Reeves, Buena Stewart, Donna Dell Washburn, Caroline Miller, Donna Kelly, Robert Elstrom, Ivan Polston, Harriet Jones, Shirley Kelly, Ella Skelton, Virgil Eckstein, Patty Burnough, Dora Bohanan, Elsie Douglas, Delores Peterson, Donald Burger, George Manning, Jr., Rex Schofield, Ernest Skelton, Quentin Smith, Billy Hansen, Marjorie Colston, Clarence Jaeger, George Coloskey, Ernest Iufer, Billie Bohanan, Dick Senter, Bob Vogt, Charles Beardley.

Other acts were by Darrelle Washburn, Maxine Reeves, Melba Kelly, Merle Harnsberger, Fred Jaeger, Bert Jones, Walter Bowman, Arnold Eckstein, Eldon Trenary, Milton Burger, Gordon Cota, Elmer Potter, Richard Stewart, Ardith Eckstein, Pauline Miller and Janice Harnsberger.

dart games, last October before the recent clamor about gambling arose. This ordinance, they contended, was enforced as far as the rulings of the city's legal counsel and of court injunctions would permit.

The broadside, of which first copies were mailed yesterday, represented the most detailed summary of all phases and of the history of the water problem in Salem which has yet been compiled.

Labor Federation Leader to Speak

Ben C. Osborne, executive secretary of the Oregon Federation of Labor, will be in Salem today for two meetings. Tonight at 8:00 o'clock he will address the fortnightly forum of the Marion County Farmer-Labor association at the Labor hall, northwest corner of Court and Commercial, on the subject "Can Oregon Farmers and Labor Pull Together?" This meeting will be presided over by H. C. Leavenworth, master of the Salem-Auburn grange.

In the late afternoon a group of Willamette students are holding an informal reception for Mr. Osborne at Chresto Cottage on the campus.

H. E. Barker, chairman of the Marion county Farmer-Labor association, said Mr. Osborne's visit would be the occasion for the only public statement by the Marion county farmer-labor group before the primary election. The executive committee of the organization will make its recommendations on various candidates in the county at the meeting tonight.

Charles S. Reily Funeral Is Today

Charles S. Reily, 72, who was employed in the mercantile business in Salem until 1900, when he moved to Portland, died here yesterday.

He was born in January, 1864. When a boy he worked in the clothing store of E. C. Small and was later employed in other Salem mercantile establishments. As a young man he was prominent in social and civic affairs of the city and had a number of friends here.

He moved to Portland in 1900 and was employed by a number of clothing firms there. He lived in Portland until last winter when he returned to Salem.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. George J. Pearce of Salem and Mrs. A. S. Brasfield of Berkeley, Calif. One daughter, Cor-

Austin Chairman of State Tourney

Importance of Route Set Forth in Telegram to Senator Steiwer

WOODBURN, May 12.—H. M. Austin was elected chairman of the state junior Legion baseball tournament which will be played at Woodburn August 1 and 2. Major Oliver S. Olson was elected secretary and L. C. Buchner was chosen treasurer.

Dr. John Hanrahan was appointed chairman of the publicity committee and Cecil Scollard and Rodney Alden are to be assistants.

Chairman of other committees appointed were: Elburn T. Sims, housing and feed; H. F. Butterfield, tickets; O. H. Boje, grounds. These will appoint their assistants later. It has been proposed to underwrite the tournament by getting a guarantee of expenses from 25 or 30 citizens as was done last year.

"This 14-mile section is dangerous," Duncan wrote. "The turns are sharp, there are many blind corners and much of the road is single traffic width. The traffic over this road, both trade and scenic, is considerable. Prompt action by the government in completing that portion will not only give employment but will render a great service to the Willamette valley."

In his letter, Mr. Duncan pointed out that the North Santiam highway was undoubtedly the most feasible route to eastern Oregon because the mountain pass through which the road goes can be kept open the year around.

Mr. Duncan yesterday addressed a letter to C. E. Wilson, manager of the chamber of commerce here, in which he commended the chamber for the work it has done in urging the completion of the Santiam road.

N. Santiam Work Urged by Duncan

Importance of Route Set Forth in Telegram to Senator Steiwer

The federal government, through the national forest department, should take immediate steps to improve the North Santiam highway between Niagara and Detroit, George R. Duncan, Stayton attorney, yesterday advised Senator Frederick Steiwer in a wire sent the senator at Washington.

"This 14-mile section is dangerous," Duncan wrote. "The turns are sharp, there are many blind corners and much of the road is single traffic width. The traffic over this road, both trade and scenic, is considerable. Prompt action by the government in completing that portion will not only give employment but will render a great service to the Willamette valley."

EVERY THOMPSON

For the Democratic Nomination for DISTRICT ATTORNEY

I have resided in Marion County all my life. If nominated and elected District Attorney, I shall demonstrate to the people of this county an ability to cope with any local situation without the necessity of employing special prosecutors from the Attorney General's office.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

will be prosecuted as such and not as reckless drivers. There are too many of these potential killers driving automobiles upon the highways.

I shall be free from and unincumbered by any group or clique who desire that justice be administered to satisfy their own personal greed.

Respectfully submitted, EVERY THOMPSON Paid Adv. by Avery Thompson
