

Free Ferry at Wheatland is Agreed Upon, Two County Courts

Start Soon as Boat Is Built

Decision Made at Meeting Attended by Yamhill's Officials Monday

Good news especially for those persons living in the Wheatland ferry vicinity developed yesterday afternoon at a conference here of the Marion and Yamhill county courts when the two courts agreed to establishment of a free ferry at this point. The two county courts will share 50-50 the costs of establishment, operation and maintenance of the ferry, County Judge Slegmund announced following the conference.

It is considered likely the free ferry service will be in operation within a month or five weeks. A toll ferry service has been in operation by the LaFollettes at this point for many years, and it is said that this is the first time free ferry service has been in prospect for this area.

Buy Present Setup

The two courts agreed to take over the cables, landing and old ferry from the present operator. A new ferry will be constructed, and free service inaugurated as soon as this boat is completed. Actual cost of the project has not yet been determined. Who will be chosen first operator of the ferry was not discussed, though the position will pay $100 per month, the same as is paid the men in charge of other ferries operated by Marion county.

Members of the Yamhill county court who conferred here yesterday with Judge Slegmund and Commissioners Nelson and Hewlett were Judge R. J. Kennedy, W. S. Allen and Frank C. Campbell. Incidentally, Allen is the Yamhill county man who was nominated by only a one-vote margin for county commissioner there during the next term.

To Aid Shipment

Members of the Marion county court pointed out following the conference that this will be the first free Willamette river crossing between the Marion Polk bridge and the bridge at Newberg, a distance of 35 miles. The move to do away with the toll will open up a large movement of fruit between the Grand Island community and the Woodburn cannery, as well as into Salem.

In a production sweeping with song and scented with romance, Jeanette McDonald and Nelson Eddy, those celebrated co-stars of "Naughty Marietta," are now on the screen of the Hollywood theatre in the well-known characters of the light opera, "Rose Marie."
Under their magic spell the full beauty of "The Indian Love Call," "Rose Marie, I Love You," "Song of the Mounties," and other classics from the Herbert Stothart-Rudolf Friml score, live again. "Rose Marie" is the story of a Canadian grand opera singer who travels incognito into the backwoods regions in search of her brother, a criminal from justice.
Also searching for the brother is Sergeant Bruce, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. They meet and fall in love, until she realizes the mission of the other. The crashing climax and poignant ending of the story will be remembered long after most pictures are forgotten.

Trade Pact to Help, Claimed

Lost Foreign Commerce to Be Restored, Speaker at Chamber Says

With reciprocal trade agreements already concluded with 14 countries, including Canada and France, the department of commerce feels that this trade program is over the hump and that a large portion of the United States' lost foreign trade will be revived. Dr. N. H. Engle, of Washington, D. C., assistant director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, told a large luncheon gathering at the chamber of commerce here yesterday.

Dr. Engle, speaking on "Salem's Stake in Foreign Trade," called attention to the importance of foreign trade to this city. Marion county, which produced over half the loganberries harvested in Oregon, exports yearly a large portion of its berries in canned form. Last year, he said, Oregon's exports of canned loganberries amounted to 4,259,312 pounds, valued at more than $300,000 or an increase of more than $60,000 over the 1934 value of its canned logans. The exports constitute nearly 78 per cent of the total 1935 pack.

Exports Extensive

Oregon exported in excess of six million dollars worth of food-stuffs in 1935, and of the total, Marion county participated in the export trade with other fruits, such as prunes and plums. Oregon exported as high as 78 per cent of the boxed apples produced in 1935, nearly 24 per cent of the fresh pears and 30 per cent of the canned pears. "No account of Salem's stake in foreign trade should be completed which omitted reference to the great lumber industry of the state," Dr. Engle said. "Ever since 1905, Oregon has produced in excess of one billion feet of lumber annually. By 1920, this figure was over three billion board feet and was 2,380 million feet in 1934, the last year for which complete data are available. Oregon ranks second only to Washington among the lumber producing states.

"Douglas fir is the leading export species and is in demand in practically every civilized country of the world. Oregon exported 187 million feet of Douglas fir alone in 1934, or about 30 per cent of the total exports of the United States for this species. "Clearly Salem has a stake in foreign trade. A substantial income flows from this trade and employment is made available to your citizens. The department of commerce takes the position that these facts justify our efforts to expand our foreign trade. Many of our people are still unemployed because we have not yet regained the volume of foreign commerce which at one time afforded work, directly or indirectly, to several million workers."

Dr. Engle called attention to

Sacketts Making Marshfield Home

To Devote Time to Paper There, Keep Interest in The Statesman

Effective this week, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon F. Sackett are to make their home in Marshfield for the balance of the year, where Mr. Sackett will give the major part of his time to The Coos Bay Times of which he is the publisher. He will continue as managing editor of The Oregon Statesman and stockholder in The Statesman Publishing co.

During his absence Ralph Curtis, for many years telegraph editor of The Statesman, will supervise all city and wire news and will be in general charge of the news department. Jack Minto, who has been on a part-time basis with The Statesman, will also take a full time assignment. Stephen C. Merger who handles city hall news, will be assistant telegraph editor. C. Genevieve Morgan continues as valley news editor and will have charge of day-time news copy.

Mr. and Mrs. Sackett have rented their house at 135 East Lincoln street for the remainder of the year to Mr. and Mrs. William W. Stiffler. Mr. Stiffler is bridge maintenance engineer with the state highway department.

Young Republican Meet Set Tonight

Acting on an official invitation from Roger Ball, president of the Benton county Republican club, the Marion county young Republican club, headed by David Hoss, will participate in a tri-county old fashioned torchlight parade to be held in Corvallis Tuesday, May 26. The purpose of this combined rally and parade will be to increase republican enthusiasm in this section of the state with the hope of arousing like enthusiasm throughout the entire United States.

were scheduled for the June 1 council meeting. The council also postponed to that session consideration of an ordinance to change lots opposite the state office building on Court street to class three to permit erection of a building to be leased to the state.

The council adopted a resolution requesting the state highway commission to make 12th street from Center street to the south city limits a secondary highway. In a letter from the commission, the aldermen were advised the highway department had no funds for resurfacing of present city streets which are part of the highway system.

—for Digestion's sake—smoke Camels

Camel's Aid to Digestion...the Increase in Alkalinity...Confirmed by Science

Hurry, worry, and noise tend to slow down the flow of the digestive fluids. Scientists have found that smoking Camels encourages the normal flow of digestive fluids...alkaline digestive fluids...so necessary to the enjoyment of food and for good digestion. Smoke Camels...for their cheering "lift"...for digestion's sake.
