Nelson Analyzes Townsend Defeat

Disagreement of Leaders Caused Primary Loss Candidate Avers

"Confusion and disagreement" were responsible for the general defeat of Townsend candidates at Friday's primary election, Theo-dore G. Nelson, aspirant for the republican nomination for United States senator, declared Monday. Nelson finished second in the Nelson said this confusion and disagreement originated in national headquarters and radiated into Oregon.

He added that the results of the election do not show that the Townsend plan is not economically or socially sound.

Need Personal Work Nelson said the primary election disclosed: McNary's strength as a republican leader both in Oregon and Washington. That personal precinct work is needed to produce results. That there must be dependable and close cooperation between national headquarters and the Townsend state and congressional headquarters. That business boycotting does not produce votes. Nelson condemned the action of Townsendites who ran out on the organization. Three to Attend Congress of Hi-Y

More than 1400 delegates are expected to be present at the first national Hi-Y congress in Berea, Ky., June 20 to 24, which is to be attended by George Smith, president, and Ronald Adams, treasurer of the local club.
