Brilliant Colors Mark Summer Fashions

Possibly the most notable feature of the new fashions which stylists have turned out for the 1936 season is that colors will be even more brilliant than in the somewhat gaudy creations of recent seasons. Novel fabrics have been used to give a further distinctive touch to the new ensembles. Kay Francis models a gown of unusual type, reflecting the Gibson girl era with its puffed sleeves and somewhat different neckline. Pat Patterson sports an ensemble which includes a white jersey frock with an unusual high neckline, a belt of navy blue kid and a topcoat of navy blue wool rajah striped in shaggy white. Another striking combination is that worn by Patricia Ellis, a frock of checked taffeta worn under a coat of white sheer wool.

Eagles Plans Forge Ahead

For State Convention and 4th Celebration At Silverton

SILVERTON, May 28.—The program for the Fraternal Order of Eagles convention is shaping up better every day, according to R. J. Baldwin, convention chairman. A letter received by Baldwin from the grand worthy vice-president of the Eagles organization reports that Dr. H. B. Mehrmann of Oakland, Calif., will arrive in Silverton June 24 and will remain for several days. He will be accompanied to Silverton by his wife. Many Eagles will remember Dr. H. B. Mehrmann at Grants Pass at the 1935 state convention.

Delegations Growing
From reports from the various Aeries of Oregon, the delegations coming to the convention are getting larger, therefore the Fraternal Order of Eagles urge every one having rooms for rent to call the Eagles club, phone Green 731 and register rooms as soon as possible. No one will be asked to give their rooms free, they will be paid for just the same as in a hotel. Earl J. Adams, assisted by the Eagles' auxiliary, is in charge of convention housing.

Through the courtesy of the Otto Wilson used car market, the Eagles will still have their registration headquarters in the Custer Ross building on West Main street.

Bringing 2 Drill Teams

In a recent letter received from Klamath Falls, the Klamath delegation will bring both women's and men's drum corps. So far 17 drill teams and seven drum corps are registered. Delegations will start arriving in Silverton on the day before the convention.

The Eagles are getting full cooperation from the business men and city officials for the state convention and the Fourth of July celebration. Not only co-operation from Silverton, but from the cities surrounding. The State Aerie is on the job 100%. They are putting up big cash prizes for drum corps and drill team competition.

Much entertainment for the visiting delegation is being arranged, such as wrestling, dancing every night both old time and modern, baseball games, softball games, donkey baseball, swimming, golfing, horseshoe pitching, drill team competition, drum corps exhibitions, parade, and many other entertaining features. The session will end with one of the largest banquets ever held in the city park of Silverton.

The Cherrians have accepted the invitation to march in the Eagles parade on Saturday, June 27, at 2:30 p. m. With bands, uniformed drill teams, drum corps, floats and everything to make up color in a parade, this promises to be the largest parade ever to be held during a state convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.
