To Speed Up Drive For First Aid Car

The fire department is hopeful of completing its fund for the first aid car soon so that it will be available for the swimming season. R. O. Lewis, fireman, explained at the Salem chamber of commerce luncheon Monday.

About half of the cost of the car has been contributed and a concentrated drive is now in order, Lewis said. He mentioned that seven Oregon cities now have these cars and that Salem will be left behind if it doesn't complete the fund.

Numerous calls are received for the inadequate equipment the fire department now has, Lewis declared, and if a well-equipped first aid car is provided it will mean the saving of a number of lives.

Ward Building to Be Started Soon

Montgomery Ward and company plans to start construction of its new building on the North Liberty street Skiff property in about two weeks, it was indicated by a Portland attorney who was in Salem recently arranging for joint use of party walls at each side of the company's new location.

The attorney also intimated that the building might be three instead of two stories high as had previously been reported here.

Enos' Penalty Twenty Years

No Parole in Morals Case in Circuit Court; Two Divorces Granted

Lester B. Enos of Salem yesterday received a 20-year prison sentence at the hands of Judge L. H. McMahan for a morals charge involving the defendant's young daughter. Enos waived hearing in justice court and also waived grand jury indictment, going directly before Judge McMahan late yesterday afternoon.

The 20-year sentence is without parole and is the minimum under the law. Enos spent last night in the county jail and will be delivered to the state prison this morning.

Two divorce decrees were granted in circuit court here yesterday by Judge L. G. Lewelling. In what was expected to be a contested case, a default was requested instead in the case of Margaret Maud Olds against Edwin R. Olds. She was granted an absolute divorce and her maiden name, Margaret Maud Simpson, restored. In addition $125 attorney's fees and court costs were assessed against the defendant.

Lillian Darling was granted an absolute divorce from Ralph Darling and she was also given custody of their son and a property settlement ratified. This divorce was by default also.

Two divorce complaints were filed in the case of Mono Reno vs. Jack Reno, the plaintiff alleging cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married in Coquille October 1, 1935.

In the second complaint, A. M. Chamlee charges D. E. Chamlee with desertion February 1, last year, and asks a divorce. They were married in Salem November 26, 1921.

Resorts Prepare for Record Season

Probably the question uppermost in the mind of the American public today, regardless of the depression or politics, is where to spend that precious vacation. As June rolls around each year it signals the beginning of an intensive campaign on the part of each member of the family in support of his or her choice of where to spend father's "reprieve" of two weeks and his extra cash. Resorts and travel bureaus estimate a 40 per cent increase in the volume of travel over last year. National parks are preparing for more than 5,000,000 visitors. Mexico and the Canadian northwest will also be the mecca of thousands of tourists. At the same time, the exodus of Americans abroad is expected to be the largest in recent years. Others who fancy a cruise but cannot afford to cross the ocean are expected to take advantage of the special 10-day cruises to the Bahamas, Bermuda, and other points south. One of the major changes in vacation habits in recent years has been the lengthening of the season which was once limited largely to the months of July and August.

60 Cherrians to Invade Portland

Also H. S. Band and Float Enter Floral Parade; Train Plans Told

Salem will be represented in the floral parade next Friday morning in Portland by 60 Cherrians in white uniforms, the Salem high school band of 36 pieces and a special float drawn by six ponies, King Bing Breyman Boles announced following a meeting of the Cherrians last evening.

For the convenience of the Cherrians and general public, the Southern Pacific will run a special Cherrian train Friday morning, leaving Liberty and Trade streets at 7:30 o'clock.

This early start is due to the fact that all organizations and floats are expected to report at the stadium in Portland at 9:30 o'clock. The grand parade starts promptly at 10:30 o'clock.

Having received an invitation from the Red Head Round-Up at Taft, Cherrians last evening voted to attend in uniform Saturday afternoon June 20 to assist in the coronation exercises and take part in both the Saturday afternoon and Sunday programs.

A committee consisting of Carl Gabrielson, William Schlitt and Breyman Boles will call on Governor Martin and offer the services of the Cherrians to act as an honor guard for the governor during any special ceremonies.

Carl Gabrielson, captain of the Cherrians, called a meeting of the Cherrians at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evening for a final drill before going to Portland.

Announcement was made that the public was invited to take advantage of the special train on the Southern Pacific, leaving Liberty and Trade streets Friday morning at 7:30 o'clock, leaving Portland that night at 7:15, 9:50 or 10:15 o'clock.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those growing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the body. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

Machine Shop Is Total Loss, Fire

Fire destroyed the C. R. Hammond machine shop on South 14th street near Mission Sunday night when Hammond mistook a stick of pitch for a piece of sap wood and started a bigger fire in a heating stove than he had intended. Hammond started the fire in the stove to heat water for a shower bath and then went to a nearby restaurant. He did not learn that the flames had spread to his shop building until he was notified by telephone at the restaurant after the fire department had been called.

Ring Psychology Outlined by Reed

Why Matmen Make Faces; Wrestling Praised as Beneficial Sport

If your opponent's hold hurts, smile; if it doesn't, groan. That was part of the advice under the head of "ring psychology" handed out by Robin Reed, former world champion welterweight wrestler, both as amateur and professional at different times, handed out in an enlightening address at the Salem chamber of commerce luncheon Monday noon.

"Pain" is the word the wrestlers use for what the general public knows as "ring personality," and it's bread and butter to the wrestler so the public should not blame them for their odd antics, the speaker said.

Two or three points on athletic training were discussed by Reed, who as coach in a Portland high school and at Oregon State college trained over 3000 boys in the art of wrestling. He favors training on the mat and not on a cinder track, and is no stickler for a set diet, pointing out that Japan and Finland, for example, produce outstanding athletes who eat widely different types of food.

Of all the boys he taught wrestling in school, only two turned professional and only three cases of injuries developed and they were not serious. He stressed the fact that wrestling is a sport that makes for all-around development and one in which no one is barred by limitations of physique.

University officials are cooperating by permitting use of the hall for the meeting.

Alex Mielkejohn Speaks Thursday

The Salem Teachers' association and the Salem Teachers federation yesterday invited the public to hear an address by Dr. Alex Mielkejohn, nationally prominent educator, in Waller hall on the Willamette university campus, at 8 o'clock Thursday night. Dr. Mielkejohn, head of the Center for Social Studies at San Francisco, is expected to speak on the subject, "Should Teachers Discuss Controversial Matters in Their Classes."

Monoxide Case Is Handled, Firemen

City firemen Saturday revived a two-year old girl who apparently had been overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from her father's automobile in which she had been riding, it was disclosed yesterday. The father, Marvin Crowe, forest service employe at Silver creek, rushed the little girl to the central fire station where he stopped his car downtown here and discovered she was unconscious.

Firemen promptly applied their their inhalator and the oxygen-carbon dioxide mixture quickly restored her to consciousness. A physician who was then called said she appeared to be recovering satisfactorily.

Crowe believed the fumes had entered the car through opening left by removal of a radio.
