

Cherry Picking Coming on Heels of Berry Pack; Canneries Busy

Jory Barrels At Union Hill

Silverton Plant Alters Plans, Will Now Buy Cherries, Report

UNION HILL, June 20.—The Jory Barrelling plant is running with a full crew now, the heaviest run for this season. Berries from the Silverton Hills territory are being barreled here.

It is thought that the berries from Silverton Hills territory will last about two weeks longer. One more week will about finish the berry picking here.

SILVERTON, June 20.—Contrary to previous plans the Silverton Canning company will buy Royal Anne, Bing and Lambert cherries. The doors will be open for receiving in the afternoon and evening.

Beet Pack Nears
The work on the beet pack will begin in the near future, the cannery officials report. The beet pack will begin late in July and preparations are being made to run both a day and night shift from then until fall.

ELDRIDGE, June 20.—Loganberry picking began in most yards here Friday with the price around four cents for perfect fruit. One and one-fourth cents is being paid pickers.

Weather Watched
If the weather continues mild growers expect a heavy yield in those yards not damaged by frost last winter. However, if rain continues the berries will soften and be unfit for canning. If the sun's heat is too intense the berries will dry up or be "cooked" on the vines.

Henry Stafford plans to begin picking his Royal Anne cherries the middle of next week. The weather continues favorable. The rains have caused some to split, but he expects a fair crop if the weather continues favorable.

Cherry Harvest to Open
Cherry harvest will begin in other orchards here next week.

ST. LOUIS, June 20.—Loganberry picking began in this community last Thursday and Friday by most growers.

BROOKS, June 20.—Carl Aspinwall started picking his loganberries Friday morning. He will begin the picking of his Royal Anne cherries Monday. He has recently finished thinning his peaches. Prospects are for a bumper peach crop this year.

LIBERTY, June 20.—Picking of Royal Anne cherries was begun in some orchards this week and during the coming week will be underway in all orchards.

Size of the crop varies from light to fair. Spelling and color of fruit also varies, depending on degree of ripeness of the fruit. Splitting in Blings and Royal Annes is expected to be as high as 20 per cent in some places.

Loganberries are turning red now and some nearly ripe berries have been found. With continued sunshine it may be necessary to begin picking in another week.

S.H. Van Trump Addresses Group; New Members Are Received

BETHEL, June 20.—"I favor the licensing of farmers in order to prevent professional and business men from competing with them in stock-raising, dairying and farming operation," declared S. H. Van Trump, Marion county fruit inspector, at the open meeting of the Farmers Union here Friday night.

He told of the vast operations of J. C. Penny and Dupont in many dairy farm and livestock projects, wherein they enter into direct competition with the real farmers who have no other source of revenue except from their farms. He cited the professional men of Salem who are running dairy and stock farms in the outlying districts.

W. Probst and P. J. Blessing were voted into the membership of the Farmers Union. Plans were discussed for making up loads of livestock for hauling into Portland to the Farmers Union Livestock commission. It was reported that this new commission house is already doing a fine business.

The program committee for the next meeting is O. L. Brubaker, Irvin Bartels, Mrs. W. T. Brinkley. Serving as program chairman, George E.
