

Industrial Specialties Gain Strong Favor in Wall Street Markets

Average Steps Point Higher

Equities Little Affected by Campaign; Chrysler Leads Through Day

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—The stock market today voted strongly for industrial specialties, pushing many up fractions to around 4 points.

Chrysler led from start to finish, ending with a gain of 3 3/4 points at 104 1/2, a new 6-year top. A number of other high marks were registered.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks stepped up .9 of a point to 64.7, or only .1 of a point under the year's mark. The industrial index made a new 1936 high with a gain of 1.2 points at 86.6. The average recovery of the rails and utilities was only about half that of the industrials. Transfers totaled 955,510 against 828,280 last Friday.

The adjournment of congress seemingly was a minor market factor. Politics kept the boardrooms buzzing, but it was said to be questionable if the presidential campaign thus far has affected equities much one way or the other.

Mill Operations Gain

On the cheerful side was the estimate of the American Iron & Steel Institute that mill operations currently were up 2 of a point to 70.2 per cent of capacity. This is 1 point under the best level since 1930, established last April. U. S. Steel was up 1/2 at 64 1/2 and Bethlehem improved as much as 5 1/4.

J. I. Case was pushed ahead 5 points at one time on short covering and buying based on optimistic earnings predictions. It closed with a net advance of 2 1/2 at 183 1/2. Owens-Illinois on a small turnover held a gain of 5 1/2 at 151 1/2.

Douglas Aircraft jumped 3 points to 41 on reports of profitable manufacturing operations. The other aviation issues were only slightly improved.

Foreign gold currencies moved against the dollar in early dealings, but fell back later when French sailors struck at Marseille and hoisted the red flag over their ships.

New Milk Act Has Favorable Result

The recent increase of 63 cents per hundred weight in the price of milk paid the producer resulted with only a one cent quart increase to the consumer, Paul C. Adams, administrator of the milk control board, reported to Governor Martin.

The operation of the new milk act in the four marketing areas under the pool arrangement—Portland, Salem, Eugene and Corvallis—has resulted also in milk quality improvement, Adams reported.

His report showed the price paid the producer for 4 per cent milk increased from $1.65 per hundred weight to $2.34. Adams also stated the increase of milk prices to the consumer still kept the Oregon milk cost below the level of that in other nearby states.

Going to Conference

LEBANON, June 22.—Tuesday Rev. Wemett of the Methodist church will leave for the annual conference at Corvallis. Sunday night the Union department of the Sunday school observed children's day with a program directed by the Misses Jessie Skinner, Wilma Baker and Doris Crandall.

Wheat Refuses To Be Downed

Rises With Strength on Heels of 2 1/2 Cent Temporary Fall

CHICAGO, June 22.—(AP)—Despite 2 1/2 cents a bushel temporary tumble, wheat rose with surprising strength late today, equaled the season's high price record, and closed at net gains.

The late return of values accompanied a trade reports that scattered moisture received northwest over the week-end is neither heavy enough nor general enough to brighten to a material degree the black outlook for spring wheat yields this side of the Canadian border. On the other hand, price rallies at Winnipeg were feeble in contrast with those of American markets, and some pit experts were pointing out that in view of six weeks remaining before the Canadian harvest, Canada may yet reap a bumper crop.

Wheat in Chicago closed unsettled, 1/4-3/8 above Saturday's finish, July 95-95 1/2, September 95 1/2-3/4, December 97 1/2-3/4, corn 1-1/4 down, July 65 1/2-3/4, September 64 1/2-3/4, December 59 1/2-3/4, oats 1/4-1/2 off, September 30 1/2-3/4, and rye 1/4-1/2 up. September 64 1/2-3/4. The outcome in provisions was unchanged to 10 cents lower.

Weather Outlook Bullish

A bullish factor was that forecasts pointed to unabated dry and warmer weather tonight and tomorrow in domestic drought areas northwest. Besides crop reports from spring wheat states became more and more pessimistic, including an increased number of assertions of total failure, and there were persistent complaints of crop damage in northern Kansas as a result of abnormal heat.

Highest prices of the day for wheat in Chicago, 96 cents September delivery, were reached as the day drew to an end. Liberal profit-taking sales then, however, caused some reaction.

Corn and oats prices sagged because of timely moisture in the corn belt. Rye paralleled wheat action.

Provisions took their cue mainly from corn market weakness.

Gardeners' and Ranchers' Mart

PORTLAND, Ore., June 22.—(AP)—On the Gardeners' and Ranchers' market, raspberries, raspberries, youngberries, strawberries, gooseberries and currants were available today, mostly in small quantities. Prices ranged about the same as those quoted Saturday.

Moderate supplies of Zucchini yellow and summer squash were generally offered at $1 per flat crate.

The market showed a firmer tendency than it did during last week's trading.

LEBANON, June 22.—Mrs. Joel Mayer was one of the judges at the floral show held at Brownsville during the Pioneer reunion. Displays were entered by different clubs, with Corvallis winning first, Lebanon second and Albany third.

Flax Goes Upward Sharply in Week

Crop Deterioration Brings Sharp Advance in All Grain Markets

PORTLAND, Ore., June 22.—(AP)—Further deterioration of crops brought a sharp advance in domestic grain markets for the week ending June 19, the federal bureau of agriculture economics said today.

Wheat gained 8 to 10 cents a bushel; rye also advanced; flax went up sharply.

Threatened damage from continued drought was the dominant factor in the wheat market. Futures in Portland advanced about 3 1/2 cents a bushel, and cash prices were up 5 1/2 to 6 cents. Receipts at Columbia river and Puget sound terminals totalled but 206 cars.

Wheat Prospects Brighter

Northwest wheat prospects were declared to have been considerably improved by rain.

Portland barley markets remained little changed. The Willamette valley crop was reported making favorable progress.

Oats on northern Pacific coast markets were slightly firmer, but trading was light. Only two cars were received during the week at Portland. A large crop appeared in prospect in the Willamette valley.

Visits During Summer

LINCOLN, June 22.—Patsy Beeler of Portland is spending her summer vacation at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Van Buskirk. Miss Jane Goodale, daughter of Mrs. Van Buskirk and a graduate of Oregon State college this year, is planning to spend the greater part of the summer here before taking her position as teacher of typing and shorthand in Woodburn high school.

Children's Day Program Held at Sunday School; Father Is Also Honored
