youth the only hope for a shattered world, but by those who plot to trade on youth's idealism... Permanent Federal Aid is Demanded

The subject "Youth's Appeal" was introduced by Miss Willie A. Lawson, secretary of the Arkansas education association. Topic of Dr. Sproul's talk was "America's Answer." It comprised a direct reply to Miss Lawson's address.

Miss Lawson, in commenting on her own question, "Are we going to be assigned a task in the great whole or shall we organize ourselves into separate groups and forge ahead without a guidance which we need and welcome," said:

"We young people are not convinced that an open school with a $35 a month teacher, no books, no supplies, no instructional supervisor, in an excuse for a school building is making any contribution whatsoever... we think that a government which offers this as a palliative and refuses to consider permanent federal aid is using us as a cat's paw to scorch our fingers with the burning chestnuts of political favoritism."

In his reply to Miss Lawson's address, Dr. Sproul said... The answer of America to her youth must be today, as her ideal has already been, abundant life, ordered liberty, and the right to pursue happiness with some prospect of attaining it...

Voting for president and other officers began immediately after nominations were made at the general session. The election committee will report on results at the final convention meeting Thursday night.

Socialists Plan Convention Here

The proposed new party would be composed of Peter Zimmerman, Yamhill county; G. W. Thiesse, Hillsdale; J. Henry Jacobson, Hillsboro; Frank C. Fluke, Beaverton; and Frank Sainfield, Gervais.

The law provides that petitions for organization of the new party shall contain the signatures of not less than five per cent of the total number of voters cast for the three Oregon congressmen at the last election. This would require 14,260 signatures.

Certificates of nomination must be filed by September 18 to insure the candidates a place on the November ballot.

Reports recently indicated that Zimmerman may be the party's candidate for United States senator.

John A. Jeffrey, Portland, was mentioned as a probable candidate for representative in congress from the third congressional district.

Drainage Change, Broadacres Plea

Residents of school district No. 130, at Broadacres, yesterday petitioned the county court to correct a dangerous drainage condition in front of the schoolhouse there. Their petition, bearing 70 signatures, points out that the 18-inch tile now in use at that point is inadequate to carry away water from in front of the school and as a result the children are forced to cross a bridge over a ditch four feet deep and overflowing in the winter time.

They suggest enlarging the 18-inch tile, in which event they say the railroad company will stand expense of tilling across its right-of-way. An alternate correction would be to place tile drain in an easterly direction on the north side of the road to carry drainage from two 12-inch tile drains which now run in front of the school and cross to drain into the ditch.

rear on the first floor. The added space upstairs will be devoted to fitting a new workrooms for the ready-to-wear department. Departments will be rearranged in numerous instances in order to provide more space or better display of merchandise.

A complete new lighting system for the main floor will be installed.

The building is owned by Hughes and Durbin, and is under long-time lease to the Penney company. The alterations will be made by the tenant.

Policy Upon City Equipment Asked

Chairmen of the ways and means, street, and sewer committees probably will be requested to meet with water officials following tonight's special city council session to outline a policy for the use of city equipment by the water department. Water Manager Cuyler VanPatten said yesterday. The water commission voted June 19 to have such a conference before acting on a bill for $11 sent to the water department by the city street department for use of equipment.

Commissioner I. M. Doughton held that a definite policy as to rental charges, if any, should be formulated to avoid possible disagreements between departments.

Easements Taken For New Pipeline

to start the island development as quickly as possible in the hope of laying the pipeline from the lower tip of the island to mainland before the fall rains begin and the river rises. The city already has advertised for bids to furnish the 300 feet of 24 and 30-inch welded steel pipe needed for the start of the project.

Getting Line Under River is Major Task
Setting this pipeline below the river bed will be a major engineering problem, Koon indicated. His tentative plans are to have the line welded into a single length and then lowered gradually into place. The line will be at least 10 feet below the waterline. It has not yet been decided whether the job will be done by force account or by contract.

To move supplies, construction materials and heavy equipment on to the infiltration gallery site, a temporary bridge about 300 feet long will be thrown across the north branch of the river to connect with a private road leading from the Stayton-Mehama Highway. Laying of the open-joint pipe into which the water will filter and flow down the island to the gravity pipeline can then be done as weather conditions permit. The entire pipeline from Stayton to Salem will not be ready for use before early next summer.

program, the national WPA head said, will include water conservation, road construction, rural school development and others.

Conditions in the drought areas of the Dakotas, southeastern Montana and west central Minnesota meanwhile grew steadily worse with continued hot dry weather in prospect. There is a moisture deficiency in the past five years in North Dakota ranging up to 53 inches.

Four Arrested as Police View Cars

Four state policemen staged a brake-testing drive on State street between 15th and 17th streets for an hour and a half yesterday afternoon and counted as results two arrests for improper brakes, two for improper mufflers and 10 warnings to other motorists.

Vernel Ora Sheets, Salem, and Charles Lemuel Sample, route six, both truck drivers, were cited to appear in justice court on charges of driving vehicles without mufflers. Charges of operating automobiles with inadequate brakes were made against Milo Roland Christian, Salem, and William Martin Froelich, route six.

Wilson Will Have Operation on Eye

Otto J. Wilson, pioneer Salem automobile dealer, was taken to the Salem General hospital last night to prepare for an eye operation this morning. While the operation on the right eye, will be a delicate one, Wilson was not considered otherwise in serious condition.

Margaret Wilson, a daughter, came to Salem from San Francisco yesterday for a visit with her family here.

and black work shoes. His weight was estimated at 160 pounds and height at five feet, six inches.

The only articles found in his pockets consisted of 65 cents in silver coins, a safety razor and one blade, cigarette papers, a broken black comb, a package of cigarettes, a handkerchief and an ice cream sandwich coupon from a local five and ten cents store. Possible identifying markings on the body consisted of a tattoo picture of a woman's head on the left arm and of horseshoe containing the words, "Good Luck" in the center and a rosette at the ends.

Fingerprints will be taken today, it was announced at the coroner's office. No inquest was contemplated.

Five Killed When Big Bus Is Upset

LEXINGTON, Va., July 1.—(Wednesday)—(AP)—A heavy bus, bound from Roanoke to Washington, rolled over five times at the famous natural bridge, near here early today, killing five of its passengers.

At least 15 other persons were injured. None could be identified immediately. Lexington police officer J. L. Williams said state police were at the scene attempting to extricate dead and wounded persons from the wrecked vehicle. Eight victims, one dead, were brought to the Jackson hospital here. The bridge, known to thousands of tourists, is some 30 miles from here.

Williams said the heavy machine skidded, and it rolled over and over but it did not plunge from the bridge.

Big Cars as Well As Midgets Come

Ten high-powered, full-size racing cars as well as six of the midget calibre, will participate in the auto races on the fairgrounds track Saturday in connection with the American Legion's Fourth of July program, it was announced Tuesday.

This change in arrangements is calculated to please both those auto race fans who want to see the big machines whirl, and those who are intrigued by the novelty of the midgets. Many of the leading dirt track pilots of the Pacific coast will participate.

Calcium chloride was applied to the track Tuesday and the Legionnaires promise that no dust will hamper the spectators in watching Saturday's races.

Large Crowd Out At Pension Meet

A. M. Williams of Eugene spoke to a crowd of about 400 at the high school auditorium last night on behalf of the Townsend old age pension plan. His talk was sponsored by Townsend club No. 3 of Salem.

Painting a picture of desolation and poverty now existing in the nation, and showing where, in his belief, the Townsend plan offered the most practicable solution to such social and economic ills, Williams called for unity and solidarity among Townsend supporters in backing candidates pledged to advocate the plan.

Chicagoans Usurp Union Party Name

CHICAGO, June 30.—(AP)—A "Union Party" bearing the name of Rep. William Lemke's new political group, beat him into the Illinois field today.

The name was adopted by three Chicagoans for a new corporation granted a charter by the secretary of state. The corporation was empowered to "operate and function as a political party," not for profit.

William J. Boyd, a Cook county employe listed as the corporation's corresponding secretary, said, "we have no connection with Lemke."

He declined to say whether the new "Union Party Inc." hoped to do any harm. Lemke's campaign under the same label, Boyd asserted, however, he thought the Lemke group's right to use the name, now that the corporation has it on the Illinois books, would be "problematical."

Reservists Oppose Anti-Drill Effort

Filing of the initiative petition yesterday to abolish compulsory military training in Oregon brought immediate plans from members of the Marion-Polk county Reserve Officers association to campaign against the measure. A group of reservists met last night at the call of Lieutenant Cecil Edwards national defense chairman for the chapter. Edwards reported it had been tentatively decided to institute the campaign in cooperation with the American Legion and similar organizations.

The reserve officers are opposed to the measure in part, Edwards declared, "because the reserve officers' training corps in the state schools is the source from which reserve officers and the citizen army under the national defense act of 1916 are drawn."

Fewer Licenses to Wed Issued Than Year Ago

Two more marriage licenses were issued in June, 1935, than for the month just ended, a check made by Harlan Judd, marriage license clerk at the county clerk's office disclosed. A year ago 58 licenses were applied for, and the past month, Dan Cupid rustled up 56 applicants in this county.

Gosslin Defends Convict Transfer

Says Care Will Be Taken In Picking Boys For Training School

A plea for tolerance on the part of critics of the governor's plan to transfer inmates under 21 from the penitentiary to the boys' training school and an explanation of the nature of the plan was given yesterday noon by W. L. Gosslin, private secretary to Governor Charles H. Martin, at the meeting of the Kiwanis club.

Gosslin, who is an ex-officio member of the parole board, explained some of the activities of that group and stated that already, in accordance with previous legislative action, the board had transferred three young men, after careful interviews, from the penitentiary to the state training school. Difficulties under which the parole board works, with only time for brief interviews with many of the men who seek parole, and the large number of prisoners who the state parole officer must keep track of each year, were also explained by the speaker.

"I believe that among the 61 boys under 21 at the penitentiary, there are several whose lives might be made better by transfer from that institution to the training school," Gosslin said. "Such transfers would be made only after careful selection. The penitentiary is no place for boys between the ages of 18 and 21. Won't you give these boys a chance?" he asked.

Psychiatrist Needed
Need for a trained psychiatrist at the penal institution was voiced by the speaker, who said that by thorough studies of each man made by a trained expert the board, which now liberates only about one-third of those eligible, must be able to increase this number to 90 per cent. "An adequate parole system would pay for itself," he said.

Institutions as places for society to reform its youth were decried by the speaker and building of an additional institution at the penitentiary for first offenders was opposed by him. At present, every inmate of the penitentiary is costing the taxpayers $250 each year for the maintenance, in addition to the additional burden of his family, as so often happens, upon society through relief rolls or other public aid.

Increased Lumber Rates Suspended

SEATTLE, June 30.—(AP)—Suspension of the increased rate of $13 per thousand feet on west coast lumber shipped by boat to the east coast has been granted by the shipping board, on request of the general maritime committee of the West Coast Lumbermen's association, Chairman R. E. Seeley said he had been notified today.

The suspension is until November 1, leaving the present rate of $12.50 per thousand feet effective, he said. The new rate was to become effective tomorrow.

George T. Gerlinger, chairman of the association's traffic committee, also announced the Interstate commerce commission has refused to grant the request made by 126 southern rail lines for sus-

Europe Trip Won By Student Here

Maynard McKinley, who lives at 1810 Trade street, was Salem's number one lucky boy yesterday for a 11:30 yesterday morning a messenger boy knocked at 1810 of the McKinley home and gave Maynard a telegram that told him he had won one of the 20 first prizes in a contest sponsored by the Palmolive soap company.

Five weeks in Europe or the alternative of $1000 in cash was the prize that Maynard won by writing in a few words the reasons why he likes Palmolive soap.

Maynard, who will be a junior at Willamette next year, hasn't decided whether he'll take the trip to Europe or the money. "That $1000 would come in pretty handy in paying tuition," he mused.

Born in Salem, Maynard has never been farther from home than Los Angeles and may take the chance to see Europe with all expenses paid. If he does he will leave July 29 aboard the Queen Mary.

Demurrer Argued In Kellaher Case

did not agree to accept a bribe, even though the facts alleged in the indictment were true, as to an alleged agreement had no reference to his official duties.

W. H. Trindle, district attorney of Marion county, appeared for the state and argued that Kellaher was an officer of the state with power in the releasing of prisoners.

Kellaher is accused of agreeing while parole officer to assist L. A. Banks, Medford orchardist now serving time in the state penitentiary, to gain his release for a $50,000 consideration.

Building Records For City Broken

January, February, March, April or May in the past eight years had produced as many building jobs as did the month just ended.

Last month 16 new houses costing $37,075, together, were started here.

The new month promises definitely one new business building permit, for which excavation is starting at 240 North Liberty street, and also, probably, the $125,000 Montgomery Ward and company department store building at 155 North Liberty. Further in the future, but assured, are the $265,000 postoffice and $2,500,000 capitol buildings.
